The matter was taken up by several St. John people and everything scems to be settled until a short time ago when the interested parties dropped the thing.

It was thought that St. John would be a sulttable place for the establishment of the works, as it is centrally situated, and the facilities are good. But when the business was not taken up here, it was offered to Amherst, Yarmouth and New Glasgow, and these three towns jumped at the chance. A company has been formed which will have its office and works at Amherst. Those interested in it are H. G. Sutherland, of New Glasgow, president; J. A. Black, of Amherst, vice-president; O. A. Nickerson, secretary-treasurer; B. B. Law, George S. Taylor, J. D. Dennis, of Yarmouth; James Munro, H. G. Sutherland and Geo. E. Munro, of New

a released prisoner, named Charles Musgrave. Kay at that time was fall keeper at Houlton.

This case is not without local intereat, as the parties in it are known in St. John. Deputy Jenkins was officially connected with the elopement and remembers the details of the case. He says that on October 18th, 1837 Musgrove and Mrs. Kay came to this city direct from Houlton and went to the old Queen hotel, where they registered as "T. C. Sweeny and wife, Glendive, Montana." Information was received from Mr. Kay concerning them and he requested the police to keep a watch on the two. In consequence of the work done and enquiries made by the police, the proprietor of the Queen hotel refused to silow Musgrave and Mrs. Kay to remain in the house. They then went to Mrs. Catherine Guthro's place, known as the Kennedy house, on Mill street, and remained there for some days. Mr. Kay arrived on the scene shortly afterwards, and the couple skipped out. They went up the
I. C. R., but returned a few days later and took rooms at what was then the Belmont house, now the Grand Union.
Here Deputy Jenkins met them and they admitted their identity to him.
She had taken the fatal step in leaving Houlton with him and would not go bac' on it. The woman seemed to have plenty of money as she paid the bills while here and also purchased new clothes for Musgrave
Capt. Jenkins also tried to persuade Musgrave to give the woman up, but was not successful. Musgrave had just completed a term in the Houlton jail, to which he had been sentenced for indecent assault on a little girl in Aroostook county.
Shortly after this Kay applied for a divorce, which was granted, chiefly on the evidence secured against Mrs. Kay by the St. John police. Among this evidence was a written statement from Capt. Jenkins. The latter has now in his possession a photograph of the woman, furnished him for identification.
In it Mrs. Kay is shown to be quite fieshy, but of a rather attractive appearance.

ANOTHER WRECK COMING.

The British war vessel Scorpion, which was sunk at Bermuda some time ago, will be brought to St. John to be broken up. L. E. Hunt, of Boston, who has secured the wreck, is now in the city making arrangements for the disposal of the vessel. Work has been going on for some time and the ship, which has been floated, is now being repaired sufficiently to stand the voyage to this port. She will be towed here as soon as possible and will be beached at a safe and convenient point where the work of breaking her up can be conveniently carried on. The Portland Rolling Mills will purchase the fron from the ship.

The Scorpion was a coast defence ship, stationed at Bermuda. She was built at Glasgow in 1865, carried four guns, was 2,750 tons, 1,000 horse power and an average speed of 81-2 knots.

move for a commission on a nuture occasion. Notwithstanding that he expected such an investigation would be before a partisan jury, he felt satisfied that he would be able to prove all he had said to the satisfaction of every honorable member. Regret had been expressed that he, as a liberal, occupied a seat on the other side of the house. The election was not run on party lines. He was faithful to the liberal party and in the future he hoped to be able to extend to the liberals in Northumberland a little better treatment than they had received in the past. Hon, Mr. Tweedlet:—The hon, member has intimated that he would on a future occasion move for an investigation. I challenge and demand the non, member to make a formal charge now. It is in the interest of the country that he should do so, and the house will be kept until July if necessary.

BASEBALL IN HALIFAX.

(Recorder.)

The outlook for baseball in Halifax this season is not at all promising. There has been some talk of forming two clubs, with professional batteries, but few could be found to interest themselves, not only from a financial point of view but the stringency of the amateur rules would also interfere with local players. It is probable there will be some games between amateur nines, but there is not likely to be any league. The Wanderers and the Y. M. C. A. may have some games for the purpose of amusement. There are a few of the Crescents who talk of having a team, but others are not so favorable thereto.

A number of those who played on the Standards and Resolutes last year had a talk yesterday, and will likely form two nines, opening with two games May 24th, if the Wanderers' grounds can be obtained.

THE LATE MRS. WATERBURY.

The funeral of the late Mrs. George H. Waterbury will take place tomorow (Friday) at three p. m.
In addition to relatives mentioned yesterday the deceased lady leaves a sister, Miss Edith Allen, living with her father, John Howe Allen. Mrs. Waterbury returned with her eldest son recently from the Southern States, where they had spent some time for the benefit of the boy's health.

THE BOYS' MISSION.

In the city hal, Carleton, on Sunday afternoon, at a quarter to four, a mass meeting will be held in the interests of the the Boys' Mission. The boys' choir of fifty voices will aid in the singing, and there will be plano and cornet accompaniment. Some of the city clergymen will speak and there will be special music both before and after the addresses. A silver collection will be taken at the door.

ALLEGED BURGLARIES

The Telegraph states this morning that another attempt was made this week to burglarize the residence of H. A. Austin, Mount Pleasant; that an attempt was made early yesterday morning to break into the house on Rockland road, occupied by Messrs. Hieatt, and that early yesterday morning a prowler was discovered at one of the rear windows of a house on King street, Carleton.

MISS JESSIE BONSTELLE.

Miss Jessie Bonstelle will begin a theatrical season of ten weeks at Rochester, N. Y., on the lith May. The opening play will be "The Little Minister," in which she made such a distinct hit in this city in the role of "Babble." Her numerous friends in St. John will be glad to hear she is enjoying excellent health. She recently closed a successful engagement at Nashville, Tenn., where she played at the Vendome.

Judge Forbes lectured last evening in St. Matthew's Presbyterian church on Douglas avenue on the subject of Trinidad and Mission Work in the West Indian Islands. The lecture was under the auspices of the ladies' foreign missionary society, and was most carefully prepared. Rev. A. H. Foster presided, and at the close of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks, moved by J. Fraser Gregory, was tendered Judge Forbes.

The provisional directors of the New Brunswick Abattolr Co. met last evening to consider the erection of a thoroughly up-to-date abattolr, while the bill that passed the local house the other day gives them power to erect. While the gentlemen interested declined to make public at present any particulars re their plans, they say they are thoroughly satisfied with the bill as passed, and will lose no time in getting to work on the structure. They claim the bills give them everything they asked for, including the forty years license.

It is understood that the plans have already been prepared, so there will be little delay in commencing work. The site approved is on the Gilbert property, near Dutchman's creek.
