

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

STREET LINES NOT MARKED

Hamilton Builders Find It Hard Not to Encroach on City Property.

Owners of buildings which encroach on the city's street lines will in future be forced to pay a rental of ten per cent of the assessed value of the land encroached upon. This principle was laid down this morning by the board of control. It developed that street lines in this city are not marked in any way, and that builders frequently have great difficulty in finding out the street limit of the property. In one case it was stated a manufacturing concern had built on a frontage of fifteen feet belonging to the city.

A $4000 autopatrol wagon for the police department, was decided upon by the controllers this morning. The order for the car goes to an American firm.

Up to C. M. Hays.

Mayor Lees has notified that President Chas. M. Hays of the Grand Trunk has accepted the invitation to be the guest of honor at a banquet at the Royal Hotel next Saturday, when the big railroad comes here to hear the city's arguments in favor of better station accommodation by the C.P.R.

The drowning of Mrs. E. H. Shepherd at the beach last summer is recalled by a writ for $5000 damages just issued here by Mr. Shepherd against the Turbinia Steamship Co., to whose alleged negligence the fatal accident is attributed.

WOMAN WAS RESCUED

Fire on East Queen Street Caused Flutter of Excitement.

Wild excitement and about $5 damage resulted when fire broke out in the rear of the Prince George Pressing Parlor, at 14 East Queen-street at 12.10 o'clock this morning. The alarm was turned in by Patrol Sergeant Luton, who heard a woman scream and saw her upon the ledge of the second storey window. He shouted to her not to jump, and running to the patrol box phoned in an alarm.

Meanwhile Policeman Clark (888) had entered the building and taken Mrs. Alward from the front first storey window. Mrs. Stock, with her young daughter and George Henry Call, who live with her in front of the first storey and Mr. Alward, who, with his wife, occupies the rear part of that floor, made their way, with the assistance of Z. Bissonette into his apartments over the barber shop at No. 116. Mrs. Hunt, who occupies the upper flat with her husband, who was not at home for the first time since they were married, was carried down a ladder by fireman.

Mrs. Stock was rather unlucky, as she had only moved into the premises Tuesday.

The fire started in a pile of hay at the rear of the cleaning shop. The cause is unknown. The shop is owned by George Malland, who does not live on the premises.

WINTER ECZEMA

Cured by Zam-Buk

Mrs. P. W. Drummond of Thetford Mines, Que., writes: "Every fall, as soon as cold weather set in, my little daughter's face and hands would be covered with rough watery patches, which before long turned into scabby sores. These would itch and smart terribly, and would remain on her face from fall until spring. This happened for three years, and we could get nothing which did her any good, until a short time ago I started using Zam-Buk, and now, after using half a box of some of the sores have entirely disappeared, leaving her skin as smooth and clear as it could possibly be."

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for ulcers, abscesses, ringworm, blood-poison, scalp sores, chapped hands, cold sores, and all skin diseases and injuries. See a box, all stores.

HONORED SUPREME REGENT.

Fully three hundred members of the four local councils of the Royal Arcanum turned out last night in St. George's Hall to tender a reception to Rev. F. T. McFadden, D.D., of Richmond, Va., supreme regent of the Supreme Council of America.

An interesting feature was the presentation and initiation of twenty-five members of the William Ray memorial club by the degree team of the Grand Council, headed by Regent J. C. Griffin and Vice-Regent J. C. McMullin.

The Height of Perfection in the Culinary Art.

Overcome by Gas. (Special.)—Two workmen, Wilbur Ludlow and Douglas Waldron, employed by the city, had a narrow escape from death when they were overcome with gas while putting in a main at Grant Hall.

20,000 Dalton's French Drip Coffee Pots Free

So that you can make coffee as it should be made

In renewing our free offer of a Dalton French Drip Coffee Pot with one tin each of Dalton's Strong Blend and Mild Blend Coffee, we have to apologize to many people in Toronto who were disappointed in not getting a pot last Fall. We thought we had an ample supply on hand—we thought we had arrangements made for a regular further supply—we were mistaken. The demand for Dalton's French Drip Coffee cleared out the visible supply in less than a week; people who tried our coffee and found how good it was—how economical when used in the Dalton French Drip Coffee Pot—told their friends, and a rush followed that swamped us. It proved to us in a week that Toronto people knew good coffee—that our coffee without the harsh inner shell—roasted by our special quick process, and ground specially to remove the chaff and for use in the Dalton French Drip Coffee Pot, was appreciated as superior to anything they had been able to get. Coffee lovers called, telephoned, and wrote to tell us so. How Dalton's French Drip Coffee had a flavor—an aroma that they had previously found unobtainable. "Not a headache in it"—"No coffee indigestion"—"So economical, too"—were some of the comments.

The Coffee Pots were all imported, and our cabled orders for larger quantities seemed to appeal to the manufacturer as an opportunity to raise prices, and finally we were told we would have to wait months for a proper supply. Then followed months of search for another manufacturer, and finally we found one, and now we are able to offer a larger pot (holds half as much again).

A cup of Dalton's French Drip Coffee—made in a Dalton French Drip Coffee Pot—is the most appetizing, wholesome, delicious beverage. This is because Dalton's Coffee is so different.

Instead of roasting Coffee in a cylinder, over a slow fire (which drives out much of the flavor), we throw the coffee through an intensely hot flame, which roasts it so quickly that the volatile oils and rich flavor are held captive in the berry. A strong air-blast colors the freshly roasted coffee and also blows away any dust or chaff. The Coffee is then ground and another air-blast drives off the inner coat or lining of the berry. It is this inner coat—tough, indigestible, and laden with Tannic Acid—that makes ordinary Coffee bitter and gives you headaches and indigestion when you drink it.

Dalton's French Drip Coffee

Dalton's French Drip Coffee

Dalton's French Drip Coffee is free of Tannin and tough fibre and contains no chicory. This is why you can drink Dalton's French Drip Coffee for every meal, every day, and be all the better for it.

It gives you all the good of the coffee—the fragrance, satisfaction, deliciousness of the finest coffee in the world. It will agree with you, even though you cannot drink ordinary coffee.

A Word About Price

We have had to increase the price of Dalton's French Drip Coffee from 40c to 50c a tin. Because the coffee markets of the world have gone away up, and faced with the problem of raising the price or reducing the quality, we unhesitatingly raised the price, knowing that you would rather have the Dalton French Drip Coffee quality maintained. Even at 50c a tin, however, used in the Dalton French Drip Coffee Pot, our coffee is cheaper than any other coffee at 35c—and the difference in quality and flavor would be enormous.

How to Make Good Coffee

Boiling drives off the aroma and increases the bitterness of ordinary coffee. The only way to make good, wholesome coffee is to use Dalton's French Drip Coffee in a Dalton French Drip Coffee Pot or Percolator. Ordinary percolators are very expensive, and are apt to get out of order. We have secured sole rights for a reliable French Drip Coffee Pot. Coffee made in Dalton's French Drip Coffee Pot is readily distinguished by its delicious aroma and the absence of bitter taste, and by the enjoyment with which people drink it who cannot drink ordinary coffee made in the regular way.

The Economy of It

Dalton's French Drip Coffee at 50c a tin is really the cheapest GOOD coffee that money can buy. Careful tests show that TWO pounds of Dalton's will last as long as three pounds of ordinary coffee when used as directed. It is economical because all the flavor is retained by our special process of roasting and grinding—but more especially because it is ALL Coffee, no chicory, no tough indigestible fibre, no tannin, no bitterness.

SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY OFFER

We feel so sure that you will find either Dalton's Mild Blend or Strong Blend French Drip Coffee just the coffee which you have been looking for that we have authorized your grocer to give you one of these handsome pots (worth $1.30) absolutely free with your first purchase of a 50c tin each of Mild and Strong Blend. You buy two tins of our coffee—one of each blend—to give it a fair trial, and we give you means of testing it FREE, satisfied that you will use nothing but Dalton's French Drip Coffee thereafter.

CITY'S GREENHOUSES TO SUPPLY HOSPITALS

Suggested That Flowers Be Sent to Gladden Patients—Orchids For Duchess.

Representatives of the city parks committee decided yesterday, while on an inspection trip, which took in the municipal greenhouses at the exhibition grounds, to recommend to the city council that the flowers from those greenhouses be sent to the city hospitals instead of being allowed to bloom and die in obscurity as at present.

Ald. Graham, O'Neill and May of the parks committee and Acting Parks Commissioner C. E. Chambers and a party of newspaper men, went on the trip. Places where it is proposed to establish public parks were gone over and discussed. At the greenhouses it was found that the flowers were seldom used, usually dying on their mother plants.

It was suggested that a bouquet of orchids from the civic hot-house specimens should be presented to the Duchess of Connaught, with the compliments of the city when their royal highnesses visit here. The duke will come here in his official capacity of governor-general of Canada, probably on Nov. 27. Wonderful progress has been made with the production of flowers since the greenhouses were opened. A great many thousand plants are now in flower and many more are in bud. The houses are open to the public.

So far as the parks were concerned, much property up along Davenport-road, which the city will probably acquire for park purposes, was visited.

Mark Hamburg at Home

Now that Hamburg is a name of local honor and repute, it may not be meet for Toronto to brag about the great pianist who revived in Massey Hall last night the great traditions of the most famous pianists of the past. But the world has already heard Mark Hamburg as among the greatest, and his program sustained and increased his reputation. The thoughtful grace and delicacy of Hofman, the brilliancy of Paderewsky, the colossal tone effects of Busoni, the tenderness and profundity of Sauer, are not lacking in work that has a charm of ease and technical purity all his own. In dynamic effect, as in the Bach-Liszt Prelude and Fugue in A minor, his powerful left hand execution recalled nothing so much as the grandeur of ocean surges plunging and plunging again, while the fugue itself recalled nothing with marvelous delicacy of tone and feeling. The Schumann Fantasia in G major displayed the poetry and imagination of the performer in the exquisite treatment of the allegro. Rose-petal softness distinguished the tones that swelled and sank in the andante, and the fute-like effects obtained in the closing passages were a triumph of cantabile. A lovely Grieg ballad preceded a Chopin suite, whose loveliness was enhanced by poetic interpretation. The extraordinary velocity of the B flat Polonaise evoked an instant encore, which was yielded to the Barcarolle following. The Liszt numbers were beyond praise, and the second Rhapsodie met with an ovation and an encore number was given.

Mr. Hamburg's father was present and evidently enjoyed his son's success. The audience was highly appreciative. A. E. S. S. presiding.

"Painting the Town." The first of the new shows to be seen by Toronto theatregoers this season will be Halliday and Curley's "Painting the Town," the offering to be presented by the Jack Singer Co. Permission was granted by the management committee of the board of education, at their meeting yesterday, to Dr. Hall of Chicago, identified with Y. M. C. A. work, to address the pupils in the schools from Nov. 4 to 7, after 4 p.m.

High schools were permitted to have one daily session on Nov. 3, on which day the finals of the High School Rugby League will be decided.

Miss A. M. Roberts and Miss Laura Thompson were promoted from the occasional staff to the regular staff of medical inspection. Miss Rogers was given permission to employ additional nurses up to 19.

Public Amusements. Miss Marie Doro will be the star at the Princess Theatre next week, opening at a special Thanksgiving Day matinee on Monday, in "A Butterfly on the Wheel," a highly interesting play which was a great success in London last season. The play deals with the subject of divorce and in London it was thought to be a plea for reform in divorce court methods. The sale of seats for the engagement, which will include usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, is now on.

New Play at Shea's. At Shea's Theatre next week, "A Romance of the Underworld" will be the headline act. Manager Shea has secured this production for a week at his Toronto playhouse. "A Romance of the Underworld" is said to be the greatest production ever attempted in vaudeville. Paul Armstrong has been so successful in the legitimate field that he was called upon to write something in vaudeville, something that would complete, not a play, but a show. This Mr. Armstrong has accomplished in "A Romance of the Underworld." It has taken a cast of 22 to make the story complete, and three scenes are shown.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS

Special Mat To-day the Grand. A special matinee performance of "The Rosary" will be given at the Grand this afternoon. The extra matinee was found necessary owing to the big demand for seats at the regular performances.

There has been a big demand for seats since the sale opened yesterday.
