The singing of Brother Marentette, of Chatham, at St. Mary's Cathedral, Hamil-ton, on the 30th instant, was greatly admired. His beautiful voice, highly trained, added much to the effects produced by the solemn ceremonies of the day.

Assessment No. 14 has been issued. It calls for the payment of 25 beneficiary claims—of which 14 are in New York State; 5 in Michigan; 3 in Pennsylvania; 1 in Massachusetts; 1 in West Virginia, and 1 in Canada.

Windsor Out, Sept. 12, 1892.

To the Editor of the Cathotic Record London Out:—Reterring to a statement in the C. M. B. A. Weekly of Sept. 1st to the effect that Branch No.1, Windsor, has instructed its delegate to "vote first, last, and all the time against separate beneficiary and separation," I am instructed by the Branch to ask you and the Weekly to correct this statement. No such instruction was given to our delegate, and he voted in the opposite way with the overwhelming majority of the delegates at the Hamilton convention. the Hamilton convention.

History.

The following editorial note appeared in the last issue of the C. M. B. A. Weekly:

the last issue of the C. M. B. A. Weekly:

"The presence of the editor of the Weekly at the Convention of the Grand Council of New York in Rochester, last week, was all that was necessary to secure spontaneously a position as one of the official organs of that Council for his paper. Our appointment is from the Council direct by an unanimous vote."

In another editorial in the same issue the editor remarks :

editor remarks:

"In the name of the C. M. B. A. of the State of New York, we must protest against the charges continually made by the Canadian official organs that the New York Grand Council is responsible for the high death rate. There, this charge has been made so persistently that we can only attribute the continued assault to a desire to misrepresent facts for a purpose, and that purpose mostly to create ill-feeling against the Grand Council in order to secure a larger vote for separation at the Hamilton Convention.

In the proceedings of the New York Grand

The Grand Secretary read the following, which had been received by him from the Supreme Recorder:

merely to show how completely Canadaphobia has taken possession of it:

"Canada may as well throw off her mask, and say what she means in a straightforward manly manner. If she wants to leave the C. M. B. A. she can do so; the other Councils will be glad to get rid of a dissatisfied element that has continually made trouble. The only regret we have is that so many who are opposed to separation are obliged to remain under the law so carefully prepared to hold them. The standard principles of the C. M. B. A. is one body, one law, and one Supreme Council. Separate Beneficiary is an exploded idea, and Canada will be allowed to have her pet scheme that some of her officers have been intriguing for during the past ten years, beaten in this at all points, a law had to be invented to do the business. They have it. The Conneils of Ohio and New York have already pronounced that the laws must be uniform. With fair honest minded men there never was any reason for separation, but with American haters there will never be any peace but in separation; and the time has come when it may as well be admitted."

there will never be any peace but in separation; and the time has come when it may as well be admitted.

As every one knows, the delegates at the Hamilton convention did all in their power to bring about a friendly and satisfactory arrangement with the Supreme Council, and we have no reason to doubt that the last named body will in Montreal meet our delegates in a sensible and brotherly fashion.

Brother Hackett's Speech.

The following is a brief and imperfect synopsis of the great speech delivered by Mr. M. T. Hackett at the recent convention at Hamilton of the Canadian Grand Council of the C. M. B. A., on the resolution regarding sparate beneficiary and the getting a Dominion Act of Incorporation.

He began by saying that after two days of discussion—after two days of excitement—the time had come when it was necessary for them to decide a question the far-reaching importance of which over-hadowed all other questions with which they had had to deal—a question of such vital concern that perhaps the very life or the association in Canada depended upon the issue. They had a matter of great moment to consider, and he besought everyone to weigh well the arguments for and against the resolution before marking their ballots. He reminded them of the great responsibility they assumed in voting on this question, as by so doing they might imperil the future of their society. He expressed himself as strongly in favor of the resolution, as he felt that the prosperity and safety of the society in Canada would be assured if it were passed. He felt that if this delegation representing our body approached the Supreme Council at their next meeting and laid before it the difficulty under which they labored, and presented it in a spirit of fraternity and conciliation, their efforts would be crowned with success and they (the Canadian membership) would still remain united with them in the bonds of brotherly love. They were catholics as the Canadians were, they were inspired with Catholic aspirations and filled with Catholic charity, and there was no reason to thinking they would not help them out of their difficulty. On the contrary, they would meet them more than half way, and extend to them the hearty hand-clasp of warm brotherly feeling. They must have confidence in one another, the spectre of distrust and suspicion must be banished, the Canadian membership outside of Ontario were disposed to estrange themselves from the Grand Council of Canada

REGISTRATION OF THE EMERALD BENE-FICIAL ASSOCIATION AS AN INSUR-ANCE SOCIETY, IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE INSURANCE CORPORATIONS ACT OF 1892.

Department of Insurance Ontario

Certificate of Registry as Friendly Society Certificate of Registry as Friendry Society,
Whereas by the application of the Emerald
Beneficial Association of Ontario, made pursuant to the Insurance Act 1823, it has been made to appear to the undersigned, the Registrar of Friendly Societies for the Province of Ontario, that the said applicant is entitled to registry as a Friendly Society; now, therefore this is to certify that the said Friendly Society is accordingly registered for the transaction of Insurance against sickness and death, in the Province of Ontario for the term beginning on the thirtieth day of June, 1833, subject to the provisions of the aforesaid Act.

Visions of the aforesaid Act. Entered on Friendly Society Register No. 10, Folio 1. J. Howard HINTER J. Howard HINTER WILL J. VALE, Entry Clerk.

Registrar of Friendly Societies.

WILL J. Vale, Entry Clerk.

Having complied with the provisions of the Act, and being legally authorized to carry out the insurance plan adopted at the late convention, we would urge upon those branches that have not yet complied with said provisions to at once do so. And to non-members we would say that the Emerald Association, following the example of Holy Church, receives as members men of all nationalities, and retains them so long as they remain practical Catholics. The financial benefits they would derive by joining our ranks would be, for the payment of 40 cents per mouth, a free doctor and medicine and st per week in sickness; and an insurance payable at death, or, in case of total disability, for the following monthry payments: For 8100, the payment would be, at 18 years of age, 7c; and at 45, 12c; for 8250, at 18, 18c; at 45, 29c; for 8500, at 18, 35c; at 45, 55c; and intermediate rates according to age.

These rates will be found to compare favorably with the various societies of long standing around us. Such being the case, Catholics should certainly give preference to an association that works in harmony with Holy Church and that the Emerald Association does so, the following extracts from letters received from the venerable hierarchy of Canada will prove:

His Grace the Most Rev. J. J. Lynch, Archbishop of Toronto: W. Lane, Grand Secretary, E. B. A.— Sir.—I am directed by His Grace the Arch-bishop to ask you to convey to the annual con-vention of the E. B. In an interview with His Lordship the

Chaplain:

During the many years that I have enjoyed the continued mark of your confidence, viz., the annual election to be your Grand Chaplain.

I always felt that your association proved worthy of any favor I could confer upon it.

Resolution of Condolence.

Arnprior, 5th Sept., 1892.
At a regular meeting of Branch No. 44,
Arnprior, held on this date, it was unanimously resolved that the members of this Branch tender to President Brother H. A.

testify to the good Christian work of your society in Stratford parish. You have gathered into your ranks the French, German and Scotch elements of my people. I am proud of you so far, and pray food to bless you.

We could give more extracts to show that we have the full approval of our venerated clergy, but this will suffice to prove that we are entitled to the confidence of our fellow-Catholies. We, therefore, cordially invite them to enroll themselves under the banner of the Emerald Association of Ontario.

EDWARD BLAKE.

For the CATHOLIC RECORD.

The following lines, written four years ago, in honor of the return of the Hon. Edward Blake to Canada, after having visited Ireland and other countries of Europe for the lenefit of his health, which was then in a precarious state, may be found interesting to your numerous readers, on the present occasion. He returns now to his native land not merely in his oft recognized position of "foremost statesman of Canada," bet with the additional honor of being one of the accredited leading Home Rule members for Ireland in the British House of Commons. The services he has already rendered the sacred cause of Home Rule, no less than those which I firmly believe an all-wise Providence still further designs him to render it, will not only endear him to the Irish race all over the world, but will also carry his name down to remote posterity, shining in that bright galaxy of Irish patriots, statesmen and orators who struggled in the past for a liberated country, but who were not, alas! permitted even a glimpse of that "Promised Land." For the CATHOLIC RECORD.

Blow calmly you breezes,
That no fear may seize us
For our hero's safety—the great Edward Blake.

With eager eyes straining,
One brief glimpse obtaining
Of our belov'd Statesman and patriot true,
With Joyous smiles meeting
And ringing cheers greeting.

Hope sadly bereft us,
When wearied, he left us,
To seek sweet repose on some far distant shore,
When adieu sadly bade we
How fervently prayed we
Our Great Benefactor his health to restore.
Our fond wishes heeding
And our fervent pleading,
Kind Providence cheers us with hope for each

That with renew'd vigor,

And chastening rigor, Again for his country he'll fight in the van.

In our own lov'd Dominion,
His scathing opinion

But lov'd most sincerely,
And prized ever dearly,
By each friend of justice, be he whom he may.

As he leisurely wandered through Erin's green

isle ;
In the vale of Glensharold
How boldly he hurled. How bondy he nursed,
Defiant contempt at coercionists vile,

Noble son of thy sireland!
Oh! well may old Ireland
ith loving eyes look far across the wide sea
On each worthy descendant,
With Hope's star ascendant,
the her sacred rights defends bravely like

Bright, bright cheering hope, when with anguish opprest; Whene'er bosom nurs'd traitor Doth basely await her To stab with a dagger her lily white breast.

In each patriot's devotion, And soul-felt emotion, welcomes thee back to thy own belov'd shore, Methinks a sweet vision I see with precision of a leader whose banner floats proudly onc more.

Driving foes all before him,
Till Victory o'er him
On his honor'd shoulders her mantle lets fall,
What step there is proudest?
Whose cheer rings the loudest?
Tis the exile of Erin, who is foremost in all,

**To Miss Kate Hobbins of Cedar Vale:**

DEAR FREND—Allow us to night to present you with the following little address, in order to show you how much we sympathize with you in this important step of a child's life, your first departure from your kind parents' home. We feel for you too keenly to sit in silence and per init you to leave us like a stranger, without word of sympathy or encouragement to help you in bearing paliently this short separation, and to reconcile you to the surroundings of your new home.

you in bearing patiently this short separation, and to reconcile you to the surroundings of your new home.

We are already aware that you are going to the Sacred Heart Convent to complete your education. Allow us to tell you that we are much pleased with your going there, but you leave behind you a little space never to be filled until your return.

Still when we remember that it is at the Sacred Heart school you are making your sojourn, then we say, justly may you feel proud.

"For high the mind and gallant the barque," Which steers its course for the Sacred Heart.

When I see the companions and friends gathered around you, to bid you a good by, it reminds me that it is a time of sadness or j.y., but for me it is a mixture, for while you go out from us, our joy and our pride, you leave behind you at iny cross.

"The tiny cross and little space Remains till your return, to chase."
I wish, my dear friend, I were able to write you an address in elegant language, but as you are aware. I am unable to do that, so you will kindly accept a few simple words from an honest heart.

In conclusion, my dear friend, may your term at the Sacred Heart school be a grand success, and maylyou return to us soon again, full of life and health as you are to-day, and bearing home with you that excellent education and training for which that school has a world-famed reputation.

Now may I request of you, dear Kate,
"That while in that holy place
Where the morning Mass purifies the space,
That once at least, within each year
You'll say a prayer for your dear friends here."

MARKET REPORTS.

London, Sept. 15.—The market to-day was large, and consisted chiefly of fruit, vegetables and dairy produce. Grain deliveries were small, and wheat had no change, from $1.15 to $1.20 per cental. Oats were in keen demand by local buyers, at 95c to $1 per cental. The livery men and hotel-keepers are now laying in a stock for the Fair next week, and the supply is not equal to the demand. The meat supply was large, and beef was easy, at $5 to $6 per cent. Lamb had a ready sale at $1 to $9 cper lb. by the carcass. Pork was steady, at $5.50 to $7 per cent. but very little is delivered unless ordered. Poultry was firm, at 40 to 70c a pair for fowls, and 59 to 70c for ducks. A few turkeys were offered, at 10 to 11c a pound. Butter was firm, at 22 to 21c a pound for roll and 18 to 22c for crock. Eggs were scarce, at 14 to 15c a dozen. The apple supply was large, and plenty could be had for 59 to 60 c a bushel. A good many pears were offered at $1.25 to $2 per bushel. Peaches were firm, at $1 to $1.25 per basket. Plumbs, 75c to $1.25 per basket. Grapes were offered at 7 to 8c a pound. Tomatoes had a ready sale, at 70 to 80 ca bushel. Potatoes were easy, at $0 to 90 ca bag. Hay was in large supply, at $1 to $5.50 a ton.

At the recent examination for entrance to the High-School held at Wallaceburg, two of the successful candidates were pupils of the Port Lambton Separate school. The names are Alice O'Leary, who ranked second, and held the highest number of marks for arithemetic,—103, out of a possible 105—the other, Maggie Moran. Sarah Hinnigan, another pupil, was recommended. To Mr. Frank Henderson, teacher, every praise is due for the success of Port Lambton Separate school. In the whole history of the Public school of this village, only one pupil has, so far passed the entrance examination.
