We Can Sell Livestock Horses - Cattle - Sheep - Swine

The Guide's Farmers' Market Place has a separate division for each of the above classes of livestock. If you have one or more breeding animals of good class for sale or young stock to dispose of this department can help you find the best market. We are doing it every week for others, why not for you?

The Guide's "Farmers' Market Place" is planned so as to co-operate with the readers in affording them an economical opening to wider markets. A glance at this page will show the many departments into which it is divided. This affords the prospective buyer a quick method of referring to the section in which he will find offerings in the line he intends to buy. Naturally he will look over all the advertisements in that particular section before making his choice.
This means that every advertisement will be read by every prospective buyer. This is the strong advantage of this classified section.

Advertising rates are given at the top of this page. Send in your order now accompanied by the amount for the number of times you wish your ad. to run, and let The Guide demonstrate to you, as it has to hundreds of other farmers, how it can sell.

The Grain Growers' Guide - Winnipeg, Man.

showed nearly all the Jersey winners.

The exhibits of sheep and swine were very fair but there were practically no new exhibitors out.

DUFF-MEREDITH REPORT

The report of the Duff-Meredith commission which investigated the fuse charges was made public at Ottawa on July 21. It finds that the evidence establishes that neither General Hughes, General Bertram, Colonel Carnegie, nor any member of the shell committee had any knowledge of the arrangement between Yoakum and Allison as to commission or suspected that Allison expected to receive any commission or reward on account of, or in connection with, the contract made with the American Ammunition Co., or the negotiations which led up to the making of it.
After having given the matter the greatest consideration the commissioners cannot accept Allison's explanation that he was acting solely out of friendship for General Hughes. On the contrary they find that Allison was instrumental in bringing about a contract in which, thru his agreement with Yoakum of February, 1915, he was peculiarly interested, with the knowledge that he would be entitled to share equally with Yoakum in any benefit that Yoakum might receive, either by way of commission or otherwise.

Alleged Discrimination

With regard to alleged discrimination against Canadian manufacturers in the placing of orders for munitions, the commissioners find that Col. Carnegie was undoubtedly anxious that all munitions of war obtainable should be produced in Canada and that he made considerable efforts to bring about the manufacturing of time fuses in the Dominion. Subsequently it was found that it would be impossible to secure delivery of such fuses within the time set and consequently they had to be obtained elsewhere. With regard to fuse fuses, which could be satisfactorily manufactured in Canada, the commissioners consider that Col. Bertram and Col. Carnegie were justified in believing that the shell committee was committed by letter of May 21 to purchase these fuses from Bassick and his associates, but "fully recognizing as we do the imperative duty of persons in the position in which Col. Carnegie found himself, to deal honorably with those with whom they are negotiating, and to carry out promises they have given, the not legally binding on them, even if loss may be suffered in doing it, we feel bound to say that we do not think a high-minded business man, with Col.
Carnegie's responsibilities, and experience in affairs, would have come to the conclusion to which Col. Carnegie came as to the obligation the committee was under, or that he would have hesitated to make what arrangements the new conditions called for, regardless of the fact that the persons with whom he was negotiating might be disappointed, or even suffer loss." Later the report states, "We do not doubt that, in the actual circumstances in which he found himself on May 23, Col. Carnegie was actuated by what he rightly deemed to be the urgency of the case."

HOOSIER POET DEAD

James Whitcombe Riley, the "Hoosier Poet," died suddenly of paralysis, at Indianapolis, on Saturday, July 22.
He was born in Greensfield, Ind., in 1853, the son of a leading attorney. After receiving a common school education he acquired a taste for a roving life, later joining a strolling company of actors for whom he composed songs and remodelled plays. He began contributing verse to Indiana papers in 1873. His study of the "Hoosier" dialect enabled him to write poems in that vernacular which obtained a wide popularity and earned him the name of the "Hoosier Poet." Of late years it has been increasingly recognized that he is of permanent significance in American literature, not only for individual pieces, but as a creator of type. He was awarded the gold medal for poetry by the American Academy of Arts and Letters. Probably one of his most famous poems is "The Barefoot Boy."
