THREE FLOCKS COLLAPSE, MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 28.—Two scores of workmen employed in reconstructing the old Savoy Building had a mighty close call just before three o'clock this afternoon, when three floors and a 20-foot section of a wall facing on Adelaide street collapsed without warning. The only man hurt was James Wilson of Parliament street, and he so little that he was able to continue working the rest of the day. His escape was more miraculous than that of the rest, as he was cleaning bricks on the ground floor when debris tumbled on him. When the dust had cleared away the other crowd around, and seeing him in the wreck, thought him dead. They helped him out, and after shaking himself he decided he was uninjured.

The programme of St. Andrew's church guild for Monday night next promises to be of a most instructive and interesting nature. It is a historical evening of the guild. A very admirable paper will be given by Mrs. S. H. Groulx, dealing with the early French in New Brunswick. Mrs. E. A. Smith will also read a paper on New Brunswick heroines. Music of an appropriate nature will be interspersed during the programme. It is earnestly requested that all members of the guild and their friends will be present.

Ask Her This Question

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Canifton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knows what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles. It has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life."—Mrs. Letitia Blair, Canifton, Ontario.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Blair.

W. G. ALLISON WINS THE PRIZE

Second Prize Won by R. E. Armstrong

Hundreds of Capital Slogans Were Received—Here are Some of Them.

The committee selected to choose the winners in the slogan contest of The Star and Star have awarded the prizes as follows:

First prize: "A BIGGER AND BETTER ST. JOHN" submitted by Walter C. Allison of this city.

Second prize: "A GREATER ST. JOHN — A GREATER CANADA," by R. E. Armstrong of St. Andrews.

In announcing this contest a few weeks ago The Star described what it wanted, as "a slogan, a phrase of progress, a battery. Something that will boil the gospel of go-ahead down to half a dozen words in a sentence that will hit home like a hammer blow." The response came hundreds in number with hardly any two of them expressing the same idea. Chances among the many and varied phrases submitted has been very difficult, but the ones chosen seemed to the committee best to indicate the line along which those working, who are endeavoring to help St. John.

The harbor, of course, attracted the consideration of the majority of the contestants, and many of the slogans based on this idea were forcible and timely, and The Star hopes to be able to use them with advantage in the future.

Following are a few of those which though not winning prizes, take a prominent place in the first rank of inspiring watch words for those who would help St. John.

MILLIONS LOST BY CHEAP POSTAGE

Rep. Greene, of Mass., Gives Figures That Are Startling.

Floods of Pleas for New Classification of Magazine Rates—What the Editors Say.

Shall it be a mail subsidy for the extension of the trade of the United States or a "magazine subsidy" for the enrichment of the magazine publishers? is the new way in which the two questions are being put up to Congress. Ship subsidy men who have been seeking the support of Congress for years without results are aroused over the discovery that money has been poured out to the aid of the magazines through the medium of the Postoffice department.

Rep. William S. Greene, of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, has been making some deductions as the result of the agitation over magazine postage. Rep. Greene finds that if $46,000,000 less at which second class matter, of which magazines form a large part, had been applied to the mail subsidy, the result would have been startling.

Only $2,500,000 is asked for mail subsidy this year. Should the loss of second-class mail matter be devoted to ship subsidy at the rate upon which it is planned to have the government enter, it would be sufficient to continue the mail subsidy for a quarter of a century.

Going a little further—they have turned back to the "pages" of the Hahnemann Ship Subsidy bill. This was the most radical ever proposed to Congress and aroused a storm of protest. It called for $5,000,000 a year. The loss of the department in the carrying of second class matter, if checked for a single year, would have kept going for four years this radical departure to which Congress declined to consent.

Basketfuls of briefs and petitions are being sent to Congress on the question of increasing the rates on magazines. Magazines are greatly agitated over the prospect of losing the "subsidy" which they have long enjoyed. They are good at figures, and are quick to compute the difference between what they are now paying and what they would have to pay if the rates were increased.

They are good at figures, and are quick to compute the difference between what they are now paying and what they would have to pay if the rates were increased.

Next week will witness the real opening of the fight with the magazine editors on the fitting line. On Wednesday they will be called upon to show why the Post Office committee should support a bill to increase the rates on magazines.

Association is to be held in New York during the week the question of magazine rates is likely to be taken up in front in Washington during the next few days.
