

BELGIUM NEARLY DENUDE OF GERMAN TROOPS

FLOWER OF KAISER'S ARMY BEING RUSHED TO SOMME TO CHECK BRITISH DRIVE

REPORTS FROM HOLLAND SAY OLDER RESERVISTS LEFT TO GUARD BELGIAN TOWNS WHILE GERMAN LEADERS RUSH TROOPS TO THE FIGHTING LINE ON THE SOMME—CROWN PRINCE RESUMES OFFENSIVE AT VERDUN.

London, July 8.—With the aid of innumerable guns and waves of infantry, the British army continues to make progress in its effort to bring the front line between the Ancre and Montauban on a level with the French line further south. This effort on the part of the British has led to the most furious fighting in which the British troops have been engaged. The flower of the German army was brought forward to oppose them and guns and ammunition are being used lavishly. According to reports from Holland, Belgium has been denuded of German soldiers to meet the Anglo-French offensive, and the railway stations, even in the larger towns, are guarded by the older reservists. In London the reports of the British commander, General Sir Douglas Haig, are awaited eagerly, and although the arrival of the Crown Prince has resumed the offensive at Verdun, and yesterday made further repeated attacks near Thiaucourt without meeting any success.

British Airmen Do Good Work. Despite unfavorable weather our aeroplanes rendered valuable service in addition to active co-operation with the artillery and important reconnaissance work, they bombarded a hostile aerodrome at Douai, completely wrecking the hangar and doing other material damage. In the last few days we have captured twenty guns, 61 machine guns, a large number of automatic rifles, trench mortars, mine flares, castor oil, trenchers and searchlights, and a mass of other war material not yet scheduled.

How Berlin Tells the Story. Berlin, July 8, via London, July 9, 4.55 p. m.—German troops on both sides of the Somme, in the field of the Entente offensive, along the western front have repulsed with heavy losses repeated attacks by the French and British, their artillery having a devastating effect on the attacking forces, as indicated by the enormous number of dead left before Ovillers, Contalmaison and other points attacked by the Allies, the war office bulletin declares.

The official statement regarding operations on the western front says: "On both sides of the Somme, our heretofore and tenacity prepared for the enemy a full fall of delusions. Numerous and continuously repeated attacks were repulsed with salutary losses. The enormous number of fatalities Englishmen before the Ovillers-Contalmaison-Bazentin Le Grande sector, and of fallen Frenchmen before Bleches-Soyecourt front, give an indication of the masses of enemy forces employed for the attacks and of the devastating effect of our artillery, machine guns and infantry fire.

Continued from page 1. numerous prisoners and captured three machine guns. Afterwards some of our troops, pressing on the enemy's heels, crossed the Stokhod in the region of the village of Ugly. "According to an approximate estimate during the fighting from July 5 to July 7 between the Styr and the Stokhod we took prisoner at least 300 officers, including two regimental commanders, and about 12,000 wounded men. We also took not less than 45 guns of large and small calibres, and about 45 machine guns, a large quantity of projectiles, cartridges and arms, and stores of food and forage. "On the front of Gen. Evert desperate fighting has again broken out at many places. On the wide front east of Baranovitch the actions were marked with unusual ferocity. The enemy made fierce counter-attacks. The situation generally is unchanged. In other sectors there is nothing to report."

IN REFUTATION OF AN INCORRECT STATEMENT

It has been brought to our attention that a report is being circulated to the effect that we have very much curtailed the manufacture of our products at our Halifax factory—in fact, we are told, it is being said that we are only maintaining warehouses at Halifax and St. John, at the present time, and that the manufacture of our goods for the supply of the provinces is being entirely handled by our Montreal works.

Being satisfied that this canvass (for we feel it to be such) is not calculated to assist the development of our very extensive trade in the provinces, we wish to emphatically state that the situation is exactly the reverse of the one described. WE HAVE NOT CURTAILED AT HALIFAX—as a matter of fact the output at our Halifax plant has shown an increase every month this year as compared with the same months in any previous year. We are not only selling more of our numerous products in the Maritime Provinces this year than ever before, but we are also making larger quantities in our well equipped Halifax plant. If any of our maritime friends have any doubt about this, we trust the present statement will set their fears at rest.

With regard to business in other sections of Canada, we would say that our sales to date show very large increases over any previous year.

BRIDES-WISE TO THINK OF HOME FIRST. Clothes—Less Important and More Easily Purchased. The little-bridge who starts this year the great adventure, will be wise if she pays less attention to her home, and more to her home, than she otherwise would. But she will not, never reflecting that the clothes wear out and can be replaced much more easily than can household decorations and furniture. She will, too, want to have "what all the other girls have," not realizing that the home should have a personality of its own, and to be attractive should be individual, says the Rochester Post Express.

Fortunately those days when the parlor suite was the end and aim of every housekeeper, are gone. The charm of different pieces of furniture which are harmonious and comfortable has been discovered. Chintz—for many years relegated to bedrooms, has now come down stairs again, and again proves its worth. Chintz has been the chief upholstery fabric in England for many years, and no self-respecting English country house would dream of a decorative scheme that didn't include it or the India printed cotton. One of the delightful things about chintz is its adaptability. It is as well suited to the small cottage as to the more elaborate house. A whole room may be done in it with good effect, or just one piece.

One Rule to Be Observed. When to use chintz and when not to use it, is a matter that is determined by the background. If the walls of a room is to provide a background with paper, the decorative of which stands out strikingly, the idea of using chintz must be abandoned. In such a case the housekeeper must avoid a conglomerate effect by the introduction of self-color rugs and plain draperies.
