SCHOONER MINTO'S CREW HAD CLOSE CALL

Captain, Wife and Child, and Six of Crew at Chatham Hotel—Belonged to Newfoundland.

Chatham, N. B., July 1—(Special)—Captain Burke, wife and child and six of the crew of Schooner Minto who were rescued in mid ocean after their vessel foundered are quartered at the Babineau Hotel and expect to leave for home soon.

To The Telegraph correspondent the captain gave the following information:

The schooner Minto belonged to Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, and sailed from Newfoundland for Liverpool, on May 13th., with a cargo of coal. She was disabled in a very heavy storm in mid ocean on May 31st., and the whole crew, Captain Edgar Burke, wife and son, three years old, of Harbor Grace, James Wills of Harbor Grace, mate; Albert Williams of Harbor Grace, Cook; Fred Rowe, of Carbonear, Boatswain; Noah Murry, John Butt and Thomas French of Carbonear, seamen were rescued by the Barque Telefon, bound from Liverpool to Miramichi, on June 4th., which was the first sail sighted.

The rescued party endured every hardship and on May 31st and June 1st the storm was terrible, after which it abated. The bowsprit went and the vessel split seven feet from the keel, and they put a seaman forward to keep her together. The men worked at pumps unceasingly to keep her from foundering, and could not have held out much longer, when rescued. They speak in highest terms of the exceeding kindness received by Capt. Olsen and the crew of the Telefon.

FREDERICTON'S BIG SHOW

Prize Lists Out and Show Great Attractions for the Exhibition.

The prize lists of the Fredericton Exhibition, Industrial and Agricultural Fair and Live Stock Show have come to hand. The booklet does great credit to the management of the big show. It contains a lot of valuable information for prospective exhibitors and to the public generally. It covers the general arrangements, which are on an extensive scale, and gives complete and full information regarding entries, as to how they should be made and the rules governing them. Space, how it is to be laid out and how to make application, also comes in for attention. Then the rules of judging are given, general regulations as to live stock, payment of prizes, transportation, fire and police protection, etc.

The executive announce that any further or detail information will be furnished on applying to the secretary, W. S. Hooper.

It is anounced that every possible arrangement has been made for the comfort and convenience of visitors. The hotels of the city, being ample for any occasion, will adhere to their regular rates, and the citizens will co-operate with the association in every practical manner in contributing to the pleasure of visitors.

The exhibition promises to be the best and most elaborate ever held in Fredericton, and one of the largest, if not the largest, held in the maritime provinces. It will open on Sept. 21. The ground space is being increased to a great extent, buildings are to be erected and the attractions to be put on will surpass the usual thing in that line.

The exhibits will be divided into some thirteen divisions, which include a "miscellaneous class," to be composed of all classes of the baker's art, bread, cake, etc. These divisions are under the following heads: Horses, Cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and pet stock, dairy products, honey and apiary supplies, agricultural products, horticultural products, manufactures and industrial department, according to space, miscellaneous department, education and natural history, fine arts and domestic department.

The prizes are large and attractive, and are sure to induce many entries in all classes. The prize lists were printed and bound by The Daily Telegraph, and can be had from W. S. Hooper, secretary of the exhibition executive, Fredericton.

SAY HE IS A SMUGGLER

(Portland, Maine, Advertiser.)

The U. S. deputy marshals made an important capture Saturday night at Caribou when they took into custody Reny Thibodeau, of Andover (N. B.), for smuggling liquor into the state.

Thibodeau is an old hunter who has bothered the officials much by his successful work in smuggling goods over the line into Fort Farfield and Caribou and the officers have been after him for the last year. Several months ago one of the Caribou constables succeeded in capturing him and he was locked up but he made his escape and since that time the state officers have kept a vigilant watch for him.

On Saturday night last Deputy Collector C. P. Whitney and Constable H. J. Fisher caught him in Caribou. He had with him at the time two dozen long neckers in bags. He was taken to the jail at Caribou and a special watchman was appointed to see that he did not make another effort to escape.

Monday night Deuty U. S. Marshal Haskell, of this city, went to Caribou and brought the prisoner to Bangor where he was given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Hamlen and bound over to the September term of the U. S. district court which sets in Bath.

The prisoner was very peaceable this time and showed no signs of fight nor attempt to escape the law. The capture is an important one as it brings into custody one of the most troublesome smugglers in the state. The officers are congratulating themselves on the capture, and in turn are receiving the highest praise for their good work.

The recent energetic campaign against the smugglers is meeting with fine results and this capture adds one more to the long list of those that have been recently brought into the clutches of the law.

Rev. L. V. Broughall, C. S. C., of St. Joseph's University, left Friday for his home in the States. At Vanceboro he discovered that he had lost a check for $100, and sent word of his loss here.
