line; all of whom will be succeeded by Democrats.

The only senatorships remaining in doubt are those of Ohio, Indiana and Oregon, which are now represented by Senators Foraker, Hendrick and Patton, Republicans, and Colorado, Missouri and Nevada, represented by Senators Heller, Stone and Newlands, Democrats.

Governor Cummins of Iowa is about to realize his ambition of becoming a senator for that state. He has many admirers in Washington, and his appointment to the Senate is a matter of course. The result of the election will be observed with keen interest. If Indiana should send a Democrat in place of Hammer, the result would be a tie between the two parties.

The result in the house probably will show little change in numbers on the respective sides, but there will be considerable shifting in the personnel of that body. A number of surprises already have been recorded and probably the most pronounced was the defeat of Representative Republican, the eighth Iowa District, Mr. Hepburn has been in congress so long, and as chairman of the interstate commerce committee had been so prominent that he had come to be regarded as almost a fixture in Washington. He was a strong supporter of the president's policies.

Two Surprises.

Washington was quite unprepared for the retirement of C. B. Landis and Jesse Overstreet of Indiana. Both hold important committee assignments and have been so long in the service that they are well known to the Washington public. That General Sherwood, the Independent Democrat from the Ninth Ohio District, who sprang into notice during his one term through his sharp differences with his soldier colleague, General Keffer, should be retired is not so surprising, as he was elected in 1906 by the small majority of 40 votes in a district which had hitherto been overwhelmingly Republican. The second defeat of J. T. McClary by Mr. Hammond in the Second Minnesota District brings to mind the fact that he resigned his position as second assistant postmaster-general to make the recent race.

Republicans generally are delighted with their gain of two new members in the State of Oklahoma. The change will give the Republicans three of the

CANDIDATE FOR SPEAKER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Hon. Charles N. Fowler, chairman of the committee on banking and currency of the house of representatives and representative from the fifth district of New Jersey, who has just been elected for the eighth time, announces himself as a candidate for Speaker in the first congress, in the following platform:

"The house of representatives shall elect a board of managers, consisting of seven members, which shall be charged with that direction of legislation which is now assumed by the Speaker of the house."

NEW YORK FINAL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Revised tabulations of the vote for president and governor in New York State, with five districts missing for president and 14 districts missing for governor, shows a plurality for Taft (Republican) of 205,261 and for Hughes (Republican) of 205,261.

INDIANA SPLITS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—For the first time since Thomas A. Hendricks was elected governor on the Democratic state ticket and U. Grant received the electoral vote of the state for the Republican National ticket, Indiana has given a plurality to the Republican candidate for president and at the same time elected a Democratic candidate for governor. Whether Thos. K. Marshall, the governor-elect, will carry the rest of the state ticket is a matter of conjecture.

According to the latest estimate Mr. Taft received a plurality of about 15,000 and Mr. Marshall was victorious over James E. Watson, Republican candidate, by 8,000. The congressional representation from this state will be eight Democrats and five Republicans. The latest returns credit the Democrats with six and the Republicans with five members, with two districts in doubt. The result is in line with the chances favoring the Democratic candidates.

The legislature is in doubt, but is claimed by the Democrats.

JOHNSON SAFE.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 4.—The Despatch its last edition says Governor Johnson's majority will be between 10,000 and 15,000 and may exceed 20,000.

With sixty counties heard from and only a fraction of them complete, Governor Johnson had a plurality of 15,000. The result is in line with the chances favoring the Democratic candidates.

PRINCIPAL OF S. P. S. IS HIGHLY HONORED

Presentation of Portrait of Prof. Galbraith a Pleasant Function in Convocation Hall.

Occasionally a man comes into the history of his life while there is yet time to make it complete in the stimulating joy of appreciative recognition.

Prof. John Galbraith was such a man last night when amid the plaudits and encomiums of his colleagues and scholars his portrait by J. W. L. Forster was presented to the governors of the university. The presentation occurred at a meeting of the Engineering Society in Convocation Hall, President Robert J. Marshall taking the chair.

Among the members of the faculty on the platform were representatives of the board of governors were President Falconer, Sir Chas. Moss, Dean Reeve, Principal Hutton and J. M. Clark, K.C. The audience among others were J. W. L. Forster, Chancellor Burwash, Col. Delany, Dr. Kennedy, Chas. H. Rust, city engineer, Dr. Fekkenham, Mr. I. J. Cameron, Cecil B. Smith. The S.P.S. students were present in large numbers.

The proceedings, aside from the complimentary references to Prof. Galbraith, consisted largely of interesting and amusing reminiscences of the school and its faculty and students during thirty years past. The great development from the days when Dr. London, the former president, suggested its foundation until the present was dwelt upon with pride and satisfaction.

Dr. Galbraith was given sole credit for all that had resulted.

A Successful Graduate.

E. W. Starn, a graduate of 1880, and a consulting engineer in New York, known as the designer of the steel work in the Singer Building, made the presentation address. He recalled the days when he attended the school, contrasting it with the 70 of the present day. Mr. Starn humorously recalled many technical formulae floating about in his memory and aroused much laughter. He had known no failures among Dr. Galbraith's students and many who were eminently successful.

Had Dr. Galbraith chosen to follow his profession instead of teach, he would have stood at the head of his profession in Canada. Mr. Starn referred to the record of the leading United States engineering paper on the report of the commission on the Quebec bridge disaster, which it described as the ablest report in any language. Dr. Galbraith was a member of this commission.

No school on the continent got such enthusiastic approval from its students as the university favor with which Dr. Galbraith was regarded.

Dr. Hoskin accepted the portrait on behalf of the governors. Dr. Galbraith, he said, had made very great sacrifices for the school and he congratulated him on the well-deserved honor.

President Falconer also spoke in appreciative terms. Dr. Galbraith had done much to set before the Dominion the particular type of man an engineer should be. This was the thoroughly trustworthy, reliable man, who knew his work and could be depended upon wherever he was.

Can't Be Beat.

Prof. Haultain of the chair of metallurgy was the first student-president of the society 20 years ago, and he joined in the appreciative chorus.

In all his travels over the world he never met any engineer with a better foundation training than was given at Toronto.

Dr. Ellis was the next speaker and received great applause. None of those whose portraits decorated the walls deserved better of the university, he said, than the man they had met to honor.

Prof. Galbraith was greeted with cheers, the students standing and giving the faculty yell. His speech was very humorous and marked much laughter. He said plenty of wise and serious things also. He thought it was an education to have one's portrait painted by Mr. Forster and advised them all to try to recollections of past professors and tributes to old comrades were cordially received.

He thanked the donors for the honor they had done him and regretted he could not know all the names personally. He and his fellow-professors knew their peculiarities collectively.

Mr. Forster was also called upon and briefly thanked the students for the opportunity given him to make a friend of Dr. Galbraith.

NEWARK, N.J., Nov. 4.—Upon the announcement of Taft's election to-day the 6,000 operatives in two three mills in this city were notified that full time would be resumed next Monday. Since last April the mills have been running on part time.

Payment should be made at the city treasurer's office, or the usual branch offices, on or before the 10th inst. to save the penalty.

$55,000 ROYALTY.

The provincial treasurer has received a cheque for $55,000 as royalty from the O'Brien Mine for the last quarter. For the year $195,000 was paid, of which under the act of last session, 40 per cent will be paid to the Alpha Mining Company.

"Terrano" is not slippery like Tile—does not chip or crack like Tile—and has the greater advantage of being cleaner and more sanitary, because it is free of seams, which all tile floors have or develop with use.

"Terrano" can be laid so that floor and wainscoting will be one continuous sheet—fireproof and waterproof—thus enabling floors to be flushed without any water leaking through to the cellar.

"Terrano" may be applied directly to worn-out wooden floors, laid in a new house and ready for use after standing over night.

is favorable, actual operations on the property will be continued immediately.

Following is the report presented by the company for the year ending Sept. 30, 1908, your directors do so with that as rapidly as possible, but when any limited company does not report dividends paid upon its share capital.

However, your board has the consciousness of having accomplished everything that was possible under the circumstances. The year's development has been extensive, the not productive of results in high silver values that reasonably had been looked for. During the year every economy has been practised and the operations have been conducted along most approved mining lines. During the past sixty days your board has sought the advice of three eminent mining engineers, who have expressed their opinion that the examinations having been made as a matter of courtesy and compliance to individual members of the board, it is not possible to use their services in connection with their reports. However, they are men of such standing in their profession that your board has no doubt as to the accuracy of the results of their examinations with the assurance that their reports may be relied upon. In brief their conclusions are as follows:

The main workings of the property (veins 5-6) have been carried to a depth of 225 feet. While the fissure vein continues strong, indicating possibly additional vein has been discovered in the district, no high values in silver have been encountered and therefore it has been determined not to sink any more shaft at this time. It is strongly recommended by all engineers that our work of drifting out under Glen Lake be continued and prosecuted as rapidly as possible, and that the diabase contact believed to exist under the lake may be fully explored. It would only be possible to make this of the silver and gold values in the depth of water in the lake and the fact that the top of the main shaft is at a considerable elevation above the lake.

The cross-cutting from vein number 8 in the direction of veins 6 and 2 is also strongly endorsed, and since this cross-cutting has been undertaken one additional vein has been discovered which, while still running only in cobalt values, indicates the wisdom of this method of development. Only the actual work of drifting and cross-cutting can demonstrate the existence or non-existence of high values.

Your directors have aimed to make good use of the property, and in so doing have been constantly confronted with the difficulty of making statements which might be encouraging on the one hand, and on the other hand would not do full justice to the possibilities of the property. It is just such a condition that confronts the board of directors, and great possibilities as a result of the present outdevelopment. Equally true this development may not be of any greater results than during the past months, therefore it remains for your board to pursue operations along lines clearly indicated by the best engineering advice available. That it will be done expeditiously and economically is the only warrant that the board can give.

You will observe that since the last annual statement there have been no sales of treasury stock.

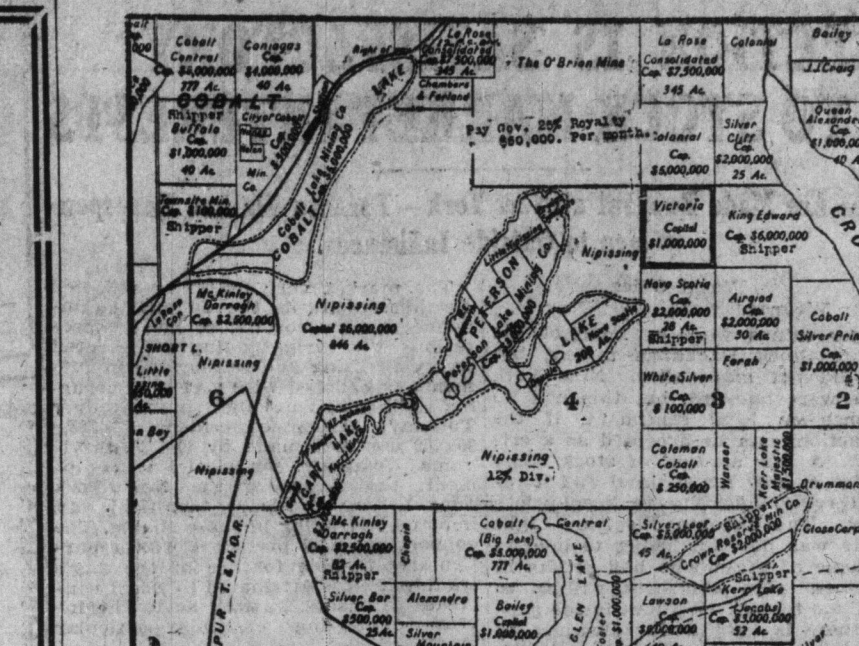

The present stock or ore on hand ready for shipment consists of about thirty tons of ore high in cobalt but low in silver. The prospect for early shipment of high grade ore is uncertain, depending entirely upon the results of the development indicated above.

The results of some concentration gone on ore from the dumps confirm the opinion of the shareholders that the values variously estimated at from $15,000 to $50,000. During the coming winter months when transportation is cheap, large quantities of this ore will be sent to the concentrator, where arrangements are in effect under terms distinctly favorable to the company.

Should the shareholders conclude to re-elect the present board of directors, a policy of rigid economy and some further reduction in cost of operation will be adopted.

The officers were re-elected as follows: John T. Kent, president; E. F. B. Johnston, vice-president; directors, Mayor J. Oliver, Simon Dymont, C. Jackson Booth, W. H. Fisher and Geo. H. Doran.
