

I'm sorry to hear that you were ill in the society of my home. I hope you are now better. I had a letter from your friend who was writing me. She was writing me about a game of bridge she was playing in the West. As you told me to arrange a party for her, I didn't mind it. She was in London at the time.
 Many seem to be doing well this fall.
 She said she had had a letter from you about her best and was delighted about it. I hope you are a given a dinner for you. You will find plenty work waiting for you in Ottawa and if reports are true you will be off to the West Indies before long. That would be a real pleasure - change would set you up for the winter.

 We had some friends of yours,
 Mr. & Mrs. Whistler of Aurora visiting in Paris. Mr. Whistler asked me to go down one evening as she wanted me to settle some questions for her.
 I felt like telling her to send her own business, but didn't, when you come up I'll tell you
