Marlatts Specific

Removes

Never-Failing Remedy for

Appendicitis

Write to Dept. B. for all particulars and some testimonials.

U.W. MARLATT&CO SBI ONTARIO ST, TORONTO CONT.

salivary glands. Then he made his way of his own.

Would she come? He realized now that it was herself he longed to see more than anything she might bring for his succor. Why had he not asked her to come anyhow? Fearing a sickening disappointment he would not allow himself to hope. He thought of a dozen good reasons to prevent her coming; she might not have got his letter; and even if she had, how could a girl be expected to get a man's out-fit together at an hour's notice; and how could a delicately brought-up girl bring it to this mean quarter after dark? He should not have asked it of her—but what else could he have

"Of course she will not come!" he told himself a score of times, while his desirous eyes continued to search wives of which there were so many twisted in a loose knot, was escaping untidly in every direction. She carried a covered basket. More convincing than the clothes was the walk, the manner: the whole figure sagged

She stopped under pretense of look ing in a shop window, and Neil had a glimpse of her profile. He was amaz-ed. It was she, his charming girl, but terribly changed. Her skin showed the sickly pallor resulting from bad hous-ing and insufficient food. Her nose and the skin about her lips was reddened and rough, her glance weary and lustreless. Neil was strangely di-vided in his mind between horror at the outrage to her beauty, and delight in the cleverness that had accomplish

THIS WOMAN

SAVED FROM

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Binzer that has made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, ulceration, displacements, backache, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

BINZER, Black River Falls, Wis.

AN OPERATION

His imagination was impressed for-done

for her.

Hours

-THE SLEUTH

"You are Nell Ottaway, aren't you?" asked the boy with a touch of awe. "You get me wrong, son," said Nell, good-naturedly. "My name is Paddy Leary from a shpot called Tipperary." "Oh, you can't fool me!" said the boy, confidently. "With your long hair and all, and hiding away like this. As soon as that came out in the paper about you changing with a stoker I began to look for you on West street. I tracked you here from the store where you wrote that let-

"What were you going to do with me when you got me?" asked Neil curiously.

"Turn you over to the police. Then my ôld man whould have to let me be a detective."
"Oh, I see!" said Neil.

"What are you going to do to me?" the boy asked with a shade of ap-

"Not a thing—if you keep away from the windows," said Neil. "Glad to have somebody to talk to. What's

"Kid Doty," the boy said with a ragger. "Doty means brave, see? n not afraid of anything that

"That so?" said Neil.

Kid Doty suspected irony. "Well, I followed you right into your lair, didn't ¶?" he said aggrievedly. "That's something."

"Sure, that's something," said Neil, sylvants, the liked this by grinning. He liked this boy.

The Kid looked around him with bright eyes. His fears at rest, he chattered like a child to his mother.

"Say this is a note! Us two being up together. I never read anything like it, did you? Or saw it in the movies. These rooms would make a great scene in the movies; wouldn't This is the real thing! Say, they? This is the real thing! Say, you'll have to keep me with you now wherever you go, to prevent me from telling the police."

"I suppose so," said Neil ruefully.

"Oh! Will you? Will you? cried the boy, agerly. "Oh, say, I'd give anything to go with you! I'll be your man. I'll help you fight!"

"But I thought you were going to be a detective," said Neil.

"I'want to see Life!" cried the Kid.
"I don't care how. There's nothing in

"I don't care how. There's nothing in ta New York for a fellow like me. I'd have gone west long ago, but I don't know how to ride the bumpers. I don't know vihere the bumpers are on a car. You can show me."
"Well, we'll see," said Neil guard-

How do you feel?" asked the Kid, with respect.
"I feel all right thank you," said

"Why?" Neil, "Why?"

"After croaking a guy, I mean."

Neil hated to disappoint his ingenuous admirer. He made an effort to play up to the part ascribed to him.
"Don't want to talk about it," he growled, as if in unhappy retrospect.

The Kid vented a long breath of excitement. "He haunts you!" he cried. Nell looked around him apprehen-sively. "Ah, cut it out!" he muttered. "I've done lots of bad things my self," said the boy, eagerly. "though I haven't killed my man yet. I sup-pose you're a dope fiend. I smoked a mal to win a boy's confidence completely. He wasn't going to spoil it by a moral homily. "Cigarettes!" he said, affecting scorn. "Cigarettes are for women and dudes. I smoke a pipe?"

The boy's face changed. Unostentatiously he put away the box. "Sure!" he said. "I smoke nothing bu a pipe myself. Or a good, strong cigar. I just carry these to give away."

without another. Besides, I'm broke."
"I got a dollar and a half," the boy said eagerly.
Neil shook his head firmly.
"What did you do with the old man's roll?" asked Kid Doty.
"Gave it to your girl, I suppose. I They all do."
Neil was cutting the woolen neckeloth into strong strips:
"What's that for?" asked the heavy to the your wasted."

NOTHING LIKE IT FOR BRONCHITIS AND SOKE THROAT

Remarkable Cures in the Worst Cases Reported Daily.

CURES WITHOUT USING DRUGS

Doctors now advocate an entirely new method of treating bronchitis and irritable throat. Stomach dosing is no longer necessary.

The most approved treatment consists of a healing vapor resembling the pure air of the Adirondacks.

This soothing vapor is full of germ-destroying substances, and at the same time is a powerful healing agent. It is sent to the bronchial tubes and lungs through a skillfully devised in haler that can be carried in the vest pocket. Simplicity itself is the keynote of this splendid treatment.

CATARRHOZONE is the name of this wonderful invention that is daily curing chronic cases of weak throat, bronchitis and catarrh. Every breath through the inhaler is laden with soothing, healing substances that destroy all diseased conditions in breathing organs. It cannot fail to cure an illness in the head or throat by means-of medicine taken into the Catarfhozone is a direct breathable, scientific cure.

There is no sufferer from a grippy cold or any winter ill that won't find a cure in Catarrhozone, which is employed by physicians, ministers, law-yers and public men throughout many foreign lands, large size lasts two months and costs $1.00, and is guaranteed; small size, 50c.; sample size. All storekeepers and druggists, e Catarrhozone Co., Kingston,

The afternoon passed very pleasantly on both sides, notwithstanding the ly on both sides, notwithstanding the absence of lunch. Together they washed Neil's clothes and spread them to dry in the patches of sunlight under the front windows.

Meanwhile the Kid bombarded Neil with hundreds of questions concerning a life of crime. Neil's ingenuity was put to it to find satisfactory answers. Fortunately the boy was uncritical. At the same time Kid Doty continually forgot his assumption of the desperado, and lapsed into the normal adolescent. He entertained Neil with simple domestic details.

"My old man's a lawyer. Good head,

"My old man's a lawyer. Good head, too. But of course he doesn't under-stand me. Fathers always want you to study hard in school and get high marks. Huh! teacher's pet! Not for mine! They didn't do it themselves, no sir! I found an old letter that told how Dad was arrested once for break ing church; windows. So he can't blame me.

"Wants me to be a lawyer. What do you know about that? Gee! If I had my way, I'd take the whole push of lawyers, barring the old man, and put them on a ship, and torpedo it. I got a young brother. He thinks he's bad, too. He's just imitating me. I won't let him be. No, sir, that kid's got to stick in school and make some thing of himself!"

When it began to grow dark Neil prepared to go out. Dressed in the renovated clothes, and wearing the blue shirt and red tie, there was little to suggest the coal-passer. Kid Doty pressed his felt hat on his idol. With onsiderable stretching, it was made

"Where are we going now?" the boy asked.

"You're not going anywhere," said His face fell. "Aw, I'm your pal now," he pleaded. "Through thick and thin. I could stall off the cops. Two heads are better than one."

Neil was not a little touched. "I don't doubt you, old man. But I have trouble enough to look after myself.

in delight and alarm, "But-this is a dickens of an out-of-the-way joint, he faltered. "When I make my getaway I'll tip off the police to come and release The would-be desperado's face glowed, "Oh, say, will you? That'll make some story, ch? That's pretty near as good as bringing you in myself, Gee! when they read the parers in school!' With alacrity the boy put his hands behind him to be tied. "Make a real behind him to be tied. "Make a real not," he urged," so they can't say it's a frame-up."

There was enough of the scarf left over to make a blind for the young-ster's eyes. Nell prepared to put it on. "But what's the use of that?" asked the victim. "I'm coming back in a little while," Neil said, "And you must-n't see what I do."

"I wouldn t tell."

"I know," said Neil, "but it makes it seem more realistic."

"Oh, all right. Better gag me, too, or they'll want to know why I didn't raise the neighborhod."

"Time enough for that later."

"Time enough for that later."
"I can see under the bandage. Pull it down a little," said the bandage one it down a little," said the beliese one conscientiously.

Neil smiled as he tied the linot. He gripped the thin shoulder in a friendly hand. "I'm off now Lie low for awhite, I'll bring you in a bite to eat. So long, old fellow!"

"So long, old fellow," returned the boy in careful imitation.

Neil locked the room door behind him, Feeling his way down stairs, he satisfied himself with a cautious survey that there was no one immediate.

vey that there was no one immediately outside, and issued into the street. He made his way over the uneven flags towards Hudson street.

After dark it was more than ever an unsavory neighborhood. Few lights were to be seen in the little tenements sandwiched between yards and stables, yet figures occasionally passed in and out in the dark. At the corner of Washington street under the tin awning of a vacant store a group of youths with sneers fixed in their faces eyed him hard as he passed.

He had little to fear from such as ever by the notion of a woman who could dare so for a man. He walked on, and she fell in be-hind him. In order to avoid the loiterers by the empty store he led her through the next street, and approach-ed his hiding-place from the other dir-

Once in that dark and furtive litt street, he paused and let her catch with him.

He sought her hand and pressed it hard. "How good of you!" he whispered. "I dared not hope you would come!"

She disengaged her hand. "Of course I came," she said. "Ah. don't thank

I came," she said. "Ah. don't thank me!"

"But I must," said Neil. "I never knew of such a thing!"

"Bub—but it sounds like mockery," she said, "for you to thank me—now."

"How wonderful you are!"

"Please, please! I have what you ased for. Where shall we go?"

"I have a place," he said, "such as it is, Yeu're not afraid to go alone with mexto such a place?"

"Afraid?" she said with a break in her voice, "Would you be in such a place if it weren't for me".

This note made Neil exquisitely un-Indigestion, Stomach Disorders, Appendicitis and Kidney Stones are often caused by Gall Stones, and mislead people until those bad attacks of Gall Stone Colic appear. Not one in ten Gall Stone Sufferers knows what is the trouble. Marlatt's Specific will cure without pain or operation.

place if it weren't for me".

This note made Neil exquisitely uncomfortable. "For goodness' sake, don't take that line," he exclaimed.

"I'm having the time of my life!"

"Ah, don't joke about it!" sne said.

"Come on," said Neil. "I'll show you my castle."

my castle:"
"Is it safe for us to walk together?" "Surely, You could go anywhere in that make-up. How did you manage it, you wonderful one?"

it, you wonderful one?"

"A little paint works wonders. It wouldn't pass in the daylight. I studied my scrubwomen, poor soul! These are her clothes. I changed at her house. She thinks I've gone to a masquerade. It's easy for a girl to disguise herself if she wants to."

Procedure the decree his diginal place.

Reaching the door of his hiding-place he led her in boldly. "Don't-mind the smell and the dirt," he said. "There's safety in the forlorness of the place."

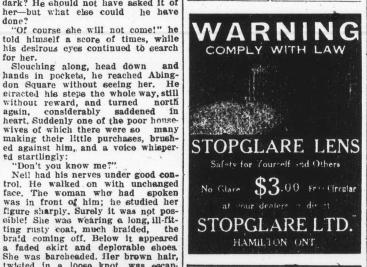

these. His shrunken, creased clothes offered little temptation to footpads, however small their way of business. He walked with a slouch and a vacant look that disguised him better than his borrowed clothes.

Turning into Hudson street, the scene was instantly metamorphosed. New York is a city of such breathless scene-shifting. A line of brightly lighted stores stretched up and down on either hand, and the pavements were alive with after-supper shoppers. Neil went into the first baker's to obthe place."
"There were people across the road Neil went into the first baker's to ob-tain a bite for himself and a bag of cakes such as might appeal to a boy's who could see us," she whispered apprehensively. north according to schedule, searching the faces of the passers-by, while careful to maintain the vacant look

"Doesn't matter," said Neil. "People in such a neighborhood as this mind their own business strictly."
He led her up the rickety stairs. Her hand lay in his as soft and warm as a nestling. In the pitch blackness of the landing above he could not help trying to draw her close to him. Surely after this she must love him! But she held off determinedly. "Ah, be generous!" she whispered with a catch in her breath. "Don't make me Sorry I come!" sorry I come!

He released her with a little groan He could nto resist this kind of an appeal. She was safe because she was so entirely at his mercy. At the same

HAMILTON ONT. man. How was he to know that she did not secretly desire him to over-bear her resistance? Boys learn out of the air that maidens must be maidenly.

STOPGLARE LTD.

When he opened the door a cracked voice from within instantly asked in accents of alarm: "Who is it?"
"All right, old scout," said Neil.

He had heard the girl give a little gasp. He pressed her hand reassuringly, and touched her lips for silence. Neil carried the bag of cakes into his willing prisoner.

"Oh, I'm so glad!" whispered the young desperado. "The rats made a fierce racket!"

fierce racket!"

Neil squeezed his shoulder, and opening the bag put the refreshments where he could reach them with his mouth. This pleased Kid Doty more than the prosaic method of fingers.

"I'll be in the next room," said Neil.
"I've got to shut the door. If the rats come around again, sing out." CHAPTER VII.

"Did you bring a candle?" Neil ask-

"Did you bring a canue.
ed the girl, in a whisper.
She nodded, and feeeling in her basket, presently put it in his hand.
Neil led her into the middle room alosed the door. "So the light and closed the door. "So the light won't give us away through the front windows," he explained. He lit the candle. "We'll have to sit on the floor," he said. He spread his coat for her.

"But—but what am I staying for?"

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia
E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot sayenough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but she faltered. "I've brought you the things. I must go back."
"Ah, not right away!"he said, reaching for her hand. "I need the sight of you more than new clothes. It's lonesomeness undermines a man, not danger. Every minute you stay gives me fresh heart."

She was persuaded to sit down. The She was persuaded to sit down. The candle threw immense, grotesque shadows of them upon the stained walls and broken ceiling. They were so quiet that tiny pairs of eyes ventured to peer at them from the corners. Neil shied bits of plaster at them. He gazed at the girl in the light with fresh, delighted interest. The lovely deeps of her eyer reassured him of her beauty.

She was only human. "Ah! don't She was only human. "Ah! don't look at me!" she murmured, averting her head. "I'm hideous!"
"You're still yourself," he said, Jeeply, "though changed on the outside."
"It's my hair," she explained. "Un-tidy hair undoes a woman complete-

"Looks as if it hadn't been brushed These changes naturally also had not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at an effect upon what they said. Formerly a shake she tossed it free. It fell all the actors were continually conscious Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ning Kept Her Awake Nights. Hard Lumps Came Then Turned to Scales.

and burning which would keep me awake nights it was so bothersome. First there would come little hard lumps and when it scratched them they would turn to flaky scales and dry.

would turn to flaky scales and dry.

"I got no relief until I got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. They gave instant relief and in a week I was completely healed."

(Signed) Mrs. Alfred Berthelotte, Ed River Crossing, N. B., February 1½. "16. Most skin troubles might be prevented by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for every-day toilet purposes.

For Free Sample Each by Mail address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. A, Boston, U. S. A." Sold everywhere.

around her in lovely, smoky colls.
"Oh, beautiful!" he cried, softly.
'You look like a dryad now."

"I didn't let it down for you to say things like that," she reproved him with her adorable primness. "It has to be fixed before I can go out."

to be fixed before I can go out."

He laughed in his throat. "Oh, weil, let it wait awhile," he murmured, dreamily.

Affronted by his ardent glance she twisted it up again hastily. But Neil snatched up the pins from where she had leid them had laid them. had laid them.

"What's the matter with me?" he demanded.

"Can't I even look at your hair? Am I hateful to you?"

"Would I be here if you were?" she whispered, holding her hair up with one hand and extending the other for the pins. "Oh, thta may be gratitude," he said.

"I don't want your gratitude."

"It's all I have. Please give me the pins. "No!" he insisted. "Let it down

"You have me at a disadavantage,"

"You have me at disadvantage, she said, reproachfully.
"You said that before," he said, grimly. "It's really the other way around. You have me where you want me. You know I couldn't hurt you. But I can't guarantee my manners.

Put your hair down."

With a shrug and an offended look she obeyed. She couldn't do anything

"Now I'm a brute, am I not?"

"Now I'm a brute, am I not?"
She made no answer.
"What is the matter with me?" he burst out again. "Tell me plainly if you don't fancy my style. I've no illusions about myself. And you're not supposed to fall in love with me just because I've had a chance to help you. because I've had a chance to help you But I have an instinct—I feel somehow as if you felt the same—felt what I do, and were just putting some artific-ial restriction on yourself. That's what arrestriction on yourself. That's what drives me wind."...

"Nonsense!" she cried, quickly."
"That's what every man says."
"Just vanity, eh?" inquired Neil, bitterly. "But tell me in plain words; there's no chance for me?"
"Not I teld you in the beginning."

"No! I told you in the beginning. Why do you make it so hard for me?"
"Hard?" said Neil, dejectedly. "What need you care?"

They were silent for awhile.
"Tell me one thing, if you don't mind," he suggested, at length, "What s your name—your real name?"
"Laura," she answered, readily.
"Suits you," he said, laconically.
A young man in love cannot be per-

A young man in love cannot be permanently discouraged by a mere verbal refusal. Hope soon began to str in Neil's breast. "I wouldn't want her to fall in my arms like an overripe peach," he thought. "She's worth climbing for. I'll get her yet."

The continued silence disconcerted her. "I must go," she said, nervously.

vously. "Wait a minute," he returned, with an off-hand air. "Let's look over what you brought."

$1,000 REWARD!!

For a Case of Incurable Constipation. To any person who cannot be cured of Constipation by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, the above reward will be paid. No medicine gives such lasting satisfaction or effects such marvelled cures as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Rel. instantly follows their use. That blinding headache goes forever, that feverish feeling in the skin is soothed away, billous fits and stomach disorders are stopped.

Don't be nervous about using Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are mild enough for a child to use, yet certain and effective in action in the most chronic cases. Get a 25c box to day; they bring and keep robust good

REALISTIC STAGECRAFT.

The Electric Light is Responsible for Many Innovations.

The introduction of electric light was, of course, responsible for greater innovations in the art of stage decoration than any other one thing. It was now possible to light up equally well any portion of the stage, and so the "apron" was dispensed with and the picture frame proscenium intro-

The cry for realism which Isben's dramas had aroused was now taken up by the scene builders with enthusiastic vigor ,and "nature" was reproiastic vigor, and material detail. "We must show life exactly as it is," became their motto,

These changes naturally also had an effect upon the actors themselves of the presence of the audience, and to a considerable degree addressed it directly. Now they could interpret the story on the stage, entirely ignor-ing, apparently, the presence of the

This change in the conception of the play as a whole, as being made up not acce of dialogue and recitation, but also of action and pictorial re-presentation, has had a very farreaching effect on our present day concep-tion of the drama.

L'aminous Eyes.

Cats among animals and owls among birds, says W. H. Hudson in his book, "Idle Days in Patagonia," are the most highly favored of any creatures in the matter of lun. ous eyes. "The feline eyes, as of a pumn or a wildcat, blazing with wrath, sometimes effect one like an electric shock. times effect one like an electric shock, but for intense, brilliance the yellow globes of the owl are unparalleled "Mr. Hudson asserts that nature has done comparatively little for the human eye either in these terrifying splenders or in beauty. He says that in Brazil he was greatly impressed with the magnificent appearance of the negro women, but that many of the negro women, but that if they had only possessed the "gold-en irides" of certain intensely black tropical birds their "unique lo ness" would have been complete.

Two Years' Illness Cured by Two Boxes

JOSEPH LAROUCHE TELLS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

He Suffered From Cramps in the Muscles and Headaches, But Now He is Well Again.

Lac Bouchette, Lac St. Jean Co., Que., April 22nd.—(Special.)—"I can assure you Dodd's Kidney Pills made me well." So says M.' Joseph Larouche, well known and highly respected here. For two years he was a sufferer from cramps in the muscles and headaches. He was treated by a doctor, but got no permanent relief till he used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"You may publish my statement that Dodd's Kidney Pills made me well," says Mr. Larouche in an interview.
"I was ill two years. I had cramps in my muscles, and suffered from terrible headaches. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

That Mr. Larouche's troubles from his kidneys is evidenced by the fact that he found a cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are simply and purely a kidney remedy. The reason they are credited with cures of rheu-matism, lumbago, dropsy, backache, diabetes and heart disease is that all of these were either kidney diseases or diseases caused by sick kidneys.

...... Grow Alfalfa **************

(Experimental Farm Note.)

(Experimental Farm Note.)

The pressing need for increased farm production, on the one side, and the scarcity of farm labor on the other, have created a situation in Canadian agriculture that is somewhat embarrassing to the two chief parties concerned, viz: the fame and the consuming public.

With a serious in farm labor confronting the producer, it will be difficult to increase farm production by expanding the acreage under crop. However, the need for increased production remains, and, under the circumstances, there seems to be only one way to make the best of the situation, and that is to make every produce more, in quantity as well as in quality, than it has produced in the past.

With special reference to increased production in: "What forage crop is, under present conditions likely to produce the heaviest returns and, at the same time, the highest quality of feed for all-round purposes?"

In our opinion there is no forage crop

ourposes?
In our opinion there is no forage crop hat better answers their purpose than In our opinion there is no forage crop that better answers their purpose than alfalfa. It can be grown to advantage under a diversity of soil and climatic conditions and has, generally speaking, a wider geographical range of usefulness in Canada than any other Iorage crop. Alfalfa is a choice food for all kinds of farm animals, and produces ness in Canada than any other forage crop. Affalfa is a choice food for all kinds of farm animals, and poduces more economical feed per acre than does any other hay or pasture erop. It, furthermore, requires comparatively little labor. Once well established, it continues to yield heavy returns. On account of its lasting characters good deal of money and labor is saved annually, as no re-seeding is necessary for years, and for this reason, if for no other, alfalfa should command special attention just now from any farmer handleap, ed by scarcity of labor. It may be objected, though, that just now, when an immediate increase in farm production is so urgently needed, alfalfa may fro to the most commendable forage crop, in spite of all its merits, because it takes a year to get it established as a paying crop.

It is true that there is an urgest need for the greatest possible production to meet the immediate edmands of Canada and the Allies, and that therefore every ounce of energy should be mobilized to realize the situation as quielly as possible. But, Canada will be called upon to produce record crops not only this year, but for many years to come, peace or no peace. The mere ending of the war will not bring about a relaxation of the efforts in farm production. On the contrary, with the return of peace, the necessity of making the utmost out of the soil will likely be felt more keenly than ever before. In view of this it would seem to be a good policy to prepare for the future now, and, as far as forage crops are concerned, special attention should be paid to alfalfa as a crop that, better than any other, is likely to fill the bill as the crop of the future.

"How do they fish for pearls, dad? "Well, some wives threaten and others nag."—Louisville Gourier-Journal.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE BABY

Nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets as a medicine for little ones. They are a laxative, mild but thorough in action, and never fail to relieve constipation, colic, colds and simple fevers. Once a mother has used them she will use nothing else. Concerning them Mrs. Saluste Pelletier, St. Damas des Aulnaies. Que., writes: "I always keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They are the best medicine I know of for little ones, and I would