Question: What are your impressions of the plans for SUB opening.

Photos by Janet Logan & Steve Archibald

Heather Cuthbert - Arts III "Tremendous! I think the opening is being looked forward to by everyone on campus as a means of stimulating spirit in general."

Clark Vining - Arts III "A very good effort! The whole school has to partake. Too bad they didn't have a license."

Jack Sommers - Science IV "They are spending far too much money but the entertainment will be worth it." (The cost per student is reasonable.)

Carl Trider - Pharm. III "Looks pretty good - The price is reasonable but the advertising campaign is ineffectual."

Joanne Parker - Arts III "People will think it's expensive but I think it's good. Am looking forward to it."

Benjamin Singh - Arts I "A good effort at reasonable rates, should be great fun!"

Women defy residence rules

NEW YORK (CUP) - Women at Plimpton Hall, a Barnard College residence, defied a residence rule Wednesday (Oct. 23) and allowed male visitors to stay in their rooms all night.

Normally men must leave the residence by midnight.

The students intend to keep observing their version of the rules until the college administration approves a proposal drawn up by the residents.

The news rules would have men visitors signing in and out but visiting privileges would not terminate at any time.

Mrs. Elizabeth Meyers said no change in the rules could be implemented before the women's parents were notified.

The dormitory opened in September with the understanding that housing rules would be formulated by students and Barnard staff members who live in the building. Interim rules were drawn up then and approved by the administration but were scrapped at a general meeting of residents last week and replaced with the open visiting clause.

The women insist they have the right to set their own rules but administration officials want to maintain the interim rules at least until they can get some feedback from parents.
