MARATHONS 7
ST. JOSEPH'S 1Maroons Too Much for White and Purple Saturday--Lots of Excitement.

The fast St. Josephs went down to defeat on Saturday before the Marathons in the first game of the city championship series on the Victoria grounds, by the surprising score of 7 to 1. It was in a large measure a pitchers' battle with Gilmour considerably the better man. McGuigan was batted freely but it may be said for him that his support was at times ragged while Gilmour received good support. The white and purple team would seem to have taken the Marathons cheaply. They were themselves reined in quick order in the first while by good stick work assisted by a bunch of errors, the Marathons secured two. In fact the only score of the St. Josephs was on an error of Routes in the second inning. In the third and fourth both chalked up a goose egg and with the score standing 2-1 the big crowd went wild.

In the fifth, which proved fatal for St. Josephs, Breen was out at first. Conboy reached first on Copeland's fumble and went to second on Miller's hit between Malcolm's legs. When McGuigan bunted to Gilmour, Conboy died at third and Creagan struck out.

In the sixth McGuigan took a wild swing and his team got a dose of the rat. Stubbs went to first on Conboy's fumble and stole to second and then to third. Copeland walked and Bradbury was out at first. St. Josephs supporters were wishing for the rain to come but J. Malcolm lightened things up with a two-bagger and Stubbs and Copeland scored. Totter sent out another three-bagger and Totter scored. Malcolm came home on Routes' hit to centre. Gilmour walked but Jerry Stubbs retired the side by getting out at first.

In the last three innings neither side scored, though St. Josephs got a man on third.

J. McAllister umpired, and was very strict. The St. Josephs were very quick on a close decision on a quick double play in the eighth but the official knew his business and was supported by the crowd. The St. Josephs took their defeat good naturedly and hope to do better next time.

posts, bolls and reel were almost hidden in the mass of many colored flowers and the whole effect reflected great credit on those who designed and carried out the work.

Charleton's Clever Design.

District Engineer McLeod, of the west side, headed the Charleton department in a barouche. No. 6 Hook had a very clever creation of an exceptionally small horse and a fire in actual progress with dummy firemen playing the water on the flames.

No. 2 Hook and Ladder Company represented Aud Lang Syne and showed the old fire-timer and hand pump of 1850. St. Mary's Brass Band, under Sergt. R. D. Brown, preceded the North End Ladder truck No. 3, which followed by Boward and Grierson in the order named. The time was 20 seconds.

First heat 100 yards dash, hook and ladder men only--1st, McLeod, Charleton; 2nd, Black, Amherst; 3rd, Farren, Sussex; time, 0:11.25.

Second heat--1st, P. Ball, Sydney; 2nd, McKean, Sydney; 3rd, Smith, Sydney; time, 0:11.25.

Third heat--1st, P. Ball, Sydney; 2nd, McLeod, Charleton; time, 11:15.

Ball's victory was protested immediately after the final heat, but it was withdrawn later.

The quarter mile hose reel race proved very close. Thirteen teams started, the following was the time made by each: Halifax, 1:26; Fairville, 1:34; Yarmouth, 1:30.55; I. C. R., Moncton, 1:28; Sussex, 1:29.25; Sydney, 1:25.35; Moncton, 1:23.35; Sackville, 1:30.45; Chatham, 1:30; John, 1:40; Calais, 1:28.35; Windsor, 1:31.35; Sussex, finished the running in 1:27.25, but on account of slowness in coupling the time was changed to 1:29.25.

The performance of the Sydney men was impossibly protesting. It was alleged that while running they had practically uncoupled the hose before they commenced to unwind it from the reel. There were four departments who lodged a protest against Sydney, namely, Charleton, Yarmouth, Halifax and Moncton. The judges will decide the matter this morning.

The first heat of the 220 yards race for Salvage Corps men was a very close one. The distance was won by the U. P. C.'s from Halifax in 33 seconds.

During the long list of entries it was found impossible to finish more than six events out of the thirteen. They will be resumed at 6.30 p.m. tomorrow. There will be no entrance fee to the grounds there will be a small one to the grand stand.

BANDS, FIREWORKS, CROWDS AT NIGHT

Last night saw the streets crowded with a good natured, fun seeking crowd. It was a scene of bustling, rolling, and the City Corset Band gave a very fine concert on Queen Square and the 62nd Band played an excellent programme in King street and in front of the registry office, from which place a very fine display of fireworks was set off.

Immense crowds listened to the music at both places. The 62nd Pipe Band, from Halifax, attracted considerable attention. They marched from one position in the streets to another, and everywhere they played they were immediately surrounded by great crowds. The big drummer was especially noticed for his dexterity.

The local firemen kept open house for visitors till a late hour last night and many a time they were enjoyed. In No. 3 Hook and Ladder men, Portland street, a good crowd gathered and there was an informal programme. M. Cavanagh and George Carr sang and Wm. McJunkin gave a recitation.

In No. 6 engine room there was an enthusiastic gathering. The building was handsomely trimmed, a large number of Chinese lanterns being used and the speeches were good. Dr. H. B. Nason gave a gramophone concert which was much enjoyed. Mayor Seam and Ald. Widdet gave congratulatory speeches and Ald. Kelley spoke in a spirited way on taxation. H. C. Rutter, chief of the Fredericton fire department, gave a lengthy address in which he reviewed the history of firemen's tournaments which he himself had instituted and announced that next year the gathering would be in Halifax.

In all the first divisions were his very Wellington No. 1 was again particularly attractive as a result of Roland Evans' work.

The Award of Prizes.

The following letters were received by Chief Kerr last evening:

John Kerr, Esq., Chief of Fire Department, St. John (N.B.):

Dear Sir: Your committee appointed to award the H. W. Forrest prize of $25 for the best appearance of men and best decorated apparatus from Maine, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and P. E. Island, and the first prize of $25 be awarded to Halifax department for Nova Scotia and that Amherst have honorable mention. For Maine they find that the first go to Bangor, with honorable mention to Calais; for New Brunswick, the prize goes to No. 1 Hook and Ladder Company of this city, with honorable mention for No. 1 hose company.

What you work for is Bread. That's sure!

There are no two ways about it, the one struggle from morn till eve is bread, isn't it?

But why not good bread; bread that is wholesome, pure; bread that keeps moist three days.

It's easy to have--costs no more--your grocer sells it--Scotch Zest Bread.

It's made and baked just that you may have better bread.

Then why not ask your grocer for Scotch Zest Bread and enjoy working for bread that is bread.

The following was the time made by the different teams of ten each: Sussex, 17:35; Fairville, 19:15; St. John, 19; I. C. R. brigade, Moncton, 20:25; Amherst, 18; Sydney, 18:35; Halifax, 19:15; Charleton, 20:35; Chatham, 17:35.

In the final Sussex made it in 17:45 and Chatham 18:15. During this final heat James Bradley, a member of the Sussex team, hurt his foot slightly.

There were five entries in the 220 yards amateur dash. This was a very close race. The entries were Grierson, Garrett, Kerr, Boward and Kiley, all of this city. Garrett came in first, followed by Boward and Grierson in the order named. The time was 20 seconds.

First heat 100 yards dash, hook and ladder men only--1st, McLeod, Charleton; 2nd, Black, Amherst; 3rd, Farren, Sussex; time, 0:11.25.
