Foolish Act of Woman at The Derby Race

WORK OF AN INDIVIDUAL

More Harm to Militants' Aims With Masses Than Any Number of Bombs or Burned Houses—The Woman May Recover From Injuries

(Canadian Press)

London, June 5.—The double Derby sensation engrosses public talk to the exclusion of all else. The general opinion may be summed up by saying that this is the biggest worst advertisement that militancy has so far given itself.

The sheer imbecility of the attempt will likely do the movement more harm with the masses than any number of bogus bombs or burned houses. It is not supposed that suffragette leaders had anything to do with the freak trick which was obviously the work of the individual, though some colleagues in the crowd hoisted a suffragette placard at the moment the horse and woman went down.

The public says the Times, "coming to the conclusion that suffragettes are not altogether responsible for their acts. The growth of this belief will not improve the prospects for woman suffrage. We are mistaken if yesterday's exhibition does not do more hurt to the cause of woman suffrage than years of agitation will undo."

Epson, England, June 5.—Elly Wilding Davidson, a militant suffragette, who yesterday caused a sensation by leaping at the king's horse and seizing his reins while he was galloping at full speed in the race for the Derby, recovered consciousness at noon today. The doctor in attendance at the local hospital considers that there is hope for her recovery.

Miss Davidson is one of the best-known English suffragettes. She is a young woman of high education, having taken the degree of bachelor of arts at London University, where she passed with honors, afterwards proceeding to Oxford, where she was a student in the final honor class.

She is a citizen of London by birth, it spends much of her time at her residence in Northumberland. She has been unable as yet to answer questions.

ARRESTS EXPECTED

Moorehead, June 5.—Sensational evidence is now being adduced in connection with the death of Miss Edna Alford, formerly of Neocad, Wis., who was found lying beside a trail at Briarcrest, five weeks ago. Several prominent farmers are involved, and arrests are expected.

Despite the fact her death was attributed to heart disease, it now transpires that death was due to a drug. A criminal operation is being investigated.

"Suppose we get within 300 miles of the pole," said Captain Amundsen; "the rest of our journey could be accomplished with the hydro-aeroplane."

Problems of the U.N.B.

Chancellor Jones, Here For Senate Meeting, Speaks of Need of More Facilities

"We are feeling the need of larger facilities to cope with the demands which are being made upon the institution," said Dr. C. C. Jones, chancellor of the University of New Brunswick in an interview this morning. "While the arts department is not showing any great increase," he said, "the department of applied science is going ahead rapidly and we need more room and better equipment. Some of us are looking forward to the time when we can devote the science building entirely to the engineering course and erect a new building for the laboratories. The problem is chiefly one of finance and I hope that we may see our way clear before long to proceed with this work."

The forestry department is another which is making excellent progress and which is attracting more students each year. This year's graduates have all the positions of assistant, judge, barry and doctor W. S. Carter.

There is a strong demand for properly trained men for this work at present. The federal government is using a large number of men for forest surveys and similar work and the province of British Columbia has established a forestry department and requires men for the work.

Doctor Jones is in the city today to attend a meeting of the university senate which will be held here this afternoon to complete the business which was left unfinished at the time of the enclosure meeting. Among the more important matters to come up is the selection of a professor of English to succeed Professor Gordon who has joined the staff of the Alberta University.

Among those who will attend the meeting are Doctor H. B. Bridges, Doctor Thomas Walker, Doctor Murray McLaren, Doctor W. W. White, W. H. Harrison, Hon. E. McLeod, Judge Barry and Doctor W. S. Carter.

WHAT THEY THINK HERE ABOUT THE AID FOR SCHOOLS

Report of Technical Education Commission

LOCAL BOARD IN FAVOR

Chairman Emerson Says City Would Have to Supplement Grant by Outlay For Plant and Running Expenses

The recommendation that a grant of $250,000 should be made annually by the federal government to assist in establishing schools for industrial training and technical education, contained in the report of the royal commission appointed to investigate the subject, has been received with much approval in this city.

St. John's ambitions to become a great industrial centre depend to a certain extent, on the available supply of trained men and anything which will help to solve this problem would be welcomed. The need for some such system has been generally recognized and strongly advocated by the Board of Trade and also by the Board of School Trustees.

School Board Chairman
R. B. Emerson, chairman of the Board of School Trustees, when asked about the effect such a grant would have on the local situation said that it would depend largely on the amount of money which would be available. On a per capita basis the grant for St. John would not go far as it would amount to only about $800 a year. He fully realized the need for technical education and industrial training and had advocated such additions to the curriculum for years. In this, he said, he had the unanimous support of the board.
