

Prosperity

NOTWITHSTANDING the fact that Canada is not so big a country as we thought it was before the Alaska Boundary Commission handed in its decision, we're prosperous just the same and progressing at the rate that makes us talk large, and our friends envious of our prospects.

This fur business which we began in '64, in a very small and humble way, has grown to vast proportions, and unless we're mightily mistaken we will shortly control the whole retail fur trade of the Dominion. We have built our business as the Hudson Bay Co. built its, by buying furs direct from the hunter and trapper, only we have gone a step further and made these furs into garments on the premises. Our patrons recognize the advantage of this system when they buy from us, for that means buying wholesale, getting good quality in splendid garments at a price which a retail dealer would pay for them. To keep pace with the ever-growing business we have been forced to add extensive new showrooms, build a new factory. We're antcipating larger times. The object of this advertisement is to call your attention to these new showrooms, and particularly to the stock contained therein. Judge for yourself as to the extent and quality of this stock by calling. We declare for it: ABSOLUTELY HIGH QUALITY IN FUR, EXCLUSIVE FASHIONS, VARIETY IN FUR, SUPERIOR WORKMANSHIP.

ALASKA SEAL JACKETS: Buying seal garments is like buying diamonds—if you're not an expert you must rely on the honesty of your merchant. We wouldn't be the largest furriers in Canada if people hadn't always found us reliable. Every new Parisian design in best selected fur, $200 to $300.

PERSIAN LAMB JACKETS: A good Persian Lamb Jacket is as comfortable as it is stylish—ours are both, and the quality is assured by our guarantee, $110 to $150.

NEAR AND ELECTRIC SEAL JACKETS: A special line of Electric Seal Jackets, made of selected fur and tailored by experts, $30.

FUR GARMENTS in Russian Sable, Hudson Bay Sable, Alaska Sable, Canadian Mink, Canadian Fox, Chinchilla, Baum-Marten, Alaska Seal, Persian Lamb and every other useful foreign or native fur.

EVERY OTHER FUR GARMENT worn or sold in Paris, London or New York. Individual garments that cannot be purchased outside our establishment, at a price that is tempting.

BOY OF 13 CARRIED ON SYSTEMATIC PILFERING

Selling Needles as a Blind, His Thefts of Purse and Chatelaines Have Been Many.

A clever thieving campaign has been carried on by a young lad named Steven Prince, 19 Spadina-avenue, for the last couple of months. He was arrested yesterday morning by Detective Mackie, and is now at Planty Park Industrial School awaiting trial next Monday.

His system of robbery was a novel one, also not altogether unknown to the police. With a small pack containing needles and pins, he called at the back doors of the houses in the neighborhood. If no one was about, Prince would steal in quietly, look around, and whatever could be conveniently tucked into his pockets, that was of value, would disappear. If by chance he was suddenly confronted with an inmate, he would with all the innocence of childhood offer his pins and needles for sale. His thefts, however, consisted mainly of purses and chatelaines.

In the court yesterday morning he admitted to stealing nine of these. There are some fifteen more cases of purses missing which the police are of opinion he is responsible for. The amounts contained in the chatelaines and purses already missed range from 75c to $18.

The following residents are among those who were victims of this thieving crook: John Cresie, 256 Bellwoods-avenue, purse containing 75c; Mrs. Dunham, 44 Brunel-avenue, chatelaine containing $18, and Mrs. E. J. Roberts, 430 Euclid-avenue, purse containing $12.50.

An effort is being made by the police to secure a list of all the robberies of this nature that have occurred lately in the vicinity and they will confront young Prince with the offences.

Sturgeon Falls Paper Company at Last Gets to Work.

Sturgeon Falls, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—The Sturgeon Falls Paper Company's paper mill, which has been in course of construction here for the past six years, commenced operations this morning. A trial run was made on the machinery, and the mill was found to be in good shape. The mill is the first in Ontario to be equipped with a steam engine, and the power is supplied by a turbine. The mill is controlled by English and American capitalists, and has cost upwards of $5,000,000, and the plant which there is sufficient to produce 200,000 tons of paper in operation for 20 years. The logs are brought down the Sturgeon River to the mill, where they are stripped of bark and sawn into suitable lengths for grinding into pulp. This mill is the first in Ontario to manufacture its own pulp and paper at the one mill. The supply is largely spoken for by American newspapers, and the product will nearly all be exported to the United States. Some of the raw pulp may also be exported. On Saturday the employees of the mill and spent the evening in conviviality. About 400 men are expected and 50 tons of papers will be manufactured daily.

WORKING MEN'S SUBURBS

Successful Concert in Kilburn Hall Under Auspices of Worcester Lodge, S. of E.

NEW SIDEWALKS TO BE PUT DOWN

Annexed Guild Hotel Unique Entertainment—Anson Sherman Meets With Accident

Toronto Junction, Oct. 26.—Worcester Lodge, No. 47, S. O. E., held a very successful concert in Kilburn Hall this evening. Bro. E. Ward, D.D.B.O.P., presided, and the program was most enjoyable.

The Works Committee of the Town Council met tonight and discussed the plan of new sidewalks to be laid on St. Clair-avenue near Elizabeth-street and the street-foreman is to use the grade on Laws-street. The foreman was also instructed to report on the cost of cement walks in front of the Dayvont Methodist Church and on the west side of Pacific, south of Annette.

The Alumni Association of the College Institute have fixed the date of their annual at home for Nov. 20. The Alumni Guild of Annetstreet Methodist Church held a unique entertainment to-night in the form of an oriental trip. Parties started out from the Annetstreet church and visited home missions in the residence of Rev. T. E. Sherrin, Indian mission in the residence of Dr. Martin, Chinese in the residence of T. Jackson and Japanese in C. W. Bate. The above residences were made to look like the countries mentioned by means of curious costumes of the inmates, etc.

Anson Sherman crushed his great toe at the Wilkinson Flow Works by dropping a 10 lb. timber on it about 10 o'clock this morning.

East Toronto, Oct. 26.—The special meeting of the Town Council was not held owing to the lack of a quorum.

Forest of the West, Oct. 26.—A Semgram, caught a large white horned owl at the Newmarket residence this morning. The bird stands nearly two feet high and more species of owl are reported to have been seen in the vicinity.

George Sloss, known as Le Montagne, that was badly "cut down" on the last day of the month, is reported to be recovering. Sloss, who was a member of the Club, has quite recovered and will be out for the change in the spring.

Miss Carrie Stone returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. L. Shunk of the second con., Markham.

Refering to the charge of $10 asked by Mr. Millard before he would turn the body over to the relatives, Mr. Sloss explained that it was made up in this way: The medical college is required by the act to keep the body for fourteen days before dissecting it, in case the body is claimed, and they are allowed to charge $10; the local inspector (Mr. Millard) receives a fee of $5; the general inspector (Mr. Millard), $2; and expenses incurred by Mr. Millard, $2 more, making the total $10.

Mr. Lewis claimed that there was too much haste in the matter, and that the matter should be looked into carefully. Somebody was evidently making a nice sum of money out of this, and the matter should be turned over to the dissecting table.

Mr. Howard is annoyed. Ex-Mayor Howland stated that he was aware that the act providing for the disposal of bodies in such a manner was in existence, in his opinion, and that he had been misled in the purpose of creating an office for some one, and the collecting of fees from unfortunates. At his suggestion, a deputation consisting of himself, Major Collins, Rev. J. P. Lewis, Rev. Mr. Brookman and Dr. Ryerson will wait upon the government at an early date and ask that a fund be provided for the burial of those who have fought for their country.

Mr. Howland touched on the Alaska boundary award, and said it might be necessary before long to draw a line between the sheep and the goats. By the goats, the speaker evidently meant those who were not satisfied with the award, and who, he claimed, were trying to undermine the empire, which had been the creator of Canada. He had been the creator of Canada, he said, and that the Canadian Association, Press, ever since the formation, has been trying to cause a discussion between the empire and Canada.

Will Arrange for Burial. Comrade Constance informed the meeting that Mr. Millard had the body of the body of Gilbert would be turned over to the relatives. Mr. Millard will call on Rev. Mr. Brookman to-day and arrange for the final disposal of the remains.

LOCAL BREVITIES. Owing to the absence of two members the License Commissioners postponed their meeting yesterday until Tuesday.

We sell our coal at lowest prices, deliver it carefully and we are sure you will please us. P. Barra & Co., telephone 121 and 132.

The magistrate took a pleasant view of P.C. Whitehead's adventure with "highwaymen" Grevel and Robinson, who were discharged. Whitehead was admitted to be sober and the young men as jokers.

When ordering your coal, why not order the best. We sell it, Milnes' Plymouth coal has no equal. Try a ton. 80 East King-street, near Church. Phone Main 2375, 2386, 240.

TO REQUEST GOVERNMENT PROVIDE BURIAL FUND

Ex-Mayor Howland and Rev. J. Pitt Lewis Addressed Army Veterans Last Night

Some fifty Army and Navy Veterans gathered in Occident Hall last night to discuss several questions, the principal one being the disposal of the remains of John Gilbert, the old soldier whose body was taken charge of by the medical college. Chaplain Nunn suggested that something be done to protect the old burying ground in the Garrison Common, now that this land was to be used for park purposes. The burial ground was consecrated in 1864 by the late Bishop Strachan. Referring to the disposal of Gilbert's body, he said it was a shame that the body of a veteran should be turned over to a medical college. "Canada owes it to those who have fought for her to see that they be given a Christian burial. Something should be done to protect the bodies of pensioners from body-snatchers."

Rev. J. Pitt Lewis said he had the greatest respect for those who had fought for their country. They deserve something better than that their bodies should be handed over to the medical students. While the order naturally cut indignation, they should at the same time be temperate in their language. He said that some two years ago he had called at the House of Industry and informed the superintendent's wife that in future he would provide the necessary expenses for the burial of any veteran who died in the institution. He called there yesterday, and was informed that his offer had never been made known to the superintendent, who was out of the city at the time of his former visit and when he made his offer.

Facts of the Case. Mr. Lewis, who made a careful investigation of the facts in connection with Gilbert's death, reported to the meeting that Gilbert died at noon on Oct. 22; post mortem held at 10 a.m. next day; inquest at 3 p.m., and the body taken away at 4:40 p.m. An hour and a half afterwards the widow claimed the remains. Deceased had been an inmate of the House of Industry for seven years. When he went there he told the officials he had only one relative in the city, George Harp, a nephew. He said nothing about being married, nor having a wife. When Gilbert died, Superintendent McLaughlin made enquiries, but was unable to locate Harp. He then turned the body over to Inspector of Anatomy Millard, as provided by law. Immediately after the widow claimed the body the House of Industry telephoned Mr. Millard, telling him that the remains had been claimed, and to add no expense.

How Charges Were Incurred. Referring to the charge of $10 asked by Mr. Millard before he would turn the body over to the relatives, Mr. Sloss explained that it was made up in this way: The medical college is required by the act to keep the body for fourteen days before dissecting it, in case the body is claimed, and they are allowed to charge $10; the local inspector (Mr. Millard) receives a fee of $5; the general inspector (Mr. Millard), $2; and expenses incurred by Mr. Millard, $2 more, making the total $10.

Mr. Lewis claimed that there was too much haste in the matter, and that the matter should be looked into carefully. Somebody was evidently making a nice sum of money out of this, and the matter should be turned over to the dissecting table.

Mr. Howard is annoyed. Ex-Mayor Howland stated that he was aware that the act providing for the disposal of bodies in such a manner was in existence, in his opinion, and that he had been misled in the purpose of creating an office for some one, and the collecting of fees from unfortunates.
