

FOREIGNERS EVADE U. S. INCOME TAX

Leave for Europe via Sarnia and Take Steamship From Montreal.

Sarnia, Ont., Dec. 1.—United States internal revenue agents operating on the St. Clair river declare that a number of Europeans, having made their stake in the United States are going into Canada by way of Sarnia, taking a train from this city for Montreal and embarking from that port to their homes overseas, thus eluding payment of the United States Federal income tax which aliens are supposed to pay when they leave that country.

This declaration was made following the departure of a party, of 22 Slovaks who left Milwaukee recently for their homes in Czechoslovakia without paying a visit to the Revenue Department. John A. Grogan, collector of customs at Detroit, guarded the ferry building in that city, but no trace of the foreigners could be found there. He stated that in all probability they had thrown the police off their trail and had come to Port Huron, crossing over to Sarnia, where they were safe from molestation.

The usual procedure, it is believed, is to leave the town or city in the States where they are working and head for some border city as Detroit, Chicago or Cleveland, where they can more readily board a train for Port Huron, Mich., where they leave the railway and come over on the ferry.

In this city they buy their tickets and take the train to Montreal, which is the jumping off place for home. Foreigners' income taxes in many cases, it is said, run well into four figures.

MEETS WOMAN HE THOUGHT A CORPSE

Identifies Body Taken From River as That of Person
Alive and Hearty.

Windsor, Dec. 1.—Floating in the Detroit River, the body of a woman, as yet unidentified, was found Saturday by F. Covillon of Sandwich and brought ashore. In a pocket of the dress was a street car transfer timed at 4:15 p. m. Friday.

At the morgue the body was "positively identified" by Chief of Police Pilon, Mayor Donnelly and two Windsor officers as that of Mrs. Mary Ward, a well-known Windsor woman. Fifteen minutes after the "identification" Mrs. Ward, passed one of the officers, who had helped to identify the dead body as hers, and the man thought he had seen a ghost. The body of the woman found in the river resembled Mrs. Ward in many particulars. The authorities were finally convinced that the dead woman was probably a non-resident.

DIRECT ACTION TO GET HOMES

Ex-Service Men in East Ham,
London, Take Possession.

London, Nov. 11.—(Associated Press correspondence).—Scarcity of houses in the East Ham district has led the local branch of the National Union of ex-service men to take "direct action" in regard to empty houses which are marked "to be sold."

They have taken possession of one of these houses without consent of the owners and two ex-service men and their families are now installed in it. The seizure was made in conjunction with the People's Protection League and the East Ham Trades Council.

"All houses marked 'to be sold' shall be considered as being marked 'to let,'" said the secretary of the former service men's union. "There is no fear of ejectment because the applicants are willing to pay the rent, and further, in the event of any action by the owners, we are out of court, we should have the support of the East Ham Labor Council."

"This is the third house we have taken and we shall continue to take such houses until there is not one left."

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. ## ATTEMPTS TO CAPTURE "MAD MULLAH" IN VAIN

Escaped Into Abyssinia With Son and Brother—Had Narrow Escapes.

(Associated Press Correspondence).—London, Nov. 13.—The "Mad Mullah," the dervish leader, who seems to bear a charmed life, is now in Abyssinia, safe from British pursuit, but of his numerous wives, sons and relatives, only his eldest son and a brother escaped with him.

In the British campaign against him, sixty of his personal followers were killed, including several of his sons, seven close relatives and four of his advisers. Six sons, his five wives, four daughters and two sisters were captured and the dervish forces were completely routed. The dispatch records that on the approach of the first air squad, the Mullah collected his people around him and awaited their coming under a white canopy used on state occasions.

Some dervishes afterward reported that the Mullah saw in the airplanes "a divine manifestation," others said that he had been told that the machines were Turkish and came from Stamboul (Constantinople) to convey the Sultan's greetings.

It was during this first air raid that the Mullah narrowly escaped with his life. His robes were singed by a bomb and he afterward prudently took refuge in caves.

For many days, says the dispatch, the Mullah was pursued by the Camel Corps, often on half rations and even on no rations at all. The chase was kept up day and night until there was nothing further to pursue from the sea to the southern border of the protectorate.

One group of fugitive women tracks were followed turned out to be not the Mullah and his bodyguard, but a party of Abyssinians. Most of the party were killed, the dispatch adds, and the Mullah, who was close at hand all the time saw their fate from a hiding place on a neighboring hill.

CELEBRATE FEAST OF CHANUKAH

The Feast of Dedication known in Hebrew as Chanukah, will be celebrated in Jewish circles beginning Sunday evening, Dec. 5. This festival lasts for eight days and is observed with joy and gladness in the Jewish home.

The origin of Chanukah is traced to an historical event of tremendous consequence to the Jewish people. In the year 168 B. C. E. the Syrian king Antiochus IV. or Epiphanes had resolved upon an imperialistic policy of uniting all the provinces and peoples in his domain. As a preliminary measure towards this consummation of his ambition, an edict was promulgated, compelling all his subjects to adopt a common religion, that of the Greeks.

This decree met with unexpected opposition among his least powerful subjects, the Jews. The polytheism of the Greek religion, its lax morality and debasing influences incited the Jews to resistance against the emperor's edict.

Under the leadership of the aged priest, Mattathias, and after his death, his son Judas Maccabeus, armed resistance was arrayed against the powerful armies which Antiochus sent against the inhabitants of Palestine. The valor of this heroic band triumphed over the mighty hosts of Syria. The Temple of Jerusalem which had been defiled by idolatrous practices was rededicated to the worship of the one God. The rededication took place on the 25th day of Kislev according to the calendar of the synagogue, in the year 168 B. C. E.

In commemoration of the victory, the Feast of Chanukah is celebrated every year into this day.

Legends, impressive of this triumph and the festive character of the celebration, have been preserved. An old legend recounts the miraculous preservation of a single cruse of undefiled oil, found in the Temple at the time of the rededication, which burned for eight days. The kindling of lights in the home and synagogue is a distinguishing feature of the festival. The traditional practice is to light one candle on the first night, two on the second and so on until eight are kindled on the last day of the feast.

The special prayers recited in the synagogue in connection with Chanukah stress the triumph of the spirit of God over the might and power of godless man.

The festival is utilized by the modern synagogue as an occasion for participation of the children of the religious schools in plays or pageants which express the glorious victory of the few and feeble over the mighty hosts of oppression.

URGES REVISION.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—(Associated Press correspondence).—Revision of the Peace Treaty of Versailles by the international proletariat was urged by Ernest Dacumig, leader of the new Communists, in a debate in the Reichstag recently. Herr Dacumig prophesied a coming revolution to overthrow capitalism. He said that his party desired expropriation of all machinery of production and as quickly and as thoroughly as possible. He characterized the Versailles Treaty as an exhibition of force by world capitalism. "We feel toward it as our Russian comrades felt toward the treaty of Brest-Litovsk," he said.

These declarations of the Communist idea of treaty revision were evoked a statement which had been made by Dr. Eugen Schiffer, formerly vice chancellor and leader of the National Liberals, who declared that the treaty was a crime against the German nation and all the world and that Germany had a right, under the reading of the covering note as well as morally, to demand its revision.
