THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY is unablished upon the purely sastual system, with a Tariff of Premiums as low as is particulate with the permanence and ascurity of an Institution of this character. Every person taking out a Policy is a member, and entitled to vote at the Annual Meetings. The Dividends are declared emissally on the flat January. All persons insuring previous to that day, participate in the profits of that year, which are passed to his credit upon the books of the Company; to be paid during the life of the insured, in the order of votation, from the excess of a capital of profits having been obtained, the Directon will be authorized to pay the first year's Dividends at the close of the present facal year; afterwards, each years Dividends, in regular order, will be redeemed, as the funds of the Institutions exceed the above two hundred thousand dollars. It is supposed that each person will be required to pay three sunnal Premiums before his Dividends will be redeemed. This isesture in the conditions of this Company, over those who do not redeem or pay the Dividends until the death of the insured, is peculiarly favorable to the member, as the redeemption of Dividends will assist in the payment of the Annual Premiums, after a few of the first years have elapsed, or take up notes given for Premiums.

The assured, on surrender of his Policy, at any time after three years, will receive its equitable value. All Premiums amounting to Afty dollars, or more, on Policies running five years or longer, may be paid one half by Mote; to remain a debt on the Policy, until cancelled by Dividends; or the Folicy becomes a claim.

This Company was organized in December, 1846, and its prosperity has hitherto been unparalicied. It is now in the third fiscal year of its existence; and numbers (October, 1849) nearly a cen thousand members; with a constantly increasing accession. Its losses have been small, compared with the numbers which might have an expec

Marriage requires the fuffilment of several conditions, in order that it may be really the cause of mutual happiness. Could the veit, which covers the origin of domestic veretchedness, be raised, and its true source in every instance disclosed, in how many could it be traced to physical disqualifications and their attendant disappointments. Excesses are always injurious; the gift which, when used in moderation, he frought with advantage, becomes, when abused, the prolific source of mischief, and of greater or less injury to the constitution and vital powers. The particular excesses, on the nature and consequence of which this Treatise professes to dilate.

The particular excesses, on the nature and consequences of which this Treatise professes to dilate, are productive of greater misery to the human trame than any other to which it is subject.

This Work contains an accurate and complete account of the Anatumy and Physiology of the Reproductive Organs, and of their relative conditions in health and disease. Nor are these the sole contents of the work: the means of eccape, as well as the nature of the danger, are pointed out in elear and intelligible language. It deservedly requires the closest statistics and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and of the physical cambilities of which every men, should be hgible language. It deservedly requires the closest situation and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and of the physical campbilities of which every man should be possessed. It unfortunately happens, that, the unhappy victim of excessive indulgence and vicious habits, whether acquired in early life, or from the foilies of advanced age, while suffering from their invariable consequences, answisely entertaine a fear of explying to a qualified physician forvalled. Shame and the dread so frequently, but erroneously, unertained, that these complaines are beyond the reach of art, slike restrict him, and prevent his seeking for gaint ance where alone it can be procured. In exting thus, he forgest that accurate discrimination in as certaining the causes of discans, sympathy with the sufficer, and above all, eaerest, invarialy characterize the intelligent and practical physician, and to the medical man, who can show by his possession of the requisite legal qualification, that he is entitled to sufceen and respect in his professional pursuits, the utmost confidence should be extended. DR. Labin MERT has obtained the highest medical honours, as his disjonance teatify, and the great extent of his practical importance and experience, which has preference almost soft; to the treatment of these duestees.

REDUCED RATES OF PREMIUM-HALL CREDIT RATES OF PREMIUM.

THE greet and decided success which has attended this Institution has induced the Directors to REDUCE the RATES originally required in British North America to the ordinary European Rates. The result of such Reduction is to stable parties to avant themselves of the important benefits of Life Assurance at much lower Rates of Premium than those of any other Assurance company transacting business in Canada. The Directors have also resolved to extend to British North America the advantages afforded by the HALP CREDIT RATES of PREMIUM which have been so highly approved and are so by the HALF CREDIT RATES of PREMIUM which have been so highly approved and are so generally adopted by Policy Holders in the United Kingdom. The most liberal conditions are likewise offered to the Assured m the limits to which they may proceed by sea or land, to other parts of North America without affecting their interest in their respective Policies.
