the Bourgeois were admitted to fit in common with themselves?

De Lothiniere. I do not apprehend they would object to that, if it was the King's pleasure so to have it-

Mr. T. Townshend. Have they been displeased with the English law?

De Lotbiniere. While the circumfrances of lands have been left to the Canadian laws, they like the English judicature very well.

FOREIGN NEWS.

NEW-YORK, Dec. 28.

To the politoness of Capt. Rudd, of the ship Richmond, Melfrs Rossier and John M'-

Pherson and Co. we are indebted for files of the Journal de Commerce, Gazette de France, and several other French papers to the 12th November inclusive, but notice nothing material. They seem pretty generally to be filled with accounts of the brilliant reception the first conful met with in his visit to Havre; and the compliments paid to Madame Bonaparte in hervilits to the theatre.

The most interesting relates to Switzerland. The diet of Schwitz no longer exists: the advanced guard of the 27th deini brigade had arrived at Zunich, and one other demi brigade was on its march for Lucern. The diet was dissolved on the 28th of October, in consequence of the last categorial declaration of Gen. Rapp, together with the approach of the French troops towards the place of its sitting. It separated against the will of its president, the samous Aloy's Reeding, who would have preserred war.

Orders are issued to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to enroll a certain proportion of the sensibles and other corps, with the troops of the line, as appears under the London head of the 5th of Nov. Not one word is said about America, or its concerns.

A letter from New-Orleans, of a recent date, flates-that a gentleman had juft arrived from Bordeaux, who flated that arrangements were making by France to take possession of the colony with 10,000 troops-that the command had been offered to general Bernadotte, but owing to a difference between him and the sins Consul, the command was given to Gen. Victor, and the troops would fail in October-

Dec. 29. Captain Bunker of the brig Betfey, who arrived here yesterday, in 15 days from Cape Francois, informs that a few days previous to his failing, a number of transports arrived there full of troops from France, and that the blacks had attacked the Mole but were repulsed with great loss.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman on board the thip Hazard, Rowen, of Prowidence, to his friend in Boston, dated, Valperalo prison, April 16, 1802.

"By this opportunity I inform you of my misfortunes, as well as of a number of my countrymen. On the 1st of April we were boarded by the Spaniards, and were plundered and affaulted; feveral were shot and stabled, others cut and beat in a very cruel manner. The captain had his coat torn off his back; and we were all thrown into prison without a rag of cloaths to wear."
