ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Nov. 28, 1906.

STOP TALKING AND WORK.

The Star yesterday printed a letter condemning in very strong terms the methods of conducting business at the hall. The letter was written by one of St. John's foremost men, one who would be placed among the first half dozen of the most prominent citizens and it expressed not only his feeling but the opinion held by others of equal standing. At different times during the past six or eight months this paper has received communication from merchants whose lives have been blighted and whose business undertakings most creditable to the city letters which denounced city hall methods and which called on the editors to make sweeping changes. So of these communications contain personal references, indicating depth of feeling experienced by writers, and which would have come as thunderbolts to the officials under discussion. There was only one fault with them; the writers did not care to sign their names for publication, and while the Star would have been pleased to print all the letters if signed, this paper did not consider it fair to publish support anonymous attacks on any individual or body of officials. Hence a number of the missives were destroyed, but the very fact that they were written by those who are among the most enterprising, the most successful citizens and men who are held in esteem by all, was sufficient to show that the opposition to the methods adopted by the present common council is strong.

And herein lies the difficulty. These correspondents, these men of ability, the ones whose presence at the council board would work a revolution in civic government, who are willing to send in anonymous letters of criticism, are the very same men who have repeatedly declined to accept office, even with the knowledge that they are needed. Not one who has written to the Star—they themselves know who they are—but would be gladly welcomed by the electorate, would be chosen without opposition and would by their acceptance please everyone. Yet they will not enter civic life, and the fact that they are unwilling to do so seems to indicate that their concern over the losses and burling in civic methods is not so deep as would appear from their words. If seven or eight of those who have given their opinions to the Star should consent to run at the next election St. John would have the best council in its history. The welfare of the city depends on these men, who have been entirely too modest in the past. Will they come forward now?

A CRIME OR A DISEASE.

Is timidity a crime? Should a man be punished for any so-called accidental occurrence resulting in loss or injury to someone else, which he, if his nerve had not failed, could have prevented?

In like manner should a man who in a paroxysm of fear commits an offense, which he would shrink from when in a normal state of mind, be made to suffer?

An English judge has decided that he should, and by placing on record his decision has opened the way for a controversy which has already developed into a most interesting discussion.

Several expert sociologists and criminologists have given their opinions and so far there is a tendency to support the learned judge. It is asserted that timidity is not a disease and cannot be treated as such. Persons suffering from any well defined type of insanity are as a rule brave, and never shrink from apparent dangers. Fear of the consequences has no effect in deterring them from any desperate act. On the other hand there are many neurotic people always suffering from the fear of impending evil, who are ever ready to commit deeds of violence—sometimes against themselves, sometimes against their imaginary enemies—and who often become entirely irresponsible. These persons are not lunatics; sometimes they inherit mental weaknesses, but in the majority of cases these can be overcome by determined effort on the part of the victims. In the other class are those men and women who do not give way to haunting fear, but whose presence of mind utterly fails them when brought face to face with real danger. Many a life might be saved, many a disaster averted, if some one person near at hand was able to retain his senses, to throw off a threatened attack of nerves, and act as a normally sane man should act.

Statistics show that the numbers of crimes and accidents so-called which are directly due to these forms of timidity are much larger than are generally recognized, but it will be many a long day before this form of weakness is commonly regarded as a crime.

SUCCESSION AUSTRIAN THRONE.

(From the London Globe).

In connection with the death of Archduke Otto, second nephew of the Emperor Francis Joseph, it is interesting to take note of the curious chain of succession to the throne of Austria. When Archduke Franz Ferdinand, who was heir to the throne after the death of Prince Rudolph, contracted a morganatic marriage with the Countess Chotek, and so lost the right of "transmitting the succession, Archduke Otto became heir-presumptive. It was soon evident, however, that if ever he came into the order of succession he would be forced to renounce it in favor of his son Archduke Karl, now nineteen.

Thus it came about that while the present emperor was the nephew of the Emperor Ferdinand, he will in all probability be succeeded by Archduke Franz Ferdinand, his nephew, and he in turn by his nephew Franz.

There will be a band at St. Andrew's Hallway tonight as usual. Tomorrow night there will be two races, Frank Hamm and Wm. Campbell have each won one race and they settle the championship for tomorrow night. The second race will be a boys' race. Saturday night there will be a big surprise for the public. Don't make any previous engagement for that night. Particulars in Friday's papers.

It will be good news to hundreds who were disappointed in not being able to participate in M. R. A.'s last millinery sale to hear that another bargain event of that kind is booked for tomorrow and Friday. This will be a decisive clear-up, as stock-taking is soon to follow and it is very desirable that some of the extra supply be included in the listing. Prices have therefore been cut to the lowest, much less than half price in most instances. Read the advertisement.

SCHOOL TROUBLE IN FRISCO

PURELY A LOCAL AFFAIR

Secretary Metcalf Reports on the Exclusion of Japanese From the Public Schools.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—President Roosevelt had a short conference with Secretary Metcalf at the White House tonight regarding the alleged discrimination against the Japanese students in San Francisco. More than a month ago when the agitation affecting the alleged discrimination against the Japanese students in San Francisco was at its height, the president sent Mr. Metcalf to that city to make a thorough and exhaustive investigation with a view to learning at first hand the exact condition of affairs. It is now ready and ready and was considered very fully by the president tonight.

The secretary has uniformly declined to discuss with the newspapers any of the conclusions he has reached but it has been generally understood that it would show that the people of San Francisco maintained that what they had done in the matter of school accommodations was entirely within their rights and that the whole matter was one of local administration.

Whether the president will make Mr. Metcalf's report public has not been determined. He will give the question full consideration before taking any further steps. He has expressed anxiety that the ill cause for complaint on the part of the Japanese be removed and has stated that he will do his utmost to bring about a satisfactory settlement of the whole matter.

A colored man on horseback riding rapidly and trying to urge his tired horse to greater speed galloped up into the street to North Crossing last evening and paused to enquire the way to Salisbury. Some who saw him got into his head that he was the escaped convict, Minot St. Clair Francis, who for the last week has been hunted through the State of Maine. But as Francis was seen on Sunday near Belfast, Me., it could not have been the desperado—Moncton Transcript.
