

Look out and contemplate the rising orb of day has sent to herald his coming, in hues of brightest hope.

Or, view these varied scenes under the heaven-born influence of a moon-lit night ; and, oh, what mind would not soften its thoughts to tears, in that holy contemplation of Nature and of God !