"THE GHOST BREAKER."

When Paul Dickey and Charles Goddard, the authors of "The Misleading Lady," wrote "The Ghost Breaker," the merit of the piece attracted the attention of H. B. Warner, the eminent actor, who was then finishing a notable engagement with "Alias Jimmy Valentine." Mr. Warner saw that it would make an excellent stage offering, and accepted it for his next starring tour. When it was first presented in New York the press of that city went wild over it, with the result that it ran for an entire year there. This was followed by a six months' run in Chicago, and seventeen weeks in Boston afterwards, filling in an extensive road engagement. It has never been offer-Dr. Tremain's Natural Hair Resorative ed in Toronto at less than a dollar-Opera House will present this famous play, having secured the rights from the authors for this city only. In the tregoers are assured of a first-class production in every respect.

Alexander Hamilton—Father of American Credit

ANIEL WEBSTER says of Hamilton: "He smote the rock of National resources and abundant streams of revenue gushed forth; he touched the dead corpse of public credit and it sprung upon its feet." No man did more to build the Constitution of the United States than did Hamilton. He took a prominent part in every debate, and worked indefatigably on all the important committees. His genius, individuality and daring foresight are indelibly stamped upon every clause of our National Law—the law under which Americans are guaranteed for all time Religious, Commercial and Personal Liberty. During Hamilton's lifetime he used his great influence to encourage and protect the brewing industry. Among all the Fathers of the Republic none knew better than he that honestly-brewed barley-malt beers make for true temperance. This American Colossus, who was second only to Wash ington in the service rendered to his country, drank good beer all his days. We know of no one who has yet dared declare that it injured him in any way. Under the tenets of the Constitution, which Hamilton did so much to make a fact, Anheuser Busch 58 years ago launched their great institution. During these years they have honestly brewed honest beers. To-day 7500 people are daily required to meet the public demand. Their world-famed brand BUDWEISER because of its quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor, exceeds the sale of any other beer by millions of bottles. ANHEUSER-BUSCH · ST. LOUIS, U.S.A.
