HAVE FAITH IN ONE ANOTHER

Have faith in one another,
When yo meet in friendship's nathe,
I alte true friend is a brother.
And his heart should throb the same:
Though your paths in life may differ.
Since the hours when first yo mer.

Have faith in one another— You may need that friendship yet.

Have faith in one another.

When ye wifisper love's fond vow;
It will not be always summer,
Nor be always bright as now;
And when winter time comes o'er thee,
If some kindred heart ye share,
And have faith in one another.

Then you never shall despair.

Have faith in one another,
For should doubt alone incline
Twould make the world a desert.
Where the sun would never shine.
We have all some farmient sorrow.
That o'ershadows us to-day,
But have faith in one another,
And it soon shall pass away.

Have faith in one another.

And let honour be your guide;
And let truits alone be spoken,
Whatever may betide;
The false may reign a season.

And, oh! doubt not that it will—
Burkave faith in one another,
And the truth shall triumph still!

Canine Sagacity and Affection.—A person named Lankester, employed by the Southampton Dock Company, lives with his wife and family on board a hulk in the Tidal Basin, and has a son of twelve years of age. The boy was in the habit of feeding a dog named "Spot," who ran about the docks, and was disregarded by his master, so that the dog in time took up his principal residence on board the hulk. Though so contiguous to the water, Spot always resisted the coaxing of the boy to always resisted the coaxing of the boy to the bash and second in fact, afraid of the state of the same and second in fact, afraid of the state of the same and second in fact, afraid of the same and CANINE SAGACITY AND AFFECTION .- A always resisted the coaxing of the boy to take a bath, and seemed, in fact, afraid of it. A few days since the boy was stepping across from the hulk to the paddle-box of SCHOOLS & ACADEMIES. the Calpe steamer, alongside, when the plank slipped, and the boy fell into the water between the vessels, and, not being surveyed the water with apparent agony, and ou the boy's coming up again plunged in, and seized him by the back of his jacket and ou the boy's coming up again plunged in, and seized him by the back of his jacket collar, 'swam to the paddle plants, and there held on, keeping the boy well above water, till the steward of the Calpe, who had witnessed the accident, could descend down the paddle wheel (a very difficult task) and render his assistance. The boy was happlity rescued without having sustained any injury beyond the fright and the ducking. The dog exhibits increased delight at the presence of his young friend delight at the presence of his young friend water as the presence of his young friend the presence
