By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Feb. 3.—The removal by the government of most of the restrictions on the publication of news about the air raid was released. Another flood of accounts of the latest visit of the raiders.
A part of Staffordshire was the only place in which much material damage was done. The towns in this district were fully lighted when the Zeppelins approached and the light appears to have been of considerable use to the visitors, before the electricity could be shut off. The deaths and injuries in this district were in circumstances as for instance the killing of a woman missionary with a child in her hand, of a baby in its mother's arms as she was nursing it, of a whole family as it sat around the fireplace, as also the decapitation of a workman and the cutting off of a woman's legs in the street, while she stood watching the airship. Workmen's houses were blown to atoms, churches were destroyed, buildings were unroofed.
Nowhere did the raids cause any panic. The story of the killing of the woman missionary is thus given in detail by a correspondent who is a member of the same parish:
"STUCK A CHAPEL
The Zeppelin came over the town in the night, separated by a short distance from the chapel in which a mission for women and girls was in progress. The woman missionary, wife of a well known vicar, was an audience in hand, addressing and girls, when a bomb dropped between the church and the mission chapel. It made a hole in the ground four feet deep and twelve feet in diameter, within twenty feet of the Saloniki, Feb. 3.—The Zeppelin, which on Tuesday bombarded Saloniki was of very large dimensions. After making a wide detour of the city, it began its operations by dropping five bombs which fell into the sea. The warships opened fire on it, but after fourteen shots, were obliged to cease for fear of wounding the population which was now filling the streets. The raiders missed the next target, but tore a woman to pieces and wounded a small boy. Another bomb set fire to the warehouses filled with fats, oils, benzine and sugar. The buildings flared up like a torch and the population became wildly excited, while the Zeppelin continued to rain down its missiles of destruction, one of which demolished the mosque of Yusoff Pasha, killing three and injuring eleven Greek refugees from Asia Minor, who were sheltered in it. Another bomb crashed through the roof of a house and instantly killed five persons. The flames from the blazing warehouses lit up the whole harbor with a red glow against which stood out the white sails of the coasting ships, fleeing under all canvas.

Fast aeroplanes rose in pursuit of the Zeppelin, while British, French, Italian and Russian sailors operated a fire boat at a wharf and poured torrents of water on the fire. Generals Sarrail, Mahon and Moschopoulos, with the prefect and the mayor, organized the defense of the city. The Zeppelin was seen to be in the harbor, and was
