'Any bottles? Any rags?'
'Queer combination you deal in, my friend.'
'Not so queer. People as has bottles generally has rags.'
De Smith—How old did you say you were?
Miss Old—Just turning twenty-three.
De Smith—I see. Thirty-two.

Indescribable Torture of Piles.

Mrs. George H. Simmer, Grant, Russell Co., Ont., writes: "For eleven years I suffered from bleeding piles, itching and protruding piles without success. The tortures I suffered at times were beyond description. A friend told me about Dr. Chase's Ointment. It brought relief at once and cured me permanently five years ago."

Reggy (fervently)—Ah, Miss Rose, when I gaze on you my mind wanders. Miss Rose (with a yawn)—What a pity, Reggy, the rest of you doesn't keep up with your mind.

Percy—Do you know, Miss Alice, I've always had a horror of premature burial—being buried too early, don't you know?
Alice—O, what nonsense; that's impossible.

Mr. Stubb (with a frustrated wince)—Martha, here is a picture entitled 'Docking an Ocean Greyhound.'
Mrs. Stubb (flaring up)—I just don't want to see it. I think there should be a law against clipping off a poor dog's tail.

Protect the Lungs.

By using Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine at the first indication of throat irritation you may overcome the cold before it gets a hold on the bronchial tubes or lungs. No treatment has ever proven so successful as a cure for chronic bronchitis, asthma, croup and severe chest colds. This is why Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a standby in most homes.

'You admire the weather out here?' interrogated the old settler.

'I admire its nerve,' whispered the hen-pecked man with a quick glance over his shoulder.

'What, then,' asked the professor, 'is the exact difference between logic and sophistry?'
'Well,' replied the bright student, 'you're engaged in controversy it's just the difference between your line of argument and the other fellow's.'
'When I first knew that man,' said the observant waiter, 'he couldn't be making more than $1,000 a year. I'll bet it's $10,000 now.'

The Poet—What did you do with that piece of manuscript on my table?
His Wife—I used it to light the fire with.

The Poet—Wretched woman! Didn't you know that paper contained a sonnet?
His Wife—Yes, dear, I read the sonnet.

Doctor (to patient's son-in-law)—She is extremely ill, but it is not a question of moments.

Son-in-law—How long will it be, do you think?
Doctor—An hour, or an hour and a half, perhaps.

Son-in-law—O, well, then I've got time to have my lunch in peace at any rate.

Mrs. J. G. LINSLEY, Dartmouth.
Nine—I have used your MICHARD'S LINIMENT for the past 25 years and whilst I have occasionally used other liniments, I can safely say that I have never used any equal to yours.

If rubbed between the hands and inhaled frequently, it will never fail to cure cold in the head in twenty-four hours.

It is also the best for bruises, sprains, etc.

Yours truly, J. G. LINSLEY.

A man and his wife were airing their troubles on the sidewalk one Saturday evening when a good Samaritan intervened.

'See here, my man,' he protested, 'this sort of thing won't do.'

'What business is it of yours, I'd like to know?' snarled the man, turning from his wife.

'It's only my business in so far as I can be of help in settling this dispute,' answered the Samaritan mildly. 'This ain't no dispute, but the man's name.'

'No dispute?' But, my dear friend—'I tell you it ain't no dispute, in settled the man. "She"—jerked his thumb towards the woman—'thinks she ain't going to get my week's wages, and I know darn well she ain't. Where's the dispute in that?—Everybody's Magazine.'

Eight Lessons From the Bee.

1. The bee teaches us to be industrious. No bee ever shirks his work.
2. He teaches us to be loyal and obedient. Bees obey and love the queen who rules them.
3. They teach us to be fond of our homes. No bee leaves his home except for a while, if he can help it.
4. They teach us to be clean. Nothing can be cleaner than a home of a bee.
5. They show much sympathy or kind fellow-feelings for each other in distress, and will never leave a friend in trouble without trying to help him.
6. They are very early risers.
7. They delight in fresh air.
8. They are very peaceful, and seldom quarrel or fight among themselves.—Exchange.

Don't Take the Risk.

When you have a bad cough or cold do not let it drag along until it becomes chronic bronchitis or develops into an attack of pneumonia, but give it the attention it deserves and get rid of it. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are sure of prompt relief. From a small beginning the sale and use of this preparation has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. Its many remarkable cures of coughs and colds have won for it this wide reputation and extended use. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

How the Pendulum Was Found.

Like many of the commonest mechanical instruments in daily use, the invention of the pendulum is due entirely to chance. Galileo, when under twenty years of age, was standing one day in the metropolitan church of Pisa, while some painters were at work on the ceiling of the church.

A suspended lamp which was hanging before the altar was disturbed in some manner, and the scientist was struck with the almost perfect regularity with which it swung back and forth. The idea of measuring time by such an instrument found instant generation in his brain, and he completed the system in use to this day.

Lame Shoulder Cured.

Lame shoulder is only caused by rheumatism of the muscles and quickly yields to a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Mrs. F. H. McElroy, of Bozeman, New Brunswick, writes, 'Having been troubled for some time with a pain in my left shoulder, I decided to give Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial, with the result that I got prompt relief.' For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

Seeds Higher Than Last Year.

Farmers will probably have to pay high this year for seeds, as a shortage in the crop has caused a considerable advance in the price of some lines. The most marked advance is in the price of clover, which is quoted at 12 to 15 cents a pound higher than last year. A number of the wholesalers have already made purchases and the travelers are now out taking orders. It has been the custom in years past for Canadian seed to be exported to France, but this year some French seed is being imported to Canada.—St. John Times.

The Pure Food Law.

Secretary Wilson says, 'One of the objects of the law is to inform the consumer of the presence of certain harmful drugs in medicines.' The law requires that the amount of chloroform, opium, morphine and other habit-forming drugs be stated on the label of each bottle. The manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have always claimed that their remedy did not contain any of these drugs, and the truth of this claim is now fully proven, as no mention of them is made on the label. This remedy is made of the safest, but one of the best in use for coughs and colds. Its value has been proven beyond question during the many years it has been in use. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

James R. Keene, the famous New York financier, at a dinner, said of the recent panic:

'The way men hungered after money reminded me of Tom Fergus, a friend of my Frisco days.'

'Tom, one morning, expected a man to call and pay a bill. While he was waiting for the man a summons came for him to go out. Before going he put this notice on the door:

'Have gone out for half an hour. Will be back soon. Been gone twenty minutes already.'

Fever Sores.

Fever sores and all chronic sores should not be healed entirely, but should be kept in healthy condition. This can be done by applying Chamberlain's Balm. This balm has no superior for this purpose. It is also most excellent for chapped hands, sore nipples, burns and diseases of the skin. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

This setting down and lodging our arms and waiting for something to turn up, is just about as rich a speculation as going out into a four-hundred-acre lot, setting down on a sharp stone with a pale between our knees, and waiting for a cow to back up and be milked.—Josh Billings.

The late evangelistic campaign held at Wrentham under the direction of Dr. Chapman, proved a great success. One of its best results was the establishing of a league of service with hundreds of members, each pledged to gather up the fruits of the campaign and conserve its results.

The middle and lower class business men and women (instead of tobacco) are. The carmen sent a vast quantity of these seeds to the Mass. charities recently as a present.

His Name Was Alexander.

There was a chap who kept a store, And though there might be grander, He sold things cheap, nor asked for more. His name was Alexander.
He mixed his goods with cunning hand, He was a skillful brander; And since his sugar was half sand, They called him Alex-sander.
He had a girl. One day she came, There lovingly he scanned her; He asked her would she change her name? A ring did Alex brander.
'Oh, yes,' she said, with smiling lip, 'If I can be commander.'
And so they framed a partnership, And called it Alexander.

Gloves.

The origin of gloves is very ancient. Some authorities assert that they were known in the Bible times, from references made to 'showers' which were thought to be identical with gloves. The first clear account of gloves comes, however, from Xenophon. This speaks of the Persians wearing gloves on their hands to protect them from the cold. Homer describes Laertes working in his garden with gloves upon his hands to protect them from the thorns, and Varro mentions this apparel as being worn by the Romans.

Gloves have been tokens of solemn and important things from the ninth century. They were adopted as a title from the chivalry, and later the transferring of lands or titles was always attended with the presentation of gloves. In the eleventh century the method of challenging to single combat by throwing down a glove was instituted, and this custom still remains in some countries. Gloves were not worn by women until after the Reformation.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells them everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. The whole some green leaves and tender stems of a long-healing mountain shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a restful plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, 'The Sacred Herb.' Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. A. V. Rand.

Dunning.

No doubt's great many of us have dunned people for various things, and perhaps some of us have been unfortunate enough to be dunned, but it is doubted if many know where the phrase originated. It has been said that it originally came from the French verb dunnez. This may be true, but the word probably came from Joe Dun, a famous balif of Lucoo, about the time of Henry VII. Dun was so noted for his ability to extract money from debtors that his name became proverbial, and it got to be a custom to say, 'Why don't you Dun him?'

You'll Feel Worse Every Day Unless You Brace Up Quick. The Best Treatment is Ferrozene.

Every Day Comes the good news of wonderful cures with Ferrozene.

In Peterboro it worked marvels for Louis Meehan—put him right on his feet—made him entirely well.
'About three years ago,' says Mr. Meehan, 'I had the Grippe which left me in a very run-down condition that finally developed into Dyspepsia. I was unable to eat but a few things and had a craving for acid. I gave up treating with the doctors because they did not help me and on the advice of a friend used Ferrozene. It not only cured me of Dyspepsia and Billiousness, but has built up my strength so what it was before I had the Grippe. I can recommend Ferrozene as an ideal restorative.'

Ferrozene gives you force, energy, vim.

It strengthens the stomach cures indigestion, prevents headaches—guarantees good health.

Thousands use Ferrozene—they look better—feel better; try it yourself—sold in soc. boxes by all dealers.

Boys who have the reputation of being 'terrors' never trouble me very much, if they have a sense of honor for I remember. The more of kindly strength is in the soil, the more doth evil seed and lack of culture bear it, and makes it run to wildness. It is my place to plant the good seed well watered and tended.

Stomach Trouble Cured.

If you have any trouble with your stomach you should take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Mr. J. P. Kline, of Edina, Mo., says: 'I have used a great many different medicines for stomach trouble, but find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets more beneficial than any other remedy I ever used. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.'

A good solution for cleansing silver is composed of one-third pint of ammonia, two-thirds of a pint of alcohol and a tablespoon of white sugar shaken well together. Dampen a small sponge with the liquid and go over the silver quickly, wiping it off with a clean cloth as soon as it dries. Silver will polish much easier if chambrise skin is used instead of flannel.

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage—All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, 'Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her, she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life.'

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be every woman's constant study. If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, beating-down pains, nervousness, irregularities in the blood, she should use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will help her system by a tonic with specific and powerful results. Following we publish a letter as it is written from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, headache and various ailments. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. I brought my health, new life and vitality.—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 811 South 12th Street, Omaha, Neb.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Langhams, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

In One Day.

A husband and wife, who both had expensive tastes, were one day discussing the advantages of economy, and mutually agreed to practice it. A few days later the husband observed a new purchase on the part of his wife, and said to her reproachfully:—

'My dear, in view of the present hard times, I thought we were going to practise economy for a while.'

'Oh, the lady answered, 'I went to town and contemplated the order you had given your tailor for a twenty-guinea full-lined overcoat, and got instead an ermine wrap that only cost fifteen guineas; having, you see, of five guineas. Not bad for one day, was it?'

The Working Men and Temperance.

We want the working men and the laborers upon the side of absolute Temperance. Where are we to look for a more passionate idealism than as yet gathers round the effort, if not among the great body of the working classes, among men and women who have been steadily victimized by temptations who absorb a third of their wages? They ought to see that an eager combination for Temperance will enable them to help one another and the whole cause of a changed and bettered society, more than anything else that they can do. They have everything to make them passionate about the subject. Their homes have been ruined in thousands by their drinking, their thrift destroyed, their poverty doubled, their intelligence weakened, their power to keep the advantages they gain enfeebled; their children diseased, their women worked to death or degraded, their enemies strengthened, their leisure and their culture reduced to the least possible quantity, their pleasures corrupted, their slavery to capital riveted upon them, their violence increased, their crime where there is crime—rendered brutal, their health so spoiled, that old age finds them easy prey and the workhouse remains their only refuge. They owe a debt of stern and abiding wrath to drink, and to tempters to drink, and I would they would pay the debt by total abstinence, by a great movement among themselves, led by a united union and association, to make the workers of England sober men and women. Till this is made by the men themselves and of their own impulse, one of the planks in their platform—successful social reform will linger, like a lame man, upon the way. With it, they would be as strong that no abuse or injustice would have a chance of resisting them. But every enemy the men have supports the public house. Their enemies know, as long as they can put one of these planks at every forty yards in a poor neighborhood, that they will keep their ill-gotten power over the employed. A great deal is said of the cheerful glass, and of robbing the poor man of his beer. I want them to be robbed of nothing. I want them to deprive themselves of their great creature by their own action; and they will not
