WHEAT WEAKENS ON HEAVY SALES

Profit-Taking by Speculators Causes Declines at Chicago.

EXPECT BIG ADVANCE

Some of Hopeful Element Among Traders Grow Quite Sanguine.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Assertions that green bug damage had become general thruout Oklahoma, and that injury from Missouri, rallied the wheat market today after an early decline. Nevertheless, prices closed weak at $1.13% for May and $1.14% for July, with the market as a whole %c off to %c up compared with last night. The outcome in corn was %c shade lower, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to a rise of 25c.

Profit-taking by speculators who had purchased freely during the upturn appeared to account for the weakness in wheat at the close. Declines at the start, however, for the most part, were clearly the result of favorable weather northwest, where recently seeding has a consequence. Liquidating sales to wind up dealings in the May option tended alse to have a temporary depressing effect. Sharp upturns, tho, were witnessed as soon as despatches began to arrive telling of insect ravages in the southwest. The important point of the news regarding green bugs seemed to be that the damage would be heavy unless the weather got warm and remained so with greater continuity than usual.

Bull leaders took the position that, with the German crisis presumably out of the winter crop attracting increased attention, a decided advance was due. On the other hand, representative bears were disposed to emphasize the feadiness with which sales broadened out on any turn, and were by no means ready to concede that the difficulty with Germany could yet be wholly ignored as an influence on the market.

In the corn trade, the chief feature was selling by houses with country connections. This selling apparently reflected the prevalent favorable conditions for plowing and planting.

Oats, like corn, had an easy tone as a result, of auspicious weather. Most of BREAKEY, 243 Church.

AN OLD ADAGE is "That the proof of the pudding is in the eating." Recently I mentioned in my advertisement that on account of "turnover" I would sell cars at a very reasonable margin. Here is a concrete example. Today I learned of a 1916 Ford touring car owned by a major of one of the battalions which left for overseas a day or, so ago. The car was purchased just six weeks ago; is equipped with Yale lock and non-skid tires on rear. Owner fully intended taking it away with him, but at the last minute found that he could not do so. I happened to be the first one thought of for quick sale and purchased it "right." I can make a "reasonable profit" by selling at $400, and, altho it is worth more and I can sell it for more, without this advertisement, I just want to prove to you that I am willing to "practice what I preach." Conditional, however, that purchaser will agree not to resell car within a period of three months to other than myself without first offering to me at sale price of $400. In other words, I do not wish to sell to speculator, but rather to give bonafide user the benefit of my opportunity to buy "right." This is only one instance of many, especially since the war began. Persons who are obliged for many reasons to sell quickly, instance of many, especially since the war began. Persons who are obliged for many reasons to sell quickly, instance of many fersons who are obliged for many reasons to sell quickly, instance of the persons who are obliged for many reasons to sell quickly, instance of the persons of the city. I will not sell it before 6 p.m.. Saturday, April 29. As a matter of fact, I could sell to personal friend at the moment of writing this ad., and, anticipating many offers, the only fair suggestion I can make is to sell to one who makes the best offer and hand lealance over $400 to the Patriotic Society. Time will be taken when offers are for same amount; highest offer first in will get it. Telephone or telegraph orders with deposit at any bank will have same chance.
