- 621a Canada and Newfoundland. A new volume of Stanford's Compendium of Geography and Travel, by Samuel E. Dawson LL.B., Ottawa. One 8vo, vol. Many illustrations and maps. cloth. London, 1898. $5.00.

The book is encyclopedic in character, well balanced in treatment, written in an attractive style, concise, clear and vigorous, with occasional passages of glowing description. Dr. Dawson does not stop at British Columbia and the Pacific, as do many writers in Canada. He takes the reader over the Mackenzie River basin, through the Yukon territory, north to the Polar sea, also to Hudson Bay and Labrador. The scope is very wide; indeed, there is no other which so fully covers the ground and sustains so deep an interest in the reader.—The Toronto Globe.

- 622a The American Commonwealth, by Professor James Bryce. The suppressed and very rare first edition, 3 vols. 8vo, cloth uncut. London. $35.00.

- 623a The Week. Canada's Literary Journal. A complete set from 1883 to 1896, 13 vols. Folio half bound. EXTREMELY SCARCE. $65.00.

The high place which this scholarly weekly made for itself in the literary world was largely due to its splendid galaxy of contributors: Goldwin Smith (Bystander), Professor Clark (Trinity Coll.), Principal Grant and Prof. Watson of Queen's College, Sir Daniel Wilson, Serenus, the venerable historian Dr. Scadding, Sir J. M. Lemoine, Prof. Clark Murray, Sir J. G. Bourinot, Douglas Sladen, W. W. Campbell, Archibald Lamman, A. F. Chamberlain, Mrs. Traill, W. D. LeSueur, Samuel E. Dawson, Mrs. Curzon, D. C. Scott, Castell Hopkins, N. F. Davin and many other noted writers. It is a source of regret to very many that the publishers felt themselves compelled to withdraw the publication. We are, however, pleased to note that the MONTHLY begun after the demise of THE WEEK is showing such a lively growth and is so full of promise.

- 624a E. O.
