

parture said, with a smile, "How unlucky that my country friend should come in the midst of this discussion, to shew the nakedness of the land. He confessed that I had placed ecclesiastical establishments in a point of view which was somewhat new to him, and was pleased to conclude the conversation with observing, that whatever his opinion might be on ecclesiastical establishments, he loved with all his soul the Church of England."

Our departure from the shores of America was very hasty, and we had a very favourable passage. The vessel reached soundings in about seventeen days, and, in a little more than three weeks from the time of embarkation, arrived in London. Before leaving New York, I was invited by Dr. Milnor to dinner, and by Dr. Wainright to tea; but compliance was impossible. I experienced many favours from several Americans, and take this opportunity to acknowledge them. My impression, whilst in America, was, that the higher orders are in advance of the civil institutions of their country.
