

joyfully welcomed to our Province, Prince of the Royal Family, but greater yet is our joy in greeting Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise, who having in Her high position won the esteem and affections of all classes of the people now comes to dwell among us as the partner of our Governor General.

We have learned with pleasure of the enjoyment which our Provincial Forest and River scenery and sports have afforded Your Excellency and Her Royal Highness the Princess and we trust that the warm sentiments of a devoted people, and the enjoyment of a country so richly endowed by nature, may be esteemed as in some measure compensatory for the sacrifices necessary attendant upon your Colonial residence.

We beg to assure your Excellency of the deep interest we feel in your Excellency's happiness and welfare. We pray that every blessing may attend your Excellency and Her Royal Highness, and we hope that in after years with your recollections of life in Canada may be entwined an affectionate remembrance of our people.

Dated August 11th, A. D. 1879.
GEORGE F. GREGORY, Mayor.
CHARLES W. BECKWITH, City Clerk.

His Excellency made a low bow, and receiving his reply from the hands of his secretary read it in a loud voice. It is as follows:

To the Mayor and City Council of the City of Fredericton,
My Men and Gentlemen,—

This is not the first time as you remind me that the Queen's children have visited your people, and have received at their hands the proofs of an affection for our Sovereign which matches all Her Majesty's subjects. The Queen has now reigned for a longer period than has been vouchsafed to most of our Monarchs over a prosperous and united nation, whose strength has, during her life, been greatly increased by the development and consolidation of this her great Dominion. Her Majesty possesses here the love of a people more numerous than were the English nation when they achieved the glories which the trumpet of fame spoke moved by Shakespeare's breath, and made a household word among all nations. In Canada I am able to receive with pride testimonials of respect, reverence and love, for her rule from men whose Government represents a force, if population and material resources be taken into account, far greater than possessed of old by England, even in these days which rang with the deeds of her heroes, and have been called the spacious times of Elizabeth.

And while we must look on this country as rapidly becoming one of the moving influences of the world we cannot forget what an advantageous variety of position and power within the sphere of the Dominion is possessed by the various provinces. In the Province of which this city is the capital, you have the great ocean highways so near you, that your brave and hardy mariners ply their trade on the great sea, and your mercantile marine with many of the best sailors in America. In the territories comprised within your limits you occupy a central position through which much of the land traffic of this part of the American Continent is likely to be conducted, and your climate gives to all those who cultivate your soil, abundance of agricultural resources in corn and pasture land.

It may not be inappropriate now when you give us your kindly and hospitable welcome to the capital of your Province to ask you to receive with our thanks the expression of our hope that the members selected as the representatives of the province, and who assemble here may be guided by wisdom by the most high to further the welfare and promote the best interests of a true and loyal people.

Three little girls named Helen Sterling, Miss Aggie Nell, Miss Allen, stood on the platform during the reading of the city address, and at the close, presented Her Highness with a bouquet with these words, "To Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise, we beg to present this bouquet." The Princess received it with a smile and thanked the little ones. The Marquis shook hands with them and then the Mayor escorted them away.

His Worship then presented Mr. C. Beckwith, City Clerk, Mr. F. M. Beane, City Auditor, Mr. J. B. Smith, Moore, Vandine, Simmonds, Ritchie, Gunter and Beck. His Excellency shook hands with each, and the Princess bowed. Mr. Warden McBean with the Sheriff on his right and Mr. Secretary, Treasurer Rainsford on his left, advanced. The Warden read the following address:

To His Excellency the Right Honourable Sir John Douglas Sutherland Campbell, F. C. S., K. T. G. C. M. G., Governor of the Dominion of Canada, etc.

WE, the Warden and Councilors of the County of York, on this, the occasion of your Excellency's visit to our County, desire to tender to your Excellency and to your illustrious consort, Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise, a sincere and hearty welcome.

Representing, as we do, the inhabitants of this Municipality, we are pleased to be able to say on their behalf that the appointment of one of so highly a cultivated mind, and of such parliamentary experience as your Excellency to the important and responsible position of Governor General of this Dominion, as well as the ennobling of Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise, so eminently distinguished for her virtues and kindly leaning towards all classes, to the care and protection of the people of Canada, was hailed with the greatest possible satisfaction, testifying, as it did, the deep regard and interest of Her Most Gracious Majesty, our beloved Queen, towards her subjects in this portion of Her Empire, and her desire, further, to strengthen, if possible, the ties that bind us to the Mother Country.

In conclusion, we sincerely trust that your residence in Canada may be promotive of much happiness to your Excellency and Her Royal Highness, and of great and lasting benefit to the country, and that your Excellency and Her Royal Highness may long be spared to enjoy the choicest of blessings.

WILLIAM McBEAN, Warden.
HENRY B. RAINSFORD, Jr., Sec. Treas.

To which His Excellency replied as follows: To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of the County of York, My Men and Gentlemen,—

We have heard much of the beauty of this part of the Province and we are glad to find that this fertile and populous country cherishes as warm an affection, and as devoted a loyalty to our Sovereign, the Throne and person of our representative of the British Monarchy can wish or hope to find.

It is with great satisfaction I see in the reports of the Dominion Minister of Agriculture that the attractions of promising colonization in the persons of the Danish settlers who have taken up their abode among the people of New Brunswick and who in their English neighbors may find some distant cousins.

are to be properly appreciated and this great Maritime Province be further opened up by the enterprise of the agricultural community.

The case with which this valley can be reached from Europe suggests how the European markets are likely to know before long the excellence of your produce: for the comparative cheapness of freight to the Mother Country consequent upon your near and advantageous position will assuredly give to you a favorable opportunity to send to the home markets large supplies of beef and mutton. In England a vast and ever-open market is open to you for such products; and in thanking you for your address I cannot refrain from expressing my desire to see not only a revival of your revenues from old sources in the ship, lumber and fish trades, but that you may also enjoy a share which will be so largely and legitimately your own, in that immense commerce in live stock which is now being carried on between the Dominion and Great Britain.

LORNE.
The Warden then presented Mr. John Black, Councilors Van Wart, Close, Davidson, Johnson, Matheson, Wilson, Jewett, Grant, Hoyt, Lawson, Pinder, Oliver, Murray, Pheny, Curry, Glendenings and Fisher. Sheriff Temple then proposed three cheers for the Marquis of Lorne which were given with enthusiasm, and three others for the Princess Louise. Instead of three Her Highness got six, the assembly seeming actually mad with enthusiasm. The party were then escorted to their carriage and drove home. The Exhibition Palace looked magnificent, and the noise that at times prevailed during the ceremony was owing to the anxiety felt by parties in the rear to get a look at the platform.

Strangers in Town.
Among the many strangers in town are Mr. Ryan, M. L. C., Mr. Hannington, M. L. C., Mr. Kelly, M. L. C., Mr. McInerney, M. L. C. The members of the Government, Messrs. Beveridge, White, Leighton, Lynott, Hill, Cottrell, Marshall, McManus, P. J. Ryan, J. Covert, M. P. P., Mr. Payne and Mr. Campbell, of the Sun, Mr. McDade and Mr. Mait, of the News, Mr. Wetmore, of the Globe, and Mr. Melville, of the Telegraph.

BRIEFS.

—Two ruffians attempted an indecent assault on a woman in Brunswick Street, Sunday night.

—Cool Barges have been arrested for manslaughter in New York.

—Twenty-two thousand people are rendered homeless by fire in Sarajevo.

—It is rumored H. R. H. the Princess will visit England in October, returning to Canada in the spring.

A shocking story comes from Caribou, Me. A few days ago a little girl named Kearney 10 years old, was picking berries, when a ruffian named Jerry Boniller, a tall hand at Collins & Porter's, approached and outraged her in a cruel manner. The child's father learned the description of the man, and took immediate steps for his arrest. The ruffian was overtaken in the woods near his own house by an armed party. He was running away and dared them to fire, but one man did fire and wounded Boniller in the abdomen. He is now on the point of death, and the little girl is not in a much better condition.

FREDERICTON, AUGUST 12, 1879

A Second Edition of The "Star" will be published this Evening about SIX o'clock containing the list of the judgments to-day on the Liquor Question.

ULTRA VIRES.

At half-past 2 o'clock this afternoon, the doom of the Canada Temperance Act became known. Four judges, viz: Chief Justice Allen, Justice Wetmore, Weldon and Fisher, declared in lengthy and logical documents, for reasons therein expressed, the law was ultra vires. This is a little more than we had expected all along; for while always believing the absurd law would be declared unconstitutional, we did not think the decision would be unanimous. We have every faith in the integrity and ability of our Bench, and hence respect their judgment; and in their averse decision to Dominion statute we recognize more, namely, a fearlessness of faction directed by a sense of high duty that not even a law passed by the majority of our Dominion magistrates can sway.

PASSED AWAY LIKE A FLEETING DREAM.

The glory of the summer's morning is succeeded by the shades of evening, and vernal spring and balmy summer are followed by the icy breath of frothing winter. Like everything in this nether world, the visit of the Marquis and the Princess has passed away and we reflect upon it just as we might on some high colored dream. Still there is a pleasure too in the reflection.

When one comes to think that the broad and liberalizing spirit of the age has so far prevailed that ordinary folk are vouchsafed in their lives the high honor of sitting down to table with royalty, it is a pleasure and much of that divinity "which doth hedge in a king" is proven to be mere poetical bosh. Dynasties nor monarchs are the power in themselves; it is the "power behind the throne," that moves the springs of the nation, and that power is the people. The Marquis of Lorne, all honor to him for his high and successful venture, is the first subject in our knowledge of history that has spanned that huge gulf that had hitherto separated the ruler from the subject.

And note the effects of this step: The Marquis is sent out to govern us, and his wife comes with him and takes the same place as the Countess of Dufferin filled. The circle has grown wider and wider. The daughter of the Queen comes down to our cities, is introduced to our aldermen and county councillors, and eats, and drinks and makes merry with honest farmers who can just write M. P. P. after their names. So that the Marquis of Lorne is the Cæsar who has passed the Rubicon dividing royalty from baser nature, and uncrossed through the centuries of British rule.

Our visitors have been treated "right royally," and have appreciated their treatment. They say the city arrangements they have never seen excelled, and will carry away pleasing and grateful remembrances of Fredericton. They have expressed their obligations to the members of the Government in ample language. On saying good-bye to that body to-day the Marquis assured them that he could scarce find words to express his thanks for their untiring attention to them since their visit to the Province; and for the excellent manner they had arranged for their comfort in every matter that came under their jurisdiction. His Excellency also undertook to speak for Her Highness who however came forward to our Government members and in her own sweet way, in bidding good-bye, thanked them collectively and individually; assuring them one and all that she should ever feel a debt of gratitude.

We are especially proud of Fredericton who has proven that her loyalty is as undimmed as ever, and that those who think our close contact with the Great Republic, and our reading of annexation newspapers beget indifference in us for the Throne and household of Her Majesty, are sadly mistaken. We must compliment our Mayor and Corporation particularly for the very creditable manner in which they performed their rather embarrassing duties.

THE BUCTOUCHE CYCLONE.

The Monteur Acadien gives the following account of the "breaking" and course of the cyclone:—

About four o'clock in the afternoon, (Wednesday) the sky was covered with dark thick clouds, and heavy thunder claps were heard in the distance. This presaged a tempest, but nobody expected the terrific one that plunged the people of the north in terror. Some thick clouds ploughed the sky, and two especially enormous large and black approached each other from opposite directions and came into collision at Rich Cove, about two miles above St. Mary's Church. The shock was terrible and formed a waterspout, conical in shape and of a frightful size. Many of the inhabitants of the south bank witnessed the spectacle, and say that what they saw resembled an enormous cylinder emitting fire and steam with a tremendous noise. The cyclone moving toward the east traversed a small wood, uprooting and raising everything in the course of its passage for a width of two acres.

After describing a circle towards the north the waterspout rushed upon the barn belonging to Rev. Mr. Ouellet, at a quarter of a mile behind the Presbytery, which it demolished almost completely, leaving only a part of the gable end standing. The zigzag course saved St. Mary's Church, the Presbytery and their dependencies, which thus by good fortune escaped certain destruction. Advancing toward the east in a zigzag and circular fashion, the waterspout came in the twinkling of an eye to the Buctouche Church, where it wrought its last destruction on this side of the frith, and from which, after crossing the bay and the shore, it lost itself in the sea.

Houses destroyed are: Alex's Bay, Oliver Marie Girouard, Narcisse Chesse, Meunier, Simeon Allain, Pierce S. Allain, Philip Cornier, Clement Cormier, Hypolite Boucher, H. B. Smith, F. S. Bastieche, V. V. Celphore Henri, Thos. Ward, Wm. Ward, Edward Cormier, D. H. Cormier, Edward Landry, Aus Flo Allain, Oliver LeBlanc, Jos. Bastache, Pierre Ed. Landry, Jos. LeBlanc, Aime Robicheau, L. B. Allain, Anselme LeBlanc, D. H. Cormier, Dennis Cormier, John Morrison, H. Sutton, Mr. Powell's Tannery, Rev. Mr. Michand, Catholic Convent.

The killed are: Mrs. F. Duplessis, who was sick and was killed by the debris of the falling house. An Indian female, Jeanne, wife of T. Nicolas, skull fractured by a falling chimney.

A child of Alexis Roy, 2 years old, Alexis Roy, Mrs. Girouard, Narcisse Chesse, Ambrose Allen, in daughter of Philip Cormier, two little sons of Thomas Ward, and Indian Nicholas, two young Indians, and a child of Vital Girouard, more or less injured, some fatally, Drs. Landry and Lamontagne are in attendance on the sufferers.
