THE ACTS ARE GOOD

A Number of Clever Performers at Springbank Park This Week.

It would be difficult to secure stronger park attractions or more entertaining vaudeville features than are to be found in the programme offered at Springbank Park this week. The opening performance last night was very largely attended. Merry laughter held sway throughout the evening, the excellent bill accounting for this pleasant condition of things. No stronger endorsement or recommendation can be given than to say that every act of the five is clever and entertaining. It is undoubtedly the best bill given so far this season, and few will excel it during the summer.

Gordon and Hayes, both ladies, open in "The Actress and Her Maid." It is a skit replete with bright sayings, music and lively action. Max Royer and Elita French will run a close race for the leading feature on this week's programme. They are able exponents of comedy, singing and dancing, and succeeded in winning hearty applause. The audience enjoyed Mack and Elliott as of yore. In a playlet entitled "The New Minister," Mr. Mack proved his general adaptability by playing his part with good comedy effect. Miss Elliott succeeded admirably. Her pleasing personality and decided ability won hearty applause. Armstrong and Holly, in their singing and dancing act, are exceedingly funny. Grotesque dancing and a melange of songs and character comedy work met with a good reception. The Warsaw Bros. as a musical team are hard to beat. Not alone with their instruments do they please, but their comedy work is delightful. The act is varied and refreshing and deserves the applause that crowns their efforts. The bill is certainly the most pretentious of any this season.

Wanted, from $100 upward. Will pay seven per cent. Gilt-edged security. See advertisement of Colonial Cement Co., Limited, of Warton, page 2.
