THE GIANTS WIN.

Once more the New York Giants, under the leadership of John McGraw, known as the Little Napoleon of the Diamond, head the National League after their victory over Brooklyn yesterday 3 to 0.

The World's Series between them and the Yankees take place in New York on Oct. 10th.

DRAW IN THE CUP SERIES.

The largest crowd for the series turned up last night to see the Guards and Cadets battle for the Tie Cup honors. There was little or no wind so that playing conditions were ideal except that the final stages of the game were played not without difficulty in the rapidly darkening twilight. It resulted in a scoreless clash, but at that it was unanimously conceded that the Guards played fine around the champions, and at times had them tied up in knots. They might have won easily had their boots been equipped with rubber-soles. As it was, all their numerous tries were either too high or too wide. The Cadets forwards seemed to lack their old time vim and control, and were obviously on edge. As a matter of fact they never seemed to have got going at all, as all their attempts to do so were cleverly frustrated by the Guards' defence, of which Nuts Ellis was easily the "Ace". Referee Churchill got the game away just past 6 o'clock. The Cadets elected to defend the eastern goal, and defined it they had to for the greater portion of the half. The opening of hostilities was a bad miss by Jimmy Young. Walter Callahan made a good try but was too hard pressed to make it as effective as usual. Then his brother tried an aimless long. One Thistle held up the game for a few minutes by getting a kick in the broad-basket. When play was resumed, Charlie Quick had a try but it was a wild one. Meany and Walter then got in some splendid combination with the result Walter got through with a fast one which Joyce cleverly stopped. Play was then for some time confined to the blue and red territory. Clouston was presented with an open goal on a pass from Dick Quick, emerging from a scrum, but passed it. Next thing a foul was blown against him, but nothing resulted. Canning then emulated his example. The Guards now were in full control of the game and were permitted to do all the free kicking they cared. The period ended with Quick having a good try, and Clouston getting another favorable opening, but missed it. The half had been a strenuous one for both and all were glad of the brief respite obtained.

On the kick-off the Cadets began to rush matters, when Maddigan tried a high one from centrefield. It hopped in front of the goal and very nearly went through on for Joyce's extreme height. He managed to finger it so that it just went over the crossbar. Meany had the opportunity of his young life in front of the goal but missed it. Next to try his luck was Charlie Quick on a pass from the "baby," but it went wide. Young went in a dandy hot grounder but Joyce cleared it. On Flynn being penalized for handling the ball, Quick again assumed control and his try was very nearly effective. Young tried one of his overhead "fancies" but Joyce was alert. At this point some of the players got hot under their collars. Clouston fouled Young on a throw-in, Maddigan placed it to Walter but in some manner he handled it and was blown against. Maddigan was fouled and on the place kick Flynn had two tries which Joyce cleared. Clouston then had a bang at the other end. On Rose's bad miss Flynn had a good opening but fumbled it. Dicky Quick also had a chance on a splendid pass from Clouston, but could not find the net. It was felt that when a corner was awarded against the Guards, the Cadets could force it through. It was placed by Flynn but secured by Rose who lost no time in clearing. When Clouston did a nose-dive over Kavanagh's knee Ernie Churchill was on the end and penalized the Cadets. In the closing moments of the game there was a very spirited scrum at the Guards' goal-mouth, which looked extremely dangerous until Bill Clouston got his violin cases working like a Texas mule and cleared. The final spasms were a wide by Jimmy Young and a feeble attempt goalwards by Billy Callahan.

The game will be replayed on Monday evening commencing at 8.30, with Mr. E. Churchill again in charge.

DEMPEY WON'T FIGHT AGAIN THIS YEAR, SAYS KEARNS, E

Champion's Manager Says Jack Has Earned a Rest and Will Take It. By JACK KEARNS, Manager World's Champion Jack Dempsey.

I was hardly back at the hotel Friday night after the knockout of Luis Firpo when one of my friends popped the question: "Well, what's the champion to do now?" I doubt if any one wants to put the memory of that sensational struggle at the Polo Grounds out of his mind soon. But I can see that the plans of the champion for the immediate future are of considerable interest. Therefore I shall stop, for the time, trying to get two persons to agree on the number of knockdowns in the first round, and that as best I know last now, what Dempsey is going to do.

First of all, he is going to take a rest. He has earned that, I think. Since last May the champion has been in training, most of the time hard at work. He has had two fights, one of them a fifteen-rounder, in the broiling Montana sun, the other, a desperate struggle with an almost untamed "wild bull" from South America, that was won only because the balance of strength, of power, of punching ability and downright determination to win was with my champion.

Dempsey Calm After Bout. Dempsey bore no ill effects out of the ring Friday night. When he reached his dressing room he was as chipper as ever. One newspaper man who interviewed him expressed amazement at the calmness of the champion. I suppose the interviewer thought that Dempsey ought to be jumping up and down or yelling his head off about this, that and the other thing. That was because he didn't know Dempsey. The champion's one person inside the ring and another out of it. That, I believe, has been written many times. It so happened that the proof of it was given Friday night.

When called upon to exhibit all the fury of a tiger, Dempsey can do it. Well, as I know him, I must say that his marvellous showing against the wild man from Argentine amazed me. I have been accused of being over enthusiastic in my estimation of the champion. No one can say that again.

Won't Fight Again This Year. I am not prepared to say definitely whether Dempsey will fight again this year. Perhaps it is safe to say that unless the unforeseen happens Dempsey will not appear in the ring again until next year.

There is that matter of a fight proposition offered us by Jim Coffroth of Tijuana. He wanted a Dec. 1 date. I do not think we could get together on that one. Coffroth also has suggested a date in January. This would suit me better and, I believe, give the Tijuana promoter a better break all round. We may settle upon this in a few days. Coffroth is here in the Hotel Belmont where I am stopping, so it will not be a difficult matter for us to get together at least for a discussion of dates and purses.

About opponents, Coffroth suggested Wille or Gibbons. Wills just about forfeited whatever claim he had to a fight for the championship by the tactics his manager used in trying to stop the Dempsey-Firpo fight.

I understand Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, is here to try to arrange for a return match for his man with the champion.

Gibbons Proved His Right.

That suits us, of course. Gibbons proved his right to the fight when he stored fifteen rounds with Dempsey at Shelby. Those who saw the champion at the Polo Ground, and realize the fury of his attack, will probably be ready now to give credit, as we have always done, to the Gibbons defensive tactics that enabled him to stick it out with the champion.

"I have an idea that a good many people would be interested in finding out whether Gibbons could do it again. Wherever the fight will be staged, I am sure it will draw a crowd."

After I get my affairs in shape here and I plan a trip to California, where the champion and I have several business interests. Before I leave, however, I expect to make a definite statement on just what the fight situation is as far as the champion is concerned.

As a parting reminder, I would like to say that Dempsey is still the champion of the world, and he's still DEMPEY. If you doubt me, ask Luis Firpo.

LLOYD GEORGE RECEIVES A GREAT SEND OFF.

LONDON, Sept. 29. An impressive farewell oration was given Lloyd George at Waterloo station as he and party left to sail for Canada. A crowd of admirers cheered the former Premier as they did in his days of greatest popularity. His compartment in the train was banked with flowers, while Mrs. Lloyd George and Megan were showered with flowers and gifts. With his patriarchal flowing white hair his bright lavender ulster reaching to the ground and his weather beaten bowler hat, the former Premier presented a striking figure as he was escorted to the train. "Look after the old country while I am gone," he admonished friends.

CANADIAN PRIME MINISTER ARRIVES IN LIVERPOOL.

C. N. RAILWAYS WILL GO THE LIMIT IN MOVING WESTERN CROP.

TORONTO, Sept. 29. "We are on the job and prepared to go the limit in assisting the movement of the western grain crop. We will cut our rates to bone so far as is consistent with good business but it must be remembered we are not philanthropists," such is the summary of the attitude of the Canadian National Railways toward the situation which has arisen out of the recent refusal of the American ship owners to come under the Canadian Tariff Filing Regulations as explained last night by Sir Henry Thornton. It is understood several American ship owning firms have given an assurance that they would be prepared to handle Canadian wheat, with the result that twenty-seven million bushels will move eastward in American bottoms before the close of navigation.

A Distinguished Visitor

The Hon. Edmund Harmsworth, M. P., the only surviving son and heir of Viscount Rothermere, and nephew of the late Lord Northcliffe, accompanied by his personal staff and two friends Messrs. L. D. Belanger and R. Redhead arrived by special train this morning from Grand Falls. The Hon. Mr. Harmsworth and party since their arrival in the country from Canada have spent a very interesting week inspecting the A.N.D. Co's undertakings at Grand Falls, Bishop Falls, and Terra Nova. The party who leave today by S.E. Rossland en route to New York, lunched at the Crosbie Hotel. Interviewed by the Telegram Hon. Mr. Harmsworth stated that he was very much impressed with all he had seen. He likes the country very much and is intimated that this visit would be probably become an annual affair. He had a two days outing on the Trepasie and succeeded in shooting a goose whilst another of the party secured a loon. Questioned regarding politics in the Home land the distinguished visitor said he was a Conservative, but an Independent one. He has been twice elected and at present is member for the Isle of Thavet, Kent. During his few hours stay in the city, Hon. Mr. Harmsworth was taken to such points of interest as Bowring Park and Ballynally by Major Sullivan. On arrival at New York he expects to be joined by his wife who is on the way out from England.

Outlook Fairly Promising

Mr. Gerald Doyle, the popular representative of Dr. Chase, Medicine, who has been on a business trip to the West Coast, returned by train yesterday. Mr. Doyle visited all the important points between Placencia and Port aux Basques. Speaking to the Telegram to-day he stated that on the whole the outlook was fairly promising for the people, this was made possible by the very good shore fishing at most places.

Work Starts on Moffatt Tunnel Thro' Rockies

DENVER, (A. P.)—With the bonds financing the construction of the Moffatt tunnel through the Great Divide delivered to the New York buyers, the actual work on the big bore already has been started. Despite the fact that prospective bidders for the construction work were granted a delay in which to prepare their estimates, work at the tunnel site has not been postponed, according to President William P. Robinson of the tunnel commission.

The tunnel will be well underway before snow flies," President Robinson said. "Eighty men are employed, about 40 at each portal. The camp is nearing completion; a water system is being installed which will be adequate for all purposes, and a preliminary power plant is being set up. All of these works are to be taken over by the successful bidder, and will have saved him time in his start before winter sets in. After that the work can proceed without hindrance."

Electric power lines will be extended to both portals of the projected tunnel before October 15, instead of November 15 as planned originally. Mr. Robinson said. Duplicate lines which will carry current for 4,000 horsepower are being run so that there will be little likelihood of interruption of work from that source.

An Irish drill-sergeant was once drilling two very stupid recruits, who could not be prevailed on to keep step. Losing all patience, he at length cried out:

"If I only knew which of ye two spalpeens was out of step, I'd put him straight in the guardroom."
