SUCKLING, CASSIDY & CO.

Mercantile Summary.

It is probable that the mill at Chambly, which has been shut down for some time, will shortly resume operations.

In order to prevent their insurance rates being raised, Kingston city council has decided to purchase a chemical engine at a cost of $9000.

The Oakville Leather Co. is a new concern, organized with a capital of $12,000, for the purpose of making some special kinds of leather. This will in no way interfere with the existing business of Marlatt & Armstrong who have a controlling interest in the new enterprise.

The firm of Brown, Wright & Co., manufacturers of slippers, at Berlin, has been dissolved.—McClellan & Richardson, general storekeepers at Sutton, have dissolved, the former continues the business. In Toronto, Harton & Hustwit, grocers, have dissolved. Jas. Harton continues.

The world moves. Fenelon Falls has plate glass windows 7x12 feet for Mr. McArthur's handsome new block. One of the stores will be occupied by Mr. S. Nevison, another by Mr. Blott, the third by Mr. George Quibble and the fourth by Mr. J. A. Todd, a watchmaker and jeweller from Barrie.

The Cyclone Pulverizing Company, whatever that may mean, is seeking incorporation under letters patent, with headquarters at Montreal and a capital of $150,000. The incorporators are Messrs. J. McDougall, M. E. Ross, W. Costigan, J. Cooper of Montreal, and W. C. Halsey, of New York.

Two sweeping fires, at Southampton, Ont., on the 4th, and at Calgary, N. W. T., on the 7th, destroyed a great part of each place. Some thirty buildings were burned at Southampton and twenty or more at Calgary. The latter place had but little fire protection. The loss of property is put down at $103,000 with insurance of $24,000.
