

The annual statement of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, appears in our advertising columns of this issue.

"Rather Reverend" is the title suggested in England for the very large number of rural deans now in office, with a view to distinguish them from the "very reverend," the actual deans of abbots and cathedrals.

A NEW EXPRESS LINE.—It may not be generally known to our readers that it now costs but two cents to send a parcel weighing a quarter of a pound, across the continent, by mail; that eight cents will carry a pound, and that all bundles and packages not weighing more than four pounds will be forwarded by mail at the same rate.

We do not puff up everything advertised in our columns, but when an article possesses as much merit as Dobbin's Electric Soap, we gladly give our voice in its praise, as does every one who ever tried it.

REV. B. B. NEWTON.

It having pleased the Lord of all to remove from earth, after a life of nearly threescore and ten years, the Rev. B. B. Newton, his brethren in the ministry, assembled for the last Christian rites, bear witness to the blameless life which the departed has led among us, to his meekness and lowliness, and to his faithfulness in long service as a Deacon in the Church of Christ; and they rejoice in the trust that living in faith on the Son of God, the life on earth has been exchanged for the bliss of Paradise; the earthly ministry for higher service in the kingdom of our God.

Resolved, that the Secretary convey to the family of the bereaved this minute, with the assurance of our sympathy, and a remembrance in our prayers to the God of the widow and the fatherless; also that a copy be sent to the Churchman and THE CHURCH JOURNAL for publication.

Brooklyn, Jan. 19, 1875.

In New Haven, 29th ult., at the residence of his brother-in-law, the Rev. Dr. Beardsley, Dr. H. W. E. MERRIS, a prominent and highly esteemed physician of that city.

He was born on St. Simon's Island, Georgia, Dec. 16th, 1827, nine days after the death of his father, the Rev. Edmund Matthews. Receiving his preparatory education at the Episcopal Academy in Chesler, he graduated from Trinity College, 1847, and commenced the practice of his profession in New Haven, 1848; immediately after completing his medical course at Yale. Few men have left behind them a better professional reputation. By those who knew him the same will ever be associated with strict moral and Christian integrity; and with all those qualities which make up a cheerful, generous, sympathetic, and kind-hearted friend.

LOOK TO THE NUMBERS.

Many subscriptions expire about this time. Subscribers will please watch the numbers on the printed tags accompanying their papers, and remember that our terms are payment in advance.

Table with 2 columns: Amount and Date. 1145 is. Jan. 7, 1146 is. Jan. 14, 1147 is. Jan. 21, 1148 is. Jan. 28, 1149 is. Feb. 4, 1150 is. Feb. 11.

Many of our subscribers are dilatory in sending the cash for their renewals. And some, when they do remit, say they have been waiting for their bills. Please do not wait. The number on the printed tag gives the date of the time of renewal. Please remit at once, and save us needless delay, expense, and trouble.

Hereafter all remittances for subscriptions will be promptly acknowledged by receipt or postal card, as we frequently find it impossible to correct the figures on the tags in the same week that the money is received. Owing to a press of business our labels are not yet quite correct for 1875, but they soon will be.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

In consequence of the new Postal law—which requires that the postage on all publications shall be prepaid at the office of mailing instead of at the office where they are received—we have to request our subscribers, in remitting for advance payments, to add 20 cents for one year's postage. This arrangement, of course, will not add to the present price of subscription, and will be a convenience to subscribers.

Advertisements to secure insertion the same week, must be in our office not later than 2 o'clock on Mondays.

Back Numbers Wanted.

The following back numbers of THE CHURCH JOURNAL are wanted to complete files now in hands of the binder:

We are pleased to be able to call the attention of the readers of the JOURNAL, to the twenty-second annual statement of that old and reliable Company, the Travelers of Hartford, in this week's issue.
