How the Parties Will Probably Range Themselves at the Opening of the Legislature.

(Special to Montreal Herald.) ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 17.—The legis-lature of New Brunswick is composed of forty-six members, and in the pre-sent house there is but one yacancy, one of the four seats from York not naving been filled since the elevation of Hon. F. P. Thompson to the senate. All but eight of the forty-five members are supporters of the present government. The Parliamentary Companion, which is generally regarded as an authority, does not state the federal political views of four of these-Hon. L. J. Tweedie, premier; Hon. Wm. Pugsley, attorney general; C. J. Osman and H. H. McCain, As an actual matter of fact, the first three have in the past been leading support-ers of the conservative party, al-though Mr. Osman, because of differences with Dr. Weldon, has of late thrown his influence in favor of Dr. Lewes in the federal fights in his county. Mr. McCain has always been known as a sturdy liberal. The Companion characterizes as an independent, another government supporter, Mr. Johnson of Kent county. He, too, in the past has supported.

ing the government and 7 opposing it, vhile of the five not classified four are conservatives and one a liberal, making an actual standing of 27 liberis and 10 conservatives on the government side of the house, and one liberal and seven conservatives on the opposition side.

A poll of the counties shows that the full conservative opposition ticket of ling to support these men, particularly two was elected in Sunbury and that as it took the control of affairs out of two conservative opponents of the the hands of the liberals and gave it to the conservative members of the land and one each in St. John and Carleton counties, while Mr. Mott, a ces, premier and provincial secretary, attorney general and minister of pubsovernment, has since gone over to government, has since gone over to the opposition.

For the government full liberal tickets were elected in Opens, Victoria, and Charlotte counties, while in St. John five of the six liberals on the ticket were elected, and in Westmorland two of the four on the ticket. In Restigouche county the government ticket elected was two conservatives; in Gloucester it was one liberal and two conservatives; in Northumberland one liberal and three conservatives; in Vent trie liberal and three conservatives are conservatives. vatives; in Kent two liberals and one conservative; in Albert one liberal and one conservative; in Kings two iberals and one conservative, and in ported the government and one the

Mr. La Porest of Madawaska, is the only liberal opposing the government, and the Parliamentary Companion describes him as "a disgusted liberal" He was the party nominee against Hon. John Costigan at the last dominion election, but a nomination day trick gave Mr. Costigan the seat by acclamation, and Mr. LaForest afterwards organized a ticket made up of Mr. Gagnon and himself, and in the provincial election they defeated Mr. Costigan's conservative nominees, who were the straight party supporters of the local government. When the legislature met the government declined to recognize Mr. LaForest, who said he and his colleagues had been elected purely as liberals, but later they gave the patronage of the country to Mr. Gagnon, and Mr. LaForest ent into the opposition camp. Two of the liberals supporting the overnment have in times past given valuable aid to the conservative party at federal elections. In fact, at the last election in Kings county Mr. King was a worker for Mr. Fowler, conservative, in opposition to Col. Domylile, the liberal member and party standard-bearer, while it is only a few years ago that George Robertson was himself a conservative candidate in St. John. Another liberal, Mr. Burchill, at the last federal election, gave his support, and powerful support it was, too, to James Robinson, M. P. for Northumberland, against his liberal opponent. John Morrison pponent, John Morrisey. This statement of the standing of the parties in the house and of the politi-cal views of the members may be of some interest from the fact that a new election must soon be held. A few weeks ago it seemed to be imminent, but now the indications are that the government will run its full time and call another session, which can be time until March or April next. In view of the fact that the elections must soon be held, there has been consider able activity among political leaders on both sides and already some candidates have been announced. At the last election Hon. H. R. Emmers was the premier. The conservative party in convention at Moncton had declared in favor of running provincial politics on straight party lines and made this their cry. Hon. Mr. Emmerson, on the other hand, issued a strong appeal to the electors to support the coalition principle, and sought his candidates from both parties. Because of the stand of the conservative party, all liberals supported Mr. Emmerson, and he was able also to return a very considerable portion of his conserva-tive following. The result was an over-whelming defeat of the opposition. At he forthcoming election the opposition will work on the same lines as the government. They accept the verdict of the people in favor of a coalition, and say, Why not as well a coalition with Mr. Hazen as premier as one with Mr. Tweedie as premier, and they further say the present gov-ernment has been in long enough, that it is time for a change, time a new set of men were at the head of affairs. Strong appeals are being made to liberals to support the movement for a change, and these are meeting with some measure of success, for already two very active liberals are anlounced as candidates against government tickets. One of these is F. M. Andersen of St. Martins, who will run against Hop. A. T. Dunn in St. John county. Another is Arthur Culligan, who will oppose Hon. C. H. Labillots in Restigouche. It may be taken for granted that there will be others, and in all probability the premier himself will have to face a strong ticket of going liberals and conservatives in his own with county. In this connection it may be noted that three of the present representatives from Northumberland re conservatives, while all four voted for the conservative candidate at the last federal election. On the government side every effort is being made to hold the friends of the past, and when defections are announced it is predicted that these will be offset by gains from the opposition ranks. The government of Mr. Twee die is a continuation of that established by Honn A. G. Blair in 1882. Mr. Blair naturally received a very generous (practically unanimous) support from the liberal party, although the covernment was in a sense a coalition, Hon. Mr. Emmerson. With the accession to the premiership of Hon. Mr. Tweedie, and the appointment of Hon. William Pugsley as attorney general, ipport was continued to here came some change. Liberals in he legislature of course continued their support to the government, but hroughout the country there was a feeling of unrest, many leading librals feeling that they ought not to ave been put in the position of havto, the conservative members of the cabinet, the three most important offi-

Some idea of the conditions prevailsome lines of the conditions prevailing may be gathered from the fact that the St. John Globe, the leading liberal paper in New Brunswick, and the personal organ of Senator Ellis, is telling liberals they are free to vote as they choose, and at the same time pointing out that the existing conditions have been detrimental to liberal interests, and that any observe will be iterests, and that any change will be etter than the government New Brunswick now has. The Moneton Transcript, another strong liberal jour-nal and believed to in a measure express the views of Hon. H. R. Emmer son, M. P., the late premier, is urging the election of liberals only. The Transcript declares that straight liberal ickets in one county and coalition tickets in another, as is now the case will not fill the bill. In its issue of sday last the Transcript says: "The palition system of government has fostered in New Brunswick a brood of political opportunists, who, devoid principle, seek to debase all others the same level," and "Let the prov nce of New Brunswick accentuate the mportance of political principle by di-viding provincial politics upon federal lines, and a great step towards reform will be taken.

M. McDade, a reporter of the legislature under Hon. A. G. Blair, a very outspoken liberal and a strong ad-mirer of the minister of railways, is ouring the province with Mr. Hazen, irging on liberals that it is time for a hange, and asking them to vote that way. Mr. Anderson, who, as already stated, has accepted a place on the opposition ticket in St. John, as an opponent of Hon. A. T. Dunn, is asking the support of liberals on the ground that he is a liberal, and that it is that he is a liberal, and that it is beneficial to liberalism that the present government at Fredericton should ne longer be kept in power. In Gloucester county Mr. Turgeron, M. P., has organized and put in the field a ticket of three liberals. These men, without saying whether they are for the government or against it are against for ernment or against it, are asking for support on the ground of their being support on the ground of their being liberals. Mr. Turgeroh, in his paper, claims that he, in his battle for Ottawa, had to fight the present representatives, one of whom, Mr. Young, claims to be a liberal, and he asks the liberals to be a noeral, and he asks the liberals to support his ticket and so make complete the great victory. Hon. Mr. Tweedie and Hon. Mr. Labillois have both made appeals to the people of Gloucester to defeat these liberals and to elect the old members. This of Gloucester to defeat these liberals, and to elect the old members. This statement of the conditions in some counties tells the tale of the feeling all of it.

A pretty story comes from Milan, Italy, about the composer Marchetti, who died recently. As Queen Margherita's music master he was a great favorite at the Italian court, where his modesty and amiability were highly appreciated. One day he appeared at the Quirinal, and, taking off his overcoat, as usual, in an antechamber, he entered a small drawing room, where the queen awaited him. The first greetings over, her majesty exclaimed: "Why, Marchetti, what do you look like? I declare, you are going about "Not to my knowledge," answered Marchetti.

An X-ray machine was used on Buettner, which, the surgeons declared, showed the teeth to be in the esophagus. Just as the latter had been opened the entire length a relative of Buettner rushed into the operating room with the missing set of teeth, which had been found in Buettners' bed. It was then learned that Buettner was suffering from a severe case of acute laryngittis. The pain in his throat led him to believe he had swallowed the teeth.
