PASSION VS. REASON.

The key note of the present political situation was struck at the meeting of Thursday night by one of the speakers, who asserted that appeals made to passion must in the end give way before calm, deliberate argument addressed to reason. The Clarke boom is based entirely upon passion. Clarke himself is an outgrowth of passion, and had the convention which nominated him been controlled by influences which appeal to the common sense of men he never could have become a candidate.

Clarke has given assurance to those who have been led into tendering him support, that he will prove the evil genius of the government at Ottawa. He promises to afford this people revenge for wrongs—some real, some fancied—and tells them that he will bring to terms ministers of the crown who have had charge of the conduct of affairs in this territory. It is an idle boast that he makes—absolutely beyond his power to carry into effect—and even granting his ability to do the things he threatens—there could be no good end attained for the country thereby.

With respect to the candidature of Mr. Ross, the case is entirely different. The supporters of Mr. Ross have regard to the practical phases of the situation. They direct the attention of the electorate to the fact that there are pressing needs before the community which require able representation at Ottawa in order that those needs may receive due consideration. Mr. Ross represents the great mass of enterprising, intelligent, progressive men who believe in the future of the Yukon, and who with minds alert and with muscles strained are engaged in constructing a great commonwealth from the raw material so generously supplied by nature.

To this buoyant, hopeful, self-reliant army of men, who have regard not alone for their own individual interests, but who are mindful also of the common welfare of the community, there is nothing in the dark promises of reticence held out by Clarke that they deem worthy of consideration.

They are concerned in securing the utmost advantages that possibly can be secured from the right of representation in parliament. They have watched the course of Mr. Ross during his tenure of office as Yukon commissioner and they know full well that in him they have a man who stands for the spirit of progress which is essentially the spirit of the Yukoner. They see in Mr. Ross a man who understands the wants of the district and who has given unmistakable evidence of the fact that he is prompt and effective in securing results. When Mr. Ross arrived in Dawson, he looked over the field and saw that the country was suffering from a badly organized public service and from a system of roadways entirely inadequate to the necessities of the situation.

Within a month after his arrival he had introduced a movement which in less than two years has given to the Yukon its splendid public buildings and a network of highways which are the wonder and admiration of everyone who visits the district. All this has been accomplished within less than two years and merely indicates what may be anticipated in the event that Mr. Ross is sent down to Ottawa as the accredited representative of the district before the house of commons.

All that the supporters of Mr. Ross ask of the voters of the district is to set aside passion and view the situation from the standpoint of reasonable men. Let them take the assurance of Clarke that he will drive Minister Sifton from public life and that he will remove the Hon. Justice Dugas from the bench and place those assurances side by side with the practical, public benefits dealt with in the Ross platform and to which Mr. Ross is pledged and then let them determine as shrewd, honest and intelligent men where their interests will best be protected. Passion may triumph for the time being but in the end, as Thursday night's meeting demonstrated beyond the peradventure of a doubt, reason will triumph.

To make use of a vernacular expression the Clarke organization is entirely "shot to pieces." Confidence in Clarke was lost long ago, and the disintegrating process to which his forces have been subjected of late has resulted in reducing his following to practically nothing. If anything was lacking to complete his discomfiture, Clarke himself furnished it in his speech of Thursday night. When the floods of lillings-gate which he turned loose upon the assembled audience had partially subsided Clarke was left with scarcely a friend in the house other than the faithful gang who had been scattered about the house for "boosting" purposes. As far as Joseph Andrew Clarke is concerned his doom as a factor in Yukon political life was effectually sealed on Thursday night.

There is nothing in the personality or in the public record of Joe Clarke to attract the confidence of any voter. He has never stood for anything or anybody but Clarke. He has sacrificed friends, principles and everything else that stood between him and the attainment of the opposition leadership. His end was accomplished by fraud and trickery and the natural consequence has been that Joe is fighting a single-handed battle and those men who have been foremost in the opposition movement in bygone years are exerting themselves to the utmost to accomplish his political ruin. Clarke is reaping today just what he has sown.

The Independent, a weekly paper which has sprung into being from the shipwreck of Joe Clarke's Miner, is a recent competitor for public patronage and support. The Independent is after Joe's scalp and evidently finds it a task to make the old Miner plant do duty in such unaccustomed service. The following paragraph from the initial number is undoubtedly spoken from the heart: "This paper is a bad one, and we know it, but teaching an old dog new tricks isn't it with trying to get out a Sunday school paper on the old Miner plant."

General business has been more brisk in Dawson during the present fall than was the case for the same period last year. The Fortymile, Sixtymile, Stewart and other outlying districts have been splendid patrons of local commercial concerns, and will buy more goods next year than ever. With the assurance that this trade will continually increase and with the prospect before the town from a quartz standpoint, the future of the city is bright with promise.

For Hockey Players: The directors of the Dawson Amateur Athletic Association will probably provide a handsome trophy to be competed for by the teams in the hockey league.

WHO WILL BE THE NOMINEE?

urging him to come forward as a candidate for parliament. "I feel that I cannot consistently do it. You must remember that I was the chairman of the Joe Clarke convention. I should have made my protest then. I did not make it. I have taken no part in the present campaign and I do not intend to take any, unless, of course, the candidate himself, or his representative, should formally come and ask me to become the opposition candidate."

This means that Dr. Thompson personally will take no steps whatever to step into the political arena as a candidate for parliament. He is so straight and honest in all his views that he does not see how he could possibly live on the salary of a member of parliament. He can not afford to give up the emoluments of his medical practice for a salary so entirely insufficient, and he does not see, as Mr. Clarke does, that a member of parliament can make plenty of money "on the side."

Mr. Joseph Andrew Clarke undoubtedly has this "on the side" money in view, and although his best friends now see that he cannot be elected, it is hard for them to persuade him to withdraw in favor of a candidate who, as an opposition candidate, might possibly, because of his cleaner reputation, stand some show of being elected. If Clarke cannot himself be elected—and he is beginning to appreciate this—he will insist upon the selection of a candidate with whom, in the event of his election, he can make a "deal." For, as Clarke indignantly stated at the A. B. hall last Thursday night, he is not a Tammany man. He does not believe in a "divvy," he wants the whole of the "gate money."

Falling in Dr. Thompson's friends of the opposition this morning called upon Mr. Woodworth, and it may be said at this writing that Mr. Woodworth is wavering. Those who favor Mr. Woodworth's candidature are impressed with the fact that he would have a good show at Ottawa. Joe Clarke has not a single friend there, and is not calculated to make many. When Mr. Woodworth was there last winter he was entertained by a member of the present cabinet. It was suggested to him this morning that the one defect in the canvass of Clarke, namely, that he could not possibly obtain the endorsement of the leader of the opposition party, would in the case of Mr. Woodworth be entirely removed. A telegram to Mr. Borden this afternoon would bring an immediate endorsement of Mr. Woodworth as the opposition candidate.

This is one of the most forceful reasons that have been laid before Mr. Woodworth, and that is why he is here recorded as wavering. It is now thoroughly well appreciated in Dawson and on the creeks that if Joe Clarke should be elected to the house of commons he would be a nonentity there. He would go there with his empty boast of "impeaching Sifton," and would not have a voice on either side of the house to ask that the "honorable" member from the Yukon be granted time in which to launch his scow of personal abuse. There is another candidate who will undoubtedly—it is believed at this writing—put up his deposit. This is Martin Gately, a man who has a deep hatred of Clarke and all his works. Clarke has spoken sneeringly of the Irish and of the Home Rule question, and Martin is an Irish Catholic. He has found that there are 417 Irishmen with votes in this territory. He believes not one of these can possibly be cast for Clarke. This is a pretty large vote to go into the campaign with, and Martin believes that with the announcement of his candidature in opposition to Clarke many other will flock to his standard.

The Ross meeting at the A. B. hall tomorrow night, at which will be announced the real candidates of the campaign, will probably be one of the most interesting gatherings of the campaign. It will bring forward an entirely new speaker, the only one who in the debates of last winter was held to be a match for the ready and eloquent F. T. Congdon. This is Robert L. Grimes, who was an American and therefore not particularly interested in local politics, but who last Friday said that it would be a shame to send a hoodlum like Clarke to Ottawa and he would take out his naturalization papers just in order to vote against him. He did so. As a speaker Mr. Grimes is already well known, and there are many who will attend the Ross meeting in A. B. hall tomorrow night in order to hear him.

There is likely to be a very sensational announcement at the opening of this meeting, one which will take the wind out of the sails of Mr. Grimes himself. This will be the fact that a new name entirely has been nominated in place of that of Clarke, or that, the new candidate being too modest, Mr. Beddoe, who has never been charged with anything as serious as modesty, had put up his ticket and decided "to run for the Canadian Congress." It is rumored that Mr. Prudhomme stated on Saturday that he would himself run as a candidate for parliament if it should seem necessary for the purpose of beating Joe Clarke. He may be a candidate when the nominations close tomorrow. He is going to run for reelection by the Yukon council anyway and his friends think he has a good chance of securing the whole Clarke vote, and the whole Conservative vote which is now going to Ross, if he comes out as a candidate for parliament.

The dilemma in which Mr. Prudhomme is placed, however, is the same as that which confronts Dr. Thompson, who undoubtedly is the most popular candidate the opposition could select. Mr. Prudhomme, Dr. Thompson and Mr. Woodworth, by their prominence in the Clarke convention, are barred from competing out. But if the followers of Clarke go to either of these men and absolutely withdraw their support from Clarke, as they did today, either one of the gentlemen named would surely step into the place of Clarke as the opposition candidate. It may be said that Mr. Prudhomme is giving this careful consideration, and that if he does not accept a nomination he will vote for Ross in preference to Clarke.

Fought With Swords: Paris, Oct. 7.—The death of Emil Zola was the indirect cause of a duel between General Percin, chief of the cabinet of the minister of war, and Gaston Poulonais, a well-known Nationalist writer, who was responsible for the statement that General Percin met Dreyfus at Zola's late residence and shook hands with him. The general in his letter replying to the question of Count Boni de Castellane on this subject, described M. Poulonais as a "renegade Jew," and also told the count he did not admit the latter had any right to judge his actions. M. Poulonais then challenged Gen. Percin and they fought with swords near St. Cloud yesterday. The duel lasted for 25 minutes, and both men fought vigorously. M. Poulonais was pricked in the arm in the first encounter. Gen. Percin's sword broke in the fifth round. The general received his wound in the hand in the seventh encounter. A vein and a tendon were severed. The doctors then stopped the duel.

Shifty Joseph: The Editor Klondike Nugget—Dear Sir.—The following paragraph in a report signed by Joseph A. Clarke will be interesting reading when taken in connection with that person's violent and base attack upon Judge Dugas at the Thursday evening meeting. The closing paragraph of the report reads as follows, and it may be of interest to any Conservative who is foolish enough to support Clarke. Clarke says: "The action of their opponents, the Conservatives, in giving countenance to a violent and malicious attack upon the one official prominent as both a just and conscientious official and friend of the people in their demand for representative government, in the person of Mr. Justice Dugas, shows that political advancement is more desirable than the interest of our territory. The honorable judge's actions throughout his tenure of office, and especially his stand on the present movement, should place him above the scurrilous attacks and remarks of a political opportunist with such a record as that possessed by the leader of the opposition who fathered this last disgraceful attack."

It would almost seem that Joseph was rebuking himself, that is, Satan condemning sin. Truly "the people's Joseph," commonly called "side door Joe," is a most amusing case. Yours, ANTI-BLATHERSKITE, Dawson, 1st Nov., 1902.

World's Fair Rapid Transit: St. Louis, Oct. 10.—It will cost $75,000 to construct and equip the rapid transit system upon the World's Fair grounds. The length of the road and its branches will be eight miles and it will enable the visitors to see the vast exposition with as little fatigue as possible. The problem in planning the intramural road has been to place it where it would not mar the beauty of the exposition. Eminent engineers have been called into consultation and all phases of the project thoroughly studied. It is believed the plan presented by Charles V. Weston of Chicago, comes nearest to a perfect solution of the difficulty. Owing to the varying altitudes of the exposition grounds the road will be at times an elevated line and in other parts built at grade or below the surface. The trip on the intramural will be one of the most delightful diversions for visitors to the exposition.

Treaty Defied: Constantinople, Oct. 4.—Excited comment has been caused by the fact that the Grand Duke Nicholas of Russia arrived here on the ironclad Georgi Pobiedonozts, which, owing to the insistence of Russia, was permitted at the last moment to pass the naval forts. The warship anchored in full view of the Yildiz Kiosk. The censor suppressed all mention of the word "ironclad," but the Mussulman population was deeply impressed by what was regarded as another instance of Russia overriding the clause of the Berlin treaty, which closes the Bosphorus to foreign warships. The Sultan is showing extraordinary attention to the Grand Duke, and is treating him on the same footing as a sovereign.

Prosperous Colony: St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 3.—The revenue of the colony for the quarter ending September 30th reaches a total of $550,000, which is $20,000 more than the revenue for the corresponding period of last year. The revenue for this quarter of 1901 was the highest ever collected during any three months in the colony's fiscal history. The prosperity of Newfoundland is now greater than ever, and all branches of business are booming.

ACTIVITY IN QUARTZ

All the Conglomerate Claims Renewed

The Government Stamp Mill and Assay Office Probably be at Work Next Week.

At midnight on Saturday there were over 150 quartz claims on the conglomerate on Indian river which would have expired, but on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning they were all renewed. This made a busy time for the quartz recorder's office, as in addition to this there were during the past month 90 less than two hundred transfers, some of them for large monetary considerations. The amount of work done and recorded during the past month was also unusually large, and quite a number of crown grants were applied for. The number of new discoveries of quartz for the month was over one hundred.

Another thing which will be a stimulus for the prospecting for quartz this winter is the opening of the government quartz mill, which will take place in a few days. The new machinery which was ordered closed navigation, and the Mungler will near the Ogilvie bridge is to be used this winter. That is to say, the stamps of this mill will be used for all the rest of the outfit is new. It is a new building, and everything pertaining to the amalgamating and the other processes is new. Also, the appliances of the assay office in connection with the mill are all new. It is intended to run ores through the mill and to give reliable assays of their value free for the first two months, and after that to make assays at merely nominal rates to meet the running expenses of the mill and assay office. It is likely that more ore will be received than can be treated during the two free months, and therefore prospectors would do well to deliver their ores at the mill early, as they will be treated in the order in which they are received.
