

On Pope's retirement through ill-health in 1925, he was granted, in lieu of the then customary sick leave and retirement leave, a special retirement allowance of $8000 for the first year of his retirement. He did not live to enjoy a second year's allowance or pension. (1)

(1) Auditor General's Report. 1926.