Federal and Provincial Ministers, Senators, M. P.'s, and M. P. P.'s Pay Tributes o New Brunswick's Veteran Representative.

The non-political dinner to Hon.

John Costigan at the Hotel Dufferin Tuesday night was in every respect a grand success. which was duly honored. Count de Bury, in proposing the health of the guest of the evening, expressed the belief that it must be source of great gratification to Hon. Mr. Costigan to find such a large number of all classes and creeds assembled to do him honor. Our honored guest during his long political life had secured the reputation of an hon-The toast was received with musical honors, followed by He's a Jolly Good Fellow and three cheers.

Hon. Mr. Costigan on rising was greet ed with loud applause and cheers. All the eloquence which could be brought into use could not express his thanks for this grand demonstration. When he looked around this board and saw as representative a lot of men as to be found in Canada, he felt that indeed he was greatly honored. He was glad the gathering was non-political, and he was pleased there were times when Canadians could meet socially and spend a few pleasant hours. He hald spent thirty-eight years in politi-cal life, and he wished to say that the little province by the sea had sent to the Canadian parliament some of the brightest men in the dominion. No matter what creed or class, all must admit that the late Sir Leonard Tilley was one of the foremost men in the country. He took as a special compliment the presence of Hon. Mr. Blatt, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick, Hon. Mr. Emmerson and his cabinet and members of the legislature of the province. He attended the banquet tendered Mr. Fitzpatrick because he (Costigan) was the representative of a section of the people which Mr. Fitzpatrick also represented. He therefore thought it was only proper that Mr. Fitzpatrick should be present this evening. Some of the newspapers had announced that he had an important statement to make, but such was not the case. The banquet was non-pol-idical, but apart from that, if he had any announcement to make he would make it on the floors of parliament. After a reference to his contests in Victoria and Madawaska and the work performed for him by Mr. Baird and later by his son, the present Sen-ator Baird, he concluded by again thanking his friends for the honor waid him.

John Keeffe sang The Dear Little Shamrock, after which Daniel Mullin proposed the Dominion Parliament. In proposing the toast, Mr. Mullin paid a glowing tribute to Hon. Mr. Costigan, and spoke of the ability of the men composing the Canadian parliament. He coupled the names of Hon. Messrs. Blair and Fitzpatrick and Senator Baird and George V. Mc-

Inerney, M. P. The toast was received with three cheers and the singing of They Are Jolly Goood Fellows. Hon. Mr. Blair spoke of the parliament, and claimed that it was a credit to the British empire. The banquet was one of the pleasantest he ever attended. Any man who had known Mr. Costigan had known him as a broad minded public man. In local politics Mr. Costigan bad been his friend, but while in dominion affairs he could not see eye to eye with him, the strong friendship which has existed for years has not grown less. He hoped that his friend, John Costigan, might live long to be a representative in the parliament of Can ada. Go to Quebec, Ontario or Nova. Scotia, and ask the Irish Catholics who they look upon as their representative, and irrespective of politics they will say John Costigan.

Solicitor General Fitzpatrick paid a warm tribute to Hon. Mr. Costigan. Senator Baird was given three rousing cheers. Mr. Costigan is a man who has always had truth on his side. He is a broad-minded man, and a man of toleration. Mr. Costigan has never considered what church a man belonged to, but his question was, is the man qualified?
George V. McInerney was received with three cheers and the singing of He's a July Good Fellow. After a few pleasant opening remarks, Mr. McInerney said he believed John Costigan was the only member now in parliament who has occupied a seat continuously since confederation. Alt the request of the chairman, P.

W. Lantalum sang, My Own Canadian W. K. Reynolds proposed the Le- with hams, etc.

COMES FROM MARTYR STOCK.

The family of Sir Matthew White-Rickey, the home secretary, whose heir's marriage recently took place, has had long associations with Northumberland. The Whites bought early in the last century the estate of Blagdon and erected a mansion house, and in 1756 the then owner was created a baronet, with remainder to the som of his sister, Mrs. Ridley, whose husband was of the same stock as the martyr. Newcastle has only had a bishopric for a few years, but Bidward VI., when he dissolved the great rishopric of Durham, created a bishopric of Newcastle, enpexing it by act of parliament to Gateshead, end Ridley was actually named bishop. But Edward died, His sitter Mary thad other views. She burned Ridley instead of giving him a miter, restored the see of St. Cuthberts, and gave Gateshead back to it Ridley was a native of Northumbrian.

COMMON SENSE JUDGE.

The average man who reads the newspa-fers may have noted that Baron Brampton would often postpone overnight the sentenc-ing of a prisoner. In conversation the other day his lordship spoke to 'this effect: 'I' never pronounced sentence without first thinking it out very carefuly. It was in or-der to give me greater time for deliberation that I often postponed the sentence until the morning after the trial had been concluded.' The view, generally speaking, of his lord-ship's that a judge should apply common sense as well as law to his work on the bench.

Are Taken Through the Provincial Lunatic Asylum.

Given a Fine Chance to Inspect the Annex and Then Dined in the Chapel.

It is seldom that a legislative body takes it into its head to go to a lunatic asylum, but the legislature of Nev. Brunswick went out to the provincial institution on Tuesday morning and spent several hours in and about the institution. Many of the members had never even seen the asylum except from a distance, and what they saw was a revelation to them. They had no idea as to the extent of the premises. It is safe to say that if the government ask this session for a large grant for expenditure in connection with the asylum, it will go through without any difficulty. The members of the legislature came down from Fredericton on the early train yesterday morning and got off at Fairville. They proceeded at once to the main buildings, where they were met by dhe superintndent, Dr. G. E. Hetherington, and his staff, and W. A. Quinton, the steward of the insti-tution and the manager of the farm in connection with the annex. The following members of the house were present: Provincial Secretary Tweedie, Surveyor General Dunn and Commissioner of Agriculture LaBillois Hon. A. D. Richard, Hon. J. P. Burchill, and Mr. O'Brien of Northumberland, Mr. Osman of Albert, Mr. Shaw and Mr. McLeod of St. John; Mr. Laforest and Mr. Gagnon of Mada-waska, Mr. Porter and Mr. Lawson of Victoria, Mr. Carvell of Carleton, Mr. O'Brien of Charlotte, Mr. Burns, and Mr. Venoit of Gloucester, Mr. Johnstom and Mr. Barnes of Kent, Robbson, Mr. Humphrey and Mr Wells of Westmorland, and Mr Campbell of York, Mr. Hazen and Mr. Clasier of Sunbury.

Octoveyances were on hand to take the party to the annex and there they went. The roads were in a bad state and the drive was anything but a cleasant one. But on their arrival at the annex the visitors agreed that what they saw was sufficient to numter up for the unpleasantness of the trip to the place. Dr. Hetherington and Mr. Quinton took the party through every ward in the annex, all of which were found to be in good share. Then the barns, piggeries and other outside places were looked over. There are in the barns at the annex 22 cows, 13 young calitie, several calves, 7 horses, between 60 and 70 pigs and some hens. The representatives of the rural districts were loud in their praises as to the condition of the live stock. The legislators of the was obtained from the cows kept

Dr. Hetherington was congratulated by everybody on the admirable appearance the various wards most distinguished sons. He thought presented. There was no chance for fault finding. Then the electric light plant was looked over. The power station contains two 50-horse power ergines, with two dynamos of like capacity, with direct connections. The I lant was the first of its kind installed in the lower provinces. Its capacity is 1,000 incandescent lights, in addition to the six arclights distributed about the grounds. At the present time some 800 lights are used. Power is also derived from the power station for the operation of the ma-clinery in the laundry and the work shop. It is expected that in the event of the installation of a pumping outfit for supplying the main buildings with water, that all the power needed can be had from the electric lighting

The barns and piggeries at the main buildings were carefully examined. There are 12 cows and 50 or 60 pigs kept there. The members of the house were given all the exercise they could or would stand in looking over the whole place, and the verdict of the whole company was that no fault could be found with any one in charge.

At 1 o'clock the visitors sat down to dinner in the chapel, which had been handsomely decorated with flowers for the occasion. Supt. Hetherington sat at the head of the table, with Mr. Tweedie on his right and Mr. Dunn on his left. The dinner was an excellent one, and the matron, Mrs. Young, and her assistants, proved themselves most capable waitresses. The visitors came over to the city bout 3 o'clock, somewhat tired after their day's experience.

OLD SOCKS.

It is said that a Manitoba bachelor when recently visiting in Ontario went into one of the stores and bought a pair of socks, and 'o md attached to one of them a slip of paper with the words: "I am a young lady of twenty and would like to correspond with a bachelor with a view of matrimony." Name and address were given. The bachelor wrote, and in a few days got this letter: "Mamma was married twenty years ago. The merchant you bought those socks from evidently did not advertise or he would have sold them long ago. Mamma handed me the letter and said possibly I might suit you. I am a girl of eighteen." The girl was suited.-Yorkton Enterprise.

Children Cry for CASTORIA

It is just possible that the American government feeds its soldiers on embaimed beef so they wont be afraid to LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE. "The Yankee Doodle Stamp."

To the Editor of the Sun: Fir—The present government began their regime with the motto, "business is business," and they have certainly lived up to the motto in the stamp branch of the post office de-reariment. There the great study seems to be "how not to do it."
Stamp has followed stamp in almost endless variety, both in design and color, and without the slightest re-The icsees have been so frequent and so confusing that it is now inpossible for either the collectors or the public to decide where we are. First came the Jubilee issue, in which faith was broken with purchasers and which merited condemnation in all countries. It was more like a piece of commercial huckstering than the official act of a government. The imperial issue brought upon us nothing but ridicule on account of its bumptuousness and bad taste.

It night fairly be thought the government would learn the common rudiments of business from these two transactions, but worse was to come The three cent issue had to be recalled because the postmaster general did not know his own mind. He could not tell a month ahead when he would spring his two cent game.

The heart of the intelligent counterfeiter must leap within him as he gazes upon eight varieties of "two cent stamps," all in the market at once, and all apparently standard stamps. Of that marvelous production the "imperial posters" for distinct the "imperial posters" for distinct the "imperial posters". tion, the "imperial postage," four distinot varieties are now extant, and probably by Easter a few more will be on the market. This stamp has nothing to redeem it from cond tion, except its size. As a Yorkshire many would say, "it is a solzable un," but people find it rather hard to have, as Sir Charles Tupper puts it, "to lick the back of creation before you can get it to stick." There is an old proverb, "you can't have too much of a jolly good thing, "and a simulated love for Canada probably induced the designers to issue the "Maple Leaf It was not a case of "the Maple Leaf for ever," however, for in a short time a new stamp, in which her majesty's veil is shorn away at the back of her head, her cap altered, the size of the head reduced, and some other improvements made apreared. But the government had forgotten "to be off with the old love before they were on with the new,' before they were on with the new, and after a short run the new stamp again, gave place to the old Maple Leaf series, or rather, the latter reappeaned, and now all are on the market. Is this business? Is it even common sense? The imperial penny postage stamp, with its "I am the great original peacock" cry of "we hold a vaster empire than has been," is to use the old proverb, "as useless as a fifth wheel to a coach. idea which strikes one in this conprovince were surprised to learn that rection is that the government had all the milk required for the inmates ro reason to leave Canada for the quantity of work they have received there; also that the pigs raised were in the way of postage stamps. Formerly they had respectable stamps of good design, of good Canadian gislature of New Brunswick in a with nams, etc.

At 11 o'clock the visitors returned to the main building, which was gone with the direction of Dr. Hetherington and the most absolute security with the direction of Dr. Hetherington and the most absolute in absolute security with the direction of Dr. Hetherington and the most absolute in absolute in a specific with a specific to the main building, which was gone with the direction of Dr. Hetherington and the most absolute in security. little in advocacy of the political ad- his staff. There are 370 patients in absolute insecurity. Variety we have, but it is not charming. Still they I:ave achieved the acme of vulgarity in the "vast" "Yankee Doodle Stamp." Some years ago there appeared a silly dut interesting brochure, "The blot on the Queen's head." That blot was only imaginary. It has remained for a liberal government with a borrowed or stolen loyalty cry, and Hon. William Mulock to achieve a veritable blot on the Queen's head. To do this they first imported an envelope die for a three cent Queen's head stamp, which in itself was a disgrece. This they proceeded to stamp on a large quantity of envelopes, and they rendered the envelopes useless by reducing the postage to two cents. It never occurred to "the business is business" government to sell their envelopes at a reduced, price. No, they invested in a rubber stamp, and paid a man's wages to blot the Queen's head by stamping an immense two over it. The postal card suffered in the same way, and a long suffering, and hitherto self-respecting people had to use these botched disgraces. The whole business of stamp issue has been bungled in such a way as to make up the laughing stock of every country with whom we have any correspondence. The writer has before him no less than eight different two cent stamps, doctored in various ways and issued by the department during the year.

Sir, what is the post office department coming to under "I, William Mulock?" He has taken away our admittedly neat Canadian stamps, and replaced them with very much inferior ones. What will he do next to prove his artistic ability?

DISGUSTED. Mining on Private Lands.

Yours.

LOWER PRINCE WILLIAM, N.B., March 30th, 1899. To the Editor of the Sun:

Sir-During a conversation upon the gold find lately reported from Stanley, it became apparent that the par-ties to the discussion were not well informed as to the respective legal rights of the owner of land and the miner who wished to mine upon the land. It was even stated that the whole area of a man's farm might be taken up by the holders of mining licenses, and that the owner of the land would have no claim for compensation nor any redress, which is mani-festly absurd.

Will you be so kind as to inform the readers of your paper what rights the law gives to the miner who wishes to operate on private lands, and what compensation it awards to the owner of the land for the invasion of his prior right?

By so doing you will greatly oblige. Yours, etc., SUBSCRIBER.

Wood for the Asylum. To the Editor of the Sun: Sir-With reference to an editorial in the Record of the 3rd inst., wherefrom the inference can be drawn that I supplied wood to the Provincial Lunaltic Asylum which was paid for in accordance with my own measure-ment, I crave space to say: 1st-I have never during the time that I have been connected with the institution supplied it with wood or anything else. 2nd-Neither have I measured wood or anything else, as work of this kind is done by employes appointed for the ted in that portion which related to the uniting of country districts, and hope that some definite steps will be taken to have a law made to effect it, as in my opinion it is the only way it can be accomplished. The teacher in this district stated to me last summer that the average attendance for the term was three pupils, and in the village school the register had over forty names, showing that in the former there were not enough pupils to keep the teacher employed, and in the latter too many for one instructor. The schools in question are about two miles apart, yet the majority of raterayers would not be in favor of joining the districts and making one good school. Hoping that those who, like myself, are living in the country, and are in favor of the above educational reform, will discuss this matter freely through the medium of the press.

I remain, yours truly, AN INTERESTED MOTHER. Sunbury Co., April 3rd, 1899.
