Business is Business.

Mrs. Miller had received a small check from her father, and went down to the bank to cash it without consulting her husband. The bank teller was very polite, but was obliged to insist that for business purposes Mrs. Miller was a perfect stranger to him. When Mr. Miller retired at night his wife poured out to him her grievances, which had accumulated and gathered momentum during the day.

"Well, I will go to-morrow and cash the check for you."

"But that doesn't make up for all the time I lost. I couldn't do all my shopping while I was down town because I didn't have quite money enough. That teller ought to be discharged. The idea of having such a stupid man handling all that money!"

"But, my dear," said Mr. Miller in apologetic sympathy for the teller, "it is one of the rules of the bank not to pay money to strangers. You have to be identified first."

"Identified! Identified! Couldn't the man read? There was my name right on the back of the check. How stupid you men are! And that wasn't all—"

"But, Annie," broke in Mr. Miller, "how could the teller be sure it was your name just because you wrote it?"

"Well, maybe he couldn't. But I'd just stopped in at the photographer's and got those pictures of me that you

"Why, Pat, what is the matter?" Pat answered:

"Shure and I went upstairs, and when I went into the room I seed a swell young dandy wid a whit carnationary-mum in his buttonhole and kid gloves on his hands, an' I sez to 'm, 'Who's you?' 'Shure,' he sez, 'an' I'm the best man'; and, begorra, he is."

He Would Lose, Anyway.

There is a young physician, who has never been able to smoke a cigar. "Just one poisons me," says the youthful doctor.

Recently the doctor was invited to a large dinner party. When the women had left the table cigars were accepted by all the men except the physician. Seeing his friend refuse the cigar, the host in astonishment exclaimed:

"What, not smoking? Why, my dear fellow, you lose half your dinner!"

"Yes, I know I do," meekly replied the doctor, "but if I smoked one I should lose the whole of it!"

She Told Him So.

A physician took it into his head to go hunting, says the Boston Herald, and started out bright and early on a beautiful October morning, fully armed for game.

said looked exactly like me; and I showed the man all six of them. I explained that if I'd had only one I might have stolen it; but the six altogether proved that I must be the one that signed my name on the check. The stupid way the man looked at me was simply ridiculous!"—Youth's Companion.

Absent Minded.

The absent-minded professor returned home one evening, and, after ringing his front door bell for some time to no effect, heard the maid's voice from the second storey window: "The professor is not in."

"All right," quietly answered the professor. "I'll call again." And he hobbled down the stone steps.

Pat's Best Man.

Pat was invited to a wedding. He arrived at the house faultlessly attired in full evening dress, a huge white chrysanthemum adorning his buttonhole. He was shown upstairs to the gentlemen's dressing room.

The guests assembled below were suddenly startled by hearing a great commotion above. Rushing into the hall to ascertain the cause they were somewhat startled to behold Pat come tumbling head first down the stairs, completely disheveled.

Upon the amazed host exclaiming:

About four o'clock in the afternoon he returned, tired out and empty handed, telling his wife he hadn't killed a thing, whereupon she remarked triumphantly: "I told you so," adding, in the next breath: "If you had stayed at home and attended to your legitimate business you might have been more successful."

Maxims.

"There's no time like the present" is Wisdom well known to king and peasant,

But maxim truer still is this: "There's no time but the present!"

Not to be Left Out.

Member of the Board—You, sir, are the biggest idiot I have ever met!

Chairman—Order! You seem to forget that I am in the room.

In Staid Philadelphia.

Irene—A girl shouldn't marry a man till she knows all about him. Evelyn—Good gracious! If she knew all about him she wouldn't marry him.

Sweet To Be, Etc.

"Did your uncle remember you in his will?"

"Yes; he directed his executors to collect all the loans he had made me."

HAS USED DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

For Over Seventeen Years

FOR DIARRHOEA, DYSENTERY, SUMMER COMPLAINT, ETC.

Mrs. Holliday, Box No. 86, Wroxeter, Ont., writes:—"I must say that we have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for over seventeen years, and have found nothing to equal it for all Summer Complaints, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, etc. Our house is never without a bottle of the Extract and I can recommend it to be kept in every home, especially where there are children."

You run absolutely no risk when you buy Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as it has been a standard remedy on the market for over sixty-five years.

A few doses have often cured when doctors' prescriptions and other remedies have failed. Its effects are marvellous. It acts like a charm. Relief is almost instantaneous.

We wish to warn the public against being imposed on by unscrupulous dealers who substitute the so-called Strawberry Compounds for "Dr. Fowler's."

Ask or "Dr. Fowler's," and insist on getting it, as the cheap imitations may be dangerous to life.

The original is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price 35c.

DEAFNESS

SUCCESSFULLY TREATED

By the Simplest Method Yet Discovered.

Ninety-five per cent. of the cases of deafness brought to our attention are the result of chronic catarrh of the throat and middle ear. The air passages become clogged by catarrhal deposits, stopping the action of the vibratory bones. Until these deposits are removed, relief is impossible. The inner ear cannot be reached by probing or spraying hence the inability of specialists to always effect a cure. Neither can ear drums cure deafness. But there is a scientific treatment for deafness and catarrh which is demonstrated every day by the use of Actina. The vapor generated in the "Actina" passes through the Eustachian tubes into the middle ear, removing the catarrhal obstructions and loosens up the bones (hammer, anvil and stirrup) in the inner ear making them respond to the vibration of sound. Actina has also been very successful in relieving ringing noises in the head. We have known people afflicted with this distressing trouble for years to be entirely relieved by a few weeks' use. Actina has also been very successful in the treatment of hay fever, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, weak lungs, colds, headaches and other troubles that are directly or indirectly due to catarrh. Actina will be sent on trial post-paid. Write us about your case. Our advice will be free as well as a valuable book—Prof. Wilson's Treatise on Deafness. BETTER THAN SPANKING.
