Speaking to a Winnipeg audience one day last week, William Jennings Bryan said: "Canada is the only country in the world that can take the American farmer away and keep him away."

In his report on the city of Moose Jaw, Commissioner McKellar states that it has made a high record in permanent expansion and prosperity in all lines of business. The inrush of new settlers to the district was heavy. The number of quarter section entries for the nine months ending September 30th, was 13,113, and now cover an area of over 5,000,000 acres. There are no blanks in this settlement, every available half section fit for cultivation being occupied. From 1901 to 1906 Moose Jaw's population quadrupled, and from 1906 to 1909 the population more than doubled. The agricultural population in the district has increased at a much greater rate. Our industries and wholesale houses have only commenced. They will develop rapidly, being supported by an extensive farming community in a great wheat growing district.
