David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, made this momentous declaration tonight at the annual meeting of the National Liberal Club. The land question has been Mr. Lloyd George's hobby, and the Conservatives have accused him of being ambitious to introduce the Henry George system of taxation in Great Britain. # BEATTIE NESBITT DEAD; IS FREED OF THE CHARGES

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at Toronto an Hour After Courts Had Quashed Five Indictments in Connection With Farmers' Bank.

Toronto, Jan. 31.-Dr. Beattle Nesbitt, ex-M. P. P., died at 3:30 o'clock p.m. today. An hour before Dr. Nesbitt died, Judge Middleton quashed the five indictments on which he was to be tried, his lordship deciding that the charges of making fraudulent returns to the Government as president of the Farmers' Bank, upon which Dr. Nesbitt was extradited, were not cited in the criminal code.

"At that time I did not know that my client was in a dying condition," said Mr. Dewart, his counsel, this evening. "I telephoned Mrs. Nesbitt and told her that the indictments had been quashed. Dr. Neshitt was informed and seemed to understand. He gave evidence of much satisfaction that he was not to pass away with a criminal charge hanging over him. "It seems strange that we were racing against time without knowing it," concluded the lawyer.

Death Was Expected. His death had been expected daily or the past week owing to the maley lence of the heart disease and Bright's disease, which wasted the one-time genial doctor to a shadow of his former self. At noon today he became unconscious, and at 3:30 passed quietv awav.

The Farmers' Bank failure meant the end of Beattie Nesbitt. When the orders for his arrest, along with other directors, were made, he was at his summer home in Muskoka, and learning in some way of the action of the crown, fled to the United States. How he managed to elude the police was the ubject of much speculation, and although the authorities kept up the search they were unable to locate him.

After about eighteen months he was discovered in Chicago by a party of Toronto school teachers, who were visiting in the American city. He was arrested and after extradition proceedings was returned to Toronto.

It was in politics that the doctor was perhaps best known. During the early nineties his political aspirations commenced to assume definite form. With the assistance of Richard Armstrong, a well-known barrister, he formed a Conservative association, whose rooms on King street became a great rallying ground for the younger element of the party. The organization of the Young Conservative Association proper followed, and in a keen election for the presidency, Dr. Nesbitt's man, Richard Armstrong, defeated Mr. J.
