DELVILLE WOOD CAPTURED BY BRITISH.

LONDON, July 28. The British troops have captured Delville Wood in its entirety, a British official statement announced this afternoon. This German position in the Somme region had been defended by the Brandenburg regiment, which was driven out.

The last German stronghold of Longueval has been captured by the British troops, according to an official statement given out to-night by the War Office. Hand-to-hand fighting continued throughout the day in the vicinity of Pozieres, the statement adds.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

PARIS, July 28. Russians reconnoitering at Aubervain in the Champagne, says a French official statement, penetrated the German trenches and cleared them with hand grenades. The Russians took some prisoners. A German attempt to attack near Lihons, north of Chaumont, was frustrated by French infantry fire. On the right bank of the Meuse in Verdun region, German preparations to attack Thiaumont were stopped by artillery fire. Two German aeroplanes were shot down in the Somme region.

PARIS OFFICIAL.

PARIS, July 28. An attack by Germans against the French positions south of Sainte Marie Pass, in the Vosges, resulted in their gaining a lodgement in the advanced French trenches. The statement adds, however, that later the Germans were driven out with the bayonet. Progress for the French on the right bank of the Meuse is reported.

WAR OFFICE REPORT.

LONDON, July 28. The following report was issued by the War Office to-day: Two of our gunboats were fired on from the banks of the Euphrates River at Khidr. Our boats replied, inflicting casualties. A naval officer and five of our men were wounded.

AUSTRO-GERMAN FRONT BROKEN UP.

LONDON, July 28. Russian forces have broken up the entire Austro-German front west of Lutsk, says a Reuter despatch from Petrograd. The Austro-Germans were routed, the despatch adds, and 9,000 men, including two generals, and 16 guns, captured.

PURSED BY THE RUSSIANS. PETROGRAD, July 28.

The Austro-German forces, driven from the line of the Rivers Slonavka and Boidurecka, in Southern Volhynia, fled in the direction of Brody pursued by the Russians, says an official statement given out to-night by the War Office. Explosions and fires have been observed at Brody.

Brody, in Galicia, 58 miles north-east of Lemberg, has been occupied by the Russian troops, says an official statement given out to-night.

DECIDED TO LAY MINES.

LONDON, July 28. The Swedish Government has decided to lay mines, beginning on Saturday, in the channel between Brogrund Light and Cape Falsterborg, says a Reuter despatch from Stockholm. Brogrund Light is south of the Island of Lonsort, south of Stockholm, while Cape Falsterborg is on the southern extremity of Sweden, southeast of Melmo. The distance in nautical miles from the light to the Cape is probably more than 300 miles.

EXECUTION CAUSES INDIGNATION.

LONDON, July 28. The execution of Capt. Fryatt has caused great indignation throughout Holland, says a Reuter's despatch from Rotterdam. It is generally compared with the execution of Edith Cavell. The Amsterdam Telegraph says that the execution was the cause of no surprise, but excites horror and indignation at a crime which is as mean as shooting the brave English nurse, and a burning shame which calls for vengeance.

LAURENCE GINNELL, M.P.

LONDON, July 28. The appeal which he had made to prisoners, describing them as martyrs and demonstrations held by prisoners when he visited them, were given as reasons by the Crown Attorney why Laurence Ginnell, M.P., had been refused permission to visit Irish prisoners in England, when the hearing of the charge against him of attempting to gain admission to Knutsford Barracks, was resumed in Bow Street Police Court to-day.

BIRDS AND CATS.

Who does not love the singing birds? I spend much time admiring their notes, which, though minus words, are cheerful and inspiring. The nightingale and bobolink, the thrush, the wren, the linnet? The phonograph is on the blink—these feathered songsters skin it. The birds not only warble tunes that have carried going; they eat

the bugs that eat the prizes and all things green and growing. To guard the birds we truly should adopt some stringent measure, and make their lives, in field and wood, one golden round of pleasure. But we are raising cats to burn, all useful methods dodging; and nothing that a cat can earn will pay its board and lodging.

The cats kill off the orioles, the robins

and the thrushes, and tear their bodies full of holes, with eager claws and tushes. The bird kills off the buzz and grubs and by the cat is smitten, and we should take our choice of clubs, and slay the cat and kitten.

What Are You Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."

"That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylax and Zylax Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylax at your druggists."

Sir Edward Morris.

Newfoundland Premier's Speech in London.

Sir Edward Morris, Premier of Newfoundland, was the guest at luncheon on Friday, June 30, at the American Luncheon Club in London. Prime Minister for eight years, a member of the Cabinet for twenty years, Sir Edward is one of the vigorous little Dominion's most versatile and energetic personalities.

Replying to the toast of his health, cordially honoured by a gathering of 200, he spoke of the two years of war we were now reaching as our time of preparation. We were ready now, we had got the men and the guns, and when we started someone would get badly hurt. (Cheers and laughter.) He had just come from the United States. The leading men in every walk of life there were with us in the night. What the Empire had now to keep in mind was how best to consolidate its many outposts after the war. We would have to maintain an Army and a Navy which would command the respect of our present Allies. They must be drawn from the whole Empire and maintained by the Empire. (Applause.)

We must have an Empire tariff which would encourage the development of our vast resources in raw material, make us self-supporting, and ensure to the producer a proper return for his enterprise and to the worker a comfortable life ("Hear, hear.") But never again must the Empire be unprepared for her enemies.

Our Baseball Column.

PLAGIARISED AND OTHERWISE.

In the outfield dare's Cecil Hunt; A good little man is O'Brien; An' Maclean he's beautiful, and when De ball he hit, dey mak' da catcha so fine.

Den, here's where I drink to dese boys, And to their colors, de old blue and white. Dey grabba de Reid Cup Wednesday, An' dey'll getta de Pennant all right.

We thought we had been very good to the Wanderers all along, Mr. W. Supporter, and we did not know before that we are invidious. If we have hurt their feelings in the past, they hurt our feelings very much now by asking us to publish this jumbled French-Canadian-Eye-talian poem (7), but we are anxious to keep Capt. Tim and his crew in the limelight at all costs, and the readers of this column will accept our apologies for the fiction imposed on them by the publication of the above.

"A Reader not a Baseballer" wants to know the meaning of the word "fan." From the appearance of the paper and its delicate perfume we judge it is a lady enquirer. In reply to the fair one, if such our correspondent be, we have to say that a Fan is a baseball enthusiast. Other synonymous terms would be—A Bug, a Nit, Squirrel Chowder, or a Cranium Cupple.

J.V. asks us the following play:—Man on first base. Batter hits to first baseman, who touches first before runner gets there. In the meantime the man on first runs for second and stops half way between. The first baseman makes a return throw to the second baseman, who touches second before the runner arrives at the base. Is the runner out on a force? Decidedly not, as when the batsman was retired first base is unoccupied and the runner has the option of returning there or continuing to second base, and must be tagged before being declared out.

Keeping score is merely improving opportunity. The fan who fails to do it misses half the game. Most spectators watch a great play with an interest which, however intense, is forgotten in the thrills of the next inning. They leave the grounds with a hazy idea of a rather enjoyable afternoon. Keeping score remedies all this. It burns the play into the memory. It greatly increases the spectators' knowledge of the game. It increases to just that degree his pleasure in watching a contest. And best of all, it is a pleasure in itself, not the disagreeable thing it seems. A few simple rules, practice—and keeping score becomes second nature to the fan. (From the B.B. magazine)

Pedestrians may walk from St. John's to St. Anthony, but the longest walk in the world is from the plate to the players' bench—following a strikeout.

Don't forget the double-header for the C. of E. Orphans on Wednesday forenoon and afternoon. Try to attend one of the games, or if you can't, send price of your tickets to this office. Every little helps the orphans.

Allied Warships Water For U-Boat Deutschland

Sailing of Submarine. Postponed. Some Mysterious Reason—Forecast of Cruisers is Drawn Around. Virginia Capes. Baltimore, Md., July 22.—It is explained to-day that some mysterious set-back, some difficulty known only to Captain Paul Koenig and to the officials of the Eastern Forwarding Company agents of the Deutschland, has been encountered to prevent the sailing of the merchant submarine, which was undoubtedly scheduled for a voyage in a few days. There is nothing wrong with the boat or mechanism. The cargo, with the exception of the reported shipment of food to the central powers, is aboard, and as the gold need not necessarily have been carried back by the Deutschland, it is not thought insurance troubles, causing the delay. Something momentous has happened. Shore legends to the sailors, revolved several nights ago has been granted again. Even social activities have been resumed. Palpably the Deutschland is comfortable in her berth and may remain there indefinitely.

CRUISERS SPREAD A SNARE

Allied Warships Ready to use Nets, Aeroplanes, Norfolk Hears.

Norfolk, Va., July 22.—The possibility that not many hours after a submarine trader Deutschland takes a mole-like way out beyond the summit afforded by United States territorial waters may figure in the event even more startling than her arrival as the pioneer submarine merchantman, is agitating local maritime circles.

How You May Throw Away Your Glasses

The statement is made that the hands wear eyeglasses who do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunate, then the glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription:—Get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Solve one Bon-Opto tablet in a glass of water. With this liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily, and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyes, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it. You may strengthen your eyes that glasses will be necessary. Thousands who are of nearly 50, or who wear glasses that never have required them, if they are careful for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not be one of these victims of neglect. Glasses are only like crutches and a few years they must be discarded to the ever-increasing weakened condition. Better see if you can like many of our get clear, healthy, strong magnetic eyes through the prescription here given. Valma Drug Co., of Toronto, will fill above prescription by mail, if you do not want to wait. A postcard. Chey (Toronto) to whom the above advertisement is sent, and Bon-Opto is a very good remedy. Its constituent ingredients are prepared by the most scientific methods and are of the highest quality. I feel that the best of regular use is almost every family.
