FIZZLE TOP STIRS US UP

Dear Cousin Dorothy, and the Wigs,—A merry greeting to you!

The inhabitants of the Wigwam have some bright ideas. I like Anemone's suggestion that the "Pa-poooses" enter a story contest, for I think it would waken some of the sleepy members and probably attract some new ones. No doubt Oriole will head the list and warmly second the proposal. Someone make a motion—do.

I see where Ignoramus mentions that the "Hon. W. T. Finlay addressed the school" he or she attends. Now, isn't that odd? For

I come from the city of which he once was mayor—the good old city of Medicine Hat.

The Mission Band here is making a quilt to send to Ethelbert. The Band supports a Chinese boy in one of the mission schools of inland China, and we sometimes hear from the missionaries there. It is very interesting to study that large, strange country and learn the wonderful changes that are taking place to-day.

One Sunday a Deaconess came up from Winnipeg, and a young ladies' service was held. It was a beautiful talk she gave of her work among the poor people of the city. I am sure that many of us never knew before that such a pitiable state of affairs existed.

Does anyone know of Gladiolus? I believe she is a great reader like myself. I am reading now "The Beautiful Life of Frances E. Willard," and several books about the late Rev. J. Hudson Taylor, the founder of the China Inland Mission.

Wishing the Wigwam brightest success, I am,

P. S.—Is there any age-limit to the Western Wigwam, Cousin Dorothy? Will you send me a button, please?

(Did you get your button all right? If any one wants adventures and exciting reading you can find it in the lives of the missionaries. Did you ever read "With the Thibetians in Tent and Temple," by Dr. Susie Rinhardt? She was a Canadian who went to Tibet, and the book is fine. We'll consider the story-contest idea until fall.—C. D.)

"She shall be removed, Angelique, since you insist upon it," replied he, secretly irritated: "but where is the harm? I pledge my faith she shall not stand in the way of my love for you."

"Better she were dead than do so!" whispered Angelique to herself. "It is my due, Bigot!" replied she aloud. "you know what I have given up for your sake!"

"Yes! I know you have banished Le Gardeur de Repentigny when it had been better to keep him securely in the ranks of the Grand Company. Why did you refuse to marry him, Angelique?"

The question fairly choked her with anger. "Why did I refuse to marry him? Francois Bigot! Do you ask me seriously that question? Did you not tell me of your own love, and all but offer me your hand, giving me to understand—miserable sinner that you are, or as you think me to be—that you pledged your own faith to me, as first in

Care in Preparing Food

In recent years scientists have proved that the value of food is measured largely by its purity; the result is the most stringent pure-food laws that have ever been known.

One food that has stood out prominently as a perfectly clean and pure food, and which was as pure before the enactment of these laws as it could possibly be is Quaker Oats, conceded by the experts to be the ideal food for making strength of muscle and brain. The best and cheapest of all foods. The superiority of Quaker Oats over all other oatmeals is due to two things; the oatmeal is rare in the selection of the finest oats obtainable and the special machinery by which this oats is cleaned, rolled and packed. The Quaker Oats Company is the only manufacturer of oatmeal that has satisfactorily solved the problem of removing the husks and black specks, which are so annoying when other brands are eaten.

Angelique quitted his arm and stood confronting him, flaming with indignation. She did not let him finish his sentence. "If it were my case, Bigot, as if that could ever be my case, and you alive to speak of it!"

Bigot stepped backwards. He was not sure but a pomard glittered in the clenched hand of Angelique. It was but the flash of her diamond rings as she lifted it suddenly. She almost placed him.

"Do not blame me for infidelities committed before I knew you, Angelique," said he, seizing her hand, which he held forcibly in his, in spite of her efforts to wrench it away.

"It is my nature to worship beauty at every shrine. I have ever done so until I found the concentration of all my divinities in you. I could not, if I would, be unfaithful to you, Angelique des Meloises!" Bigot was a firm believer in the classical faith that love laughs at lovers' perjuries.

"You mock me, Bigot!" replied she. "You are the only man who has ever dared to do so twice."

"When did I mock you twice, Angelique?" asked he, with an air of injured innocence.

"Now! and when you pledged yourself to remove the Lady of Be from your house! I admire your courage, Bigot, in playing false with me and still hoping to win! But never speak to me more of love while that pale spectre haunts the secret chambers of the Chateau!"

Mapleine Caramel Custard

One cup of granulated sugar, one pint of milk, half cup of butter, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one and one-half teaspoonfuls of Mapleine.

Put milk in double boiler and thicken with the cornstarch dissolved in a little water. Put sugar and butter in saucepan, stir until sugar is melted, then gradually stir them together and add the Mapleine. Strain if necessary, cool and serve with Mapleine Whipped Cream.

Mapleine is the new flavoring better than maple. It is sold by grocers everywhere, 50c. per bottle. If not send 50c. in stamps to Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle, Wash., for a 2-oz. bottle and recipe book.
