

SEE HOW TO PRESERVE 256 POUNDS OF FRUIT
 TOMATOES, ETC.,
 Or two (2) Barrels of Cider
FOR ONE DOLLAR.

ONE ($1) PACKAGE OF THE American Fruit Preserving Powder and Liquid WILL DO IT.

One (25c.) Package will Preserve 32 lbs. of Fruit or 15 gallons Cider. Full directions inside each package. You will like it. You will find it less than half the trouble and expense of any other method, more reliable and accommodating, and the Preserved Fruit, etc., even Superior to the Best "Canned or Preserved" Fruit, etc. For Cider it is cheap and decidedly the best known method of keeping it sweet.

FRASER & PORTER,
 Sole Agents for Canada,
 Book Sellers and Stationers, Central Telephone Exchange,
 North Side of Court House Square, GODERICH, ONT.

IF YOU WANT TO SEE THE LATEST PHAZE OF
DRY GOODS ENTERPRISE

CALL AT THE GLASGOW HOUSE AND SEE THE BARCAIN COUNTER
 BERLIN WOOLS at 8c. an OUNCE,
 AND OTHER GOODS IN PROPORTION.

CARPETS VERY CHEAP.
 FLOOR AND TABLE OIL CLOTH AT WAY-DOWN PRICES.
EVERYTHING AT BUYERS' PRICES.

COUNTY CURRENCY.

Items of Interest from over the County.

A Weekly Digest of the County News Served up to the Readers of "The Signal."
 Fifth and Point, Clipped and Condensed from Every Section.

T. Nixon, of Bluevale, has purchased "Grey Tobe," the Goderich wonder. He's a mover, and has been able to pace his mile in about 2.18, it is said.

Mr. Robert Logan, of Logan's Bank, shipped a car load of very superior breeding mares to Carberry, Manitoba, last week. Mr. John Murray went in charge of them.

The Montreal Witness has been offering prizes for the best written stories by young people. Miss Jennie Wilson, daughter of Jas. Wilson, of Brussels, was one of the competitors, and last week she received a handsome medal for her contribution.

On Saturday last week J. W. Shaw, Brussels, went to London where he will take a term at the military school for the next six or eight weeks. Mr. Shaw is Lieutenant of Company No. 5, R. S. Hays and Jno. Wilson, of Seaford, and others from this county are also attending the school.

Messrs Wm and James Scarlett, sons of the late Mr. S. Scarlett, of McKillop, arrived Seaford, from Calgary Tuesday morning. They have an extensive stock ranch within about 40 miles of that rapid growing and prosperous city, and say they are doing well. They say prospects are good for a splendid crop all throughout the Northwest this year.

Says the Brussels Post: The other day a stranger called at Neil Duncanson's, 14th con., Gray, and after some conversation, in which it was stated that the visitor intended opening a store in Brussels, near the postoffice, he said he was short of money to pay the freight on his goods but if Mr. Duncanson would lend him $6.00 he would leave some silver plated knives, forks and spoons as security until Mr. D. could call at the store. Despite all the warnings and the frauds perpetrated in the past Mr. Duncanson advanced the money and the embryonic "merchant" left. He also called on Mr. Duncanson's brother and got a bag of flour promising to settle for it out of the store. After the matter was thought over the lender came to the conclusion that he had been bitten and set off to Brussels to look for law. By chance, or otherwise, he met in with Mr. "Slack" who told him he had spent the money. When threatened with law the "merchant" advised Mr. Duncanson to proceed to that southern climate where overcoats are not a necessary and drove off north with a woman, supposed to be his wife. It is only a repetition of the old story "Sold again" and Mr. Duncanson has the experience at a cost of a few dollars when the knives, &c. are deducted. The safe plan is to deal with reputable business men and don't listen to the appeals of every taker who may chance to come along.

Mr. Neil Bethune, eldest son of Mr. Colin Bethune, Grand Trunk agent at Seaford, has recently been promoted to the very responsible position of travelling auditor of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railway, with headquarters at Chicago. Mr. Bethune is another of the young men who is doing credit to his native country abroad and who is on the up grade.

DUNGANNON

From our own correspondent.

Miss Mary Stuart, of Lucknow, and formerly of Dungannon, is visiting friends and former acquaintances here, and seems to enjoy herself.

The hay crop, which is unusually heavy, is owing to favorable weather, being rapidly stored away. Next in order is fall wheat which is rapidly maturing.

Dungannon Agricultural Joint Stock Co. are taking steps to have the grounds which have been laid out for buildings and trotting course, ready to use at or before the time of the fall show. As the members of the various committees are gentlemen of energy and push, the completion of the work, we presume will be performed in a proper manner, and in good time.

We are being reminded of the grim visitor, death. Mrs. Whyard, died on Monday, 14th inst., aged 88 years. Her remains were interred in Dungannon cemetery, on Wednesday, 16th inst. In connection with the above we might note a strange coincidence. Her husband died on the same day of the week, as also the same day of the month. The obsequies were conducted by Rev. A. Potter.

On Sunday, 13th inst., Wm. Patton, son of Mr. Geo. Patton, West Wawanosh, who had been very ill since last fall, departed this life, aged 22 years. His remains were interred in Dungannon on Tuesday the 15th. There was a large gathering of relatives, friends and neighbors present on that solemn occasion, the bereaved parents and family have the sincere sympathy of the community in their affliction.

The strawberry and ice-cream festival, to which reference was made in our last, was a success, both intellectually and financially, the proceeds realized on that occasion being seventeen dollars. Quite a number were present, and the weather favorable but somewhat chilly. However all who were there were highly pleased with the entertainment. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. and Mrs. Pentland, and also the members of the Y. P. S. for their efforts in endeavoring to make it so pleasant and enjoyable an affair.

On Saturday, 12th inst., the members of the L. O. Order here and at Belfast went to Clinton to commemorate the two hundredth anniversary of the battle of the Boyne. Quite a number of our residents also went to assist. They came home in the evening well pleased with what they heard and saw, there being a very large concourse of people from all parts of the county. It is a day which will be kept for a long time in memory by very many of those who took in the affair.

Mr. Neil Bethune, eldest son of Mr. Colin Bethune, Grand Trunk agent at Seaford, has recently been promoted to the very responsible position of travelling auditor of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railway, with headquarters at Chicago. Mr. Bethune is another of the young men who is doing credit to his native country abroad and who is on the up grade.

From our own correspondent.

Bermuda Bottled.
 "You must go to Bermuda. If you do not I will not be responsible for the consequences." I must doctor. I will not be responsible for the consequences. "Well, if that is impossible, try
SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE NORWEGIAN
 COD LIVER OIL.
 I recommend it for all cases of
CONSUMPTION,
 Bronchitis, Cough
 or Severe Cold
 I have CURED with it; and the advantage is that the most sensitive stomach can take it. Another thing which commends it is the stimulating property which it contains.
 It is sold in all drug stores, and is also sold in a small wrapper. Be sure you get the genuine.
 SCOTT & BOWNE, Belleville.

Prescription Drug Store.
NEW GOODS!
 Quil Rennet,
 Cream of White Hazel,
 Macassar Freckle Lotion
 White Heliotrope, Wood Violet
 and White Rose Perfume,
 25c. per oz.

J. WILSON

A BRACE GAME.

Husband and Wife Arrested on a Charge of Raising a Riot.
 MONTREAL, July 16.—Joseph Berthelme and his wife, Emeline Narbonne, have been arrested on a serious charge. About two weeks ago a butcher at St. James' market sold 58 cents worth of meat to a woman and gave her the change for a Bank of Hochelaga $10 bill, and it was not until some time after that he discovered that the bill was useless, or rather had been raised from a $1 bill. He did not see the woman again. This woman, Narbonne, subsequently went into Leclair's saloon, on the corner of Ontario and Jacques Cartier streets, and asked for change for a $50 bill. Leclair gave it but found shortly afterwards that he had been duped, as the bill had been raised from a $5 bill. He followed the woman home and made her give up the change, at the same time retaining the bill. He then notified the police, who placed her and her husband under arrest. Search in the house revealed a wooden box containing a portion of thirty British ten-shilling notes for the work of raising bank notes. Their 4-year-old boy went with them to the cells. They appeared before Judge Desjardins yesterday morning, but the case was postponed. It is supposed Berthelme is the same person who some time ago tried to work off a supposed $30 bill upon N. Michaels.

RAILWAY SUBSIDIES.

The Amount Expended Since Confederation by the Dominion Government.
 OTTAWA, July 16.—An amended return has just been issued showing the amount of money expended by the Dominion in each province since Confederation to June 30, 1889, as subsidies to railways, excepting the Canadian Pacific main line and Sault branch:
 Ontario.....$1,970,846
 Quebec.....2,438,344
 New Brunswick.....690,118
 Nova Scotia.....1,184,817
 British Columbia.....720,000
 And for the several railways built by the Dominion in each province, including inter-colonial branches and extensions, but not the main line as originally constructed:
 Quebec including purchase of Riviere a Loup branch.....$5,320,328 95
 New Brunswick.....3,371,964 74
 Nova Scotia.....7,281,070 19

Charged with Horse-stealing.
 BRANTFORD, July 16.—Daniel Johnston is under arrest charged with having stolen a horse, buggy and harness, the property of Smith Bros., from Brickmaker Waghorn of Newport, to whom the rig had been let.

The Seguin Launched.
 OWEN SOUND, July 16.—The new steel steamer Seguin, built by the Polson Iron Works Company here for the Harry Sound Lumber Company, was successfully launched at 2 1/2 o'clock. The launch was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators.

Remarkable Testimonials.
 ELSNORE, March 28, 1889.
 J. M. McLEOD: Dear Sir,—I have a brother who is very ill. He has been ailing off and on for about six years. His is a very bad case of dyspepsia. His stomach will not hold any food, and he is suffering great pain at times. He is also very constipated. He is just home from a two week's stay in the Toronto hospital, where he received no benefit. He is so wasted that he is hardly able to walk. Will your Renovator be good for him?
 Yours, R. NELSON.

ELSNORE, July 11, 1889.
 J. M. McLEOD: Dear Sir,—My brother did not take your medicine until lately, and he finds it doing him good. Kindly send two $1 bottles of your Renovator this time, per express.
 Yours, etc., R. NELSON.

ELSNORE, August 6, 1889.
 DEAR SIR,—My brother continues to be a little better. He has not vomited lately. His bowels are in a dreadful state. Send Renovator same as last.
 Yours, etc., R. NELSON.

ELSNORE, Jan. 15, 1890.
 J. M. McLEOD: Dear Sir,—I thought I would write myself this time and let you know how I am getting along. Your Renovator has done me a lot of good. I have gained in flesh and strength a good deal. I gained from 125 pounds, to 145 pounds, and I am strong enough to do the ordinary work around the barn, etc.
 Yours, etc., JAMES NELSON.

FINE PRINTING PAPERS AT SIGNAL

SHOT ACROSS HER BOWS.

FRESH TROUBLE ON THE NEWFOUNDLAND COAST.

An Island Cruiser Fires at a French Fishing Brig Caught in the Act of Securing Bait—Serious Complications Likely to Result.

NEW YORK, July 16.—A special to The Journal, from Halifax, says: "It is rumored here to-day that there has been fresh trouble, the most serious yet reported, between the French and English on the Newfoundland coast. It is said that the Newfoundland cruiser Fiona, which has been recently put into commission to patrol the coast for the purpose of enforcing the bait act, has had a conflict with a French fishing brig from St. Malo, France.

The story is to the effect that on Friday the Fiona discovered the Frenchman in North Bay, on the south coast, securing bait. Immediately on seeing the Fiona the Frenchman made sail. The cruiser followed, and a lively chase ensued. The Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow. The Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St. Pierre-Miquelon, it may be given weight, but it is difficult to get the fact by the hurried departure this morning from here of Her Majesty's ship the Bellerophon, the flagship of the North American squadron and two other men-of-war from St. Johns, Nfld. The French consul here, when the Frenchman refused all signals to lay to, and as a consequence the Fiona fired a shot across her bow, the Frenchman still paid no attention, and finally escaped to Little Miquelon. As this story comes from a French source in St.