

Give Your Wife One

THOUSANDS of wives and daughters run their own Ford cars. They use them for shopping, calling, attending the theatre, taking the children for a run in the country or to school.

The FORD is as easy to operate as a kitchen range, no knowledge of mechanical details being necessary. Inexpensive to operate. A woman can call around town all afternoon, or take a 25-mile spin in the country, at the minimum of cost for gasoline, oil, wear on tires, etc.

You couldn't give "her" a present she would appreciate more than this beautiful, modern car, with its stream-line effect, tapered hood and crown fenders.

Didn't Stay for Fireworks.

A small boy idling before the store of W. J. Mustard, at Oxford and Waterloo Sts., London, on Tuesday afternoon, playfully focused the hot rays of the afternoon sun by means of a magnifying glass on the fuse of a firecracker displayed in the window. The firecracker was one of a considerable quantity of fireworks unused on the 24th of May celebrations. The small boy's mind was thoroughly compensated for the tedious minutes devoted to securing the right focus. One of the merriest little fireworks displays ever staged was pulled off in Mr. Mustard's window. Exit the small boy. It is stated on good authority that he was seven blocks away when the fire department arrived. The explosion wrecked the window. The heavy smoke and water did much damage to stock, which will total over $125.

The Proper Spirit.

The cynic who finds fault with certain officers for not reverting in rank in order to get to the front, finds a relieving instance in the example of Lieut. Claude Kormann of Hanover, cousin of Mr. John Kormann of the Hartley House, Walkerton. Lieut. Col. Rorke, when ordered overseas with the 24th Battalion, found he had nine Lieutenants when he only needed three. It placed him in an unenviable position for him to discriminate. Lining the nine young officers up, he placed the position before them stating that he could only take three lieutenants and asked if any of them would go as privates. The first to step forward was Lieut. Kormann. After saluting his colonel, the young Hanover officer said that he had recruited the boys from Hanover to go to the war, and that for his part he was ready to go either as a Lieut. or as a private. That was the proper spirit, and Col. Rorke, "Not to be outdone in gallantry, replied: "You go overseas as one of my officers, Lieut. Kormann." Hats off to Claude.

Algonquin Park The Highway to Health and Happiness.

No better place could be devised for a real holiday for red-blooded men and women than Algonquin Park, situated about two hundred miles north of the city of Toronto. It is an unspoiled territory of nearly two million acres, starred with beautiful lakes and intersected by winding streams. No reserve in Canada can approach it in the wealth of attractions it offers to the lover of out-of-doors.

Away up in the Highlands of Ontario, two thousand feet above the level of the sea, the Park is a wonderful spot in which to renew the energies of a tired body or refresh a wearied spirit. Its tonic air filters through hundreds of square miles of pine, balsam and spruce; the days are unusually long with bright sunshine, while the cool evenings are a time of enchantment. The Park is a paradise for the fisherman and canoeist; the excellence of its sport draws anglers from every part of the Dominion and from every state in the Union, while the canoeist can travel for hundreds of miles in his light craft and be in a veritable kingdom of his own.

The accommodation in the park is such that the most varied tastes can be pleased. There are hotels for those who want to be in the wilderness—yet enjoy all the comforts that good service and social companionship can bring; there are groups of log cabin camps comfortably furnished and ideal for family parties, with central lodges containing recreation and dining rooms where you may dine and find everything ready for you on your return from the tramp; or if you have planned to camp under your own canvas you may step into a canoe at one of the little railway stations, and after a short paddle find a site unmarred by the hand of man yet within easy reach of the Park outfitting stores.

Many families now go into the Park expressly for the camping, making their headquarters at the hotels long enough to get supplies and camping outfit ready for the trip. Then in canoes, and with guides or without them, they launch out into the deep woods, camping where fancy prompts.

A handsome illustrated publication, telling you all about this famous park is issued by the Grand Trunk Railway and a copy can be had free on application to C. E. Horning, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

Daylight Saving.

Sir George Foster gave notice last week of a Government bill in connection with daylight saving. The bill provides that during the summer months the clocks may be moved on one hour throughout the Dominion, but the condition is stipulated that the bill shall not become operative until it is proclaimed by order in Council. In other words the bill simply gives the Government power to enact a general daylight saving scheme for the whole Dominion if it is thought wise.

Spoiled His Pleasure.

The young Scot never liked his mother-in-law, and this weighed heavily on the mind of his wife who was ill. Calling her husband to her bed side, she said to him: "Sandy, lad, I'm verra ill, and I think I'm about to dee, and before I dee I want you to gie me a promise." "I'll promise," replied Sandy, "What is it?"

"Weel I ken that when I dee, I'll hae a fine funeral, and I want you to ride up in front in a carriage wi' ma mither." "Weel," sadly responded Sandy, "I've gie'd ye my word an it's nae me that'll gang back on that, but I'll tel ye one thing, ye've spoilt the day for me."

The Tractor Attractive.

The value of the light tractor as a very useful farm implement is increasing greatly this year and in many sections is playing an important part in the agricultural work this year. The Ontario Department of Agriculture has a dozen or so tractors at work in all parts of the province, while a number of farmers who have had the tractors in use since a year ago pronounce their machines as past the experimental stage and an approved success. Tractor owners have not figured on cost very closely yet, but in one case where fourteen work horses were required on the farm it is only necessary for half this number with the use of the tractor and it cost $1,000 to feed the work horses last year. Calculations are to date favoring the tractor by a considerable margin. It may also be used for various power purposes. In the large areas in Western Canada the tractor has of course, been of immense value and by fall many Ontario farmers will be able to speak authoritatively both as to the value of the tractor for the farms of Eastern Canada and the cost of its operation.—Perth Courier.
