winner and another. Quey stirks have been seen a better lot at Kilmarnock. A big, well-shaped white heifer, from Hillhouse, sired by the well-known Erin-go-Bragh, took premier place, and she was followed up by a sweet, showy-fronted heifer from Monkland, bred by Mr. Logan, Overton. Mr. Osborne was third with Lella Vieta. In the sweepstake competition for pairs of quey stirks, the second-prize winner of the previous class, with a hyre companion from Monkland, was first, and Mr. Osborne's third-prize winner, with another, was second.

Bulls of three years old and upwards were a fair class. After due consideration, the red ticket was awarded to Zomosal, from Monkland, the leading two-year-old of last year. Mr. James Howie's Waynflete proved a close runner-up. He is rather a more stylish bull than the winner. Mr. Robert Osborne had third honors with Epicarmus, a bull which has developed remarkably since last seen in the show-ring. Two-year-old bulls were a good class, and competition was very keen. Mr. Jas. Howie was awarded first prize for his well-known Spey Sam, a compact, stylish bull, of a type very difficult to get. He was second at the Highland last year, and has wintered well, being shown in remarkably good condition. Mr. Robert Woodburn, Whitehill, had second place with Rising Sun, a bull which was first at Ayr and Galston last year. He has grown well since then, and was brought out in great form. Mr. Robert Osborne was third with Radiant, a fine, thick, stylish bull; and Mr. James Robb, Hindsward, Cumnock, came next with Money Maker (5862), a sweet, level son of his old bull, Full Bloom. Bull stirks were a good show. Mr. Thomas Barr, Monkland, led the way with an extra big, heavy bull, a son of White Cockade; and Mr. James Howie took second and third places with Gay Scot, by Proudfoot of Hillhouse, and Grandeur, by Gentleman James, both sweet-quality, stylish bulls, though hardly in full condition yet. The Derby for yearling bull stirks was simply a repetition of the preceding class. The champion cup for the best male Ayrshire went to Mr. Barr's Zomosal, also the winner in the three-year-old bull class.—[Scottish Farmer.]

GOSSIP.

At the Royal Dublin Society's Spring Show, at Ball's Bridge, April 17 to 20, entries of Shorthorns totalled 569, and exhibitors from England and Scotland competed with Irish breeders. The first-prize aged bull and winner of the Chaloner Cup was Miss Staples' Linksfield Champion, a light roan, three years old, by Scottish Prince, which was purchased by Mr. F. Miller, for Argentina, at the price of 500 guineas. The first-prize senior two-year-old bull and reserve champion was Diamond Link, a roan, bred by Mr. James Durno, of Westertown, shown by Mr. Toler-Aylward, sired by Diamond Mine, and from Lovely 47th, by Ladass. The cow class was led by Mr. Geo. Harrison's Ursula Raglan, looking in excellent bloom.

His Majesty the King's famous Fire King was first in the aged Hereford bull class, and Tam of Ardargie, shown by Mr. E. C. Coey, Droagh, Larne, was first in the class for Aberdeen-Angus bulls calved in 1904, a bull of beautiful moulding, real breed type and grand style.

A young clergyman, one day preaching in a chapel of ease at Edinburgh, became unusually animated towards the conclusion of his discourse; but, all at once, as he did not use notes, and had a somewhat treacherous memory, he stopped short, became confused, and seemed unable to proceed. In this dilemma, he thought it would be better to go back a little, and perhaps the fugitive passage would occur. But even this expedient failed him, for, after repeating a passage of considerable length over again, he stopped exactly at the same point. At that point, to the great amusement of the congregation, the preacher awoke from a sound sleep, and thinking the sermon was at an end, rose and read out a line which had been put into his hand before entering the church, and which he had been requested to read before prayer: "Remember in prayer a young man in great distress of body and mind."
