

SUFFERED AGONY FROM DYSPEPSIA

"Fruit-a-Lives" Makes Wonderful Cure

CLARENCE, ONT., Aug. 15th, 1911.
 "So much has been said and written about 'Fruit-a-Lives' that it might seem unnecessary for me to add my experience. But 'Fruit-a-Lives' were so beneficial to me when I suffered with distressing Dyspepsia, that I feel called upon to inform you of the remarkable and satisfactory results I have had from using them."
 "Dyspepsia and indigestion as everyone knows, can give you more uncomfortable hours and days than most persons complainants."
 "I am glad to be able to say to you that I was in the past suffering, excruciating agony with Dyspepsia, I am now perfectly well."
 "'Fruit-a-Lives' accomplished the desired result and I have to thank them for my very favorable and satisfactory state of health."
 N. C. STIRLING.
 "Why don't you try 'Fruit-a-Lives'?" you are asked, for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-Lives Limited, Ottawa.

Unfair! Unfair!

Two temperance workers sat on the platform. Two saloonkeepers sat down near the door. One of the temperance speakers was known to be mighty in invective against the saloon and the saloonkeeper. The other was a gentle, quiet, but convincing reasoner concerning the damage done by the liquor traffic.
 Said one of the saloon men: "I am more afraid of the quiet argument of that old man than that of all the hard language of that young speaker. Following we give in outline the speech of the quiet old man that the saloon man feared. The whole address may be summed up in this short sentence: 'The liquor traffic is unfair.'"
 The Liquor Traffic is Unfair to the City.—It makes the saloon a city in attitude; all its impurity and crime a city of impurity and crime. What ever disgraces the traffic, disgraces the city and the city license taker it. The citizen are made partners in the criminality of the saloon.
 The Liquor Traffic is Unfair to the Home.—The principal business of a city or village is the making of homes. Nothing should be allowed in the city but such as conduces to the benefit of the home. We know of nothing in all of life in any nation that damages the home as does the liquor saloon.
 The Liquor Traffic is Unfair to the Drinker.—It takes his money, it takes his strength, it takes his reputation, it takes his character. It takes his clearness of brain, it takes his skill of hand; it takes his satisfaction in life, and his hope of eternal life; it takes away his manhood and his God. It gives nothing in return.
 The Liquor Traffic is Unfair to the Business Man.—It gets the first grab at the workman's wages by trapping him Saturday and Sunday just after he has been paid his weekly wage. It shows its greed by keeping open long after other stores are closed. It plays upon his weakness and passions and unites them for legitimate business. It strips them of their money and precludes the possibility of their paying their legitimate bills.
 The Liquor Traffic is Unfair to Labor.—It uses up raw material, employing a less number of men in the process than any other business. It employs a far smaller number of men for the money invested than any other activity. It makes life for the laborer, in these days of machinery, exceedingly disagreeable. It makes him a man who, without it, is a very capable workman. It spends for the laborer all his money, and makes it impossible for him to live and buy a home. Everything that makes against the laborer also is a damage to the employers of labor.
 The Liquor Traffic is Unfair to the Community.—Schools are not so well attended from the houses of drinking

WOMAN SICK FOR YEARS

Wants Other Women to Know How She was Finally Restored to Health.

Hammond, Ont., Aug. 15th, 1911.
 "I am passing through the Change of Life and for two years had hot flushes very bad, headaches, soreness in the back of head, was constipated, and had weak, nervous feelings. The doctor who attended me for a number of years did not help me, but I have been entirely relieved of the above symptoms by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier and Liver Pills, and give you permission to publish my testimonial."
 Mrs. LOUIS BEAUCAGE, Sr., Hammond, Ont., Canada.
 New Brunswick, Canada.—"I can highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any suffering woman. I have taken it for female weakness and painful menstruation and it cured me."
 Mrs. DEWEY, BARBOUR, Harvey Bank, New Brunswick, Canada.
 Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and has recently attracted testimonials on file in the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact. Every suffering woman owe it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.
 If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (containing) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Sure It Was Right.

"If I only was that is right!" whispered Sam to himself, after he had finished his sum and was about to take it up to the teacher.
 "Pooh!" whispered Dick over his shoulder, take it up. She's too busy to look at it closely, and won't know whether it is right or not.
 "What did you tell me that for?" Sam demanded of Dick when they went out to recess.
 "That's the way to get along easy," answered Dick.
 "But it isn't getting along easy that I'm after; it's being doing right that I'm after. If my work isn't done right it won't do me any good to have it passed by the teacher. I want to be sure I am right."
 A great man once said, "I would rather be right than President. A small man—I mean in spirit—would rather be right than a boy who looks at getting through more closely than he does at being exactly right is apt to make a small, mean man in character, however much money or success he may gain."
 Do not suffer another day with PILES. No relief, no cure, until you use Dr. Chase's Ointment which relieves you at once, and as certainly cures you. It is a part of our medicine, and we guarantee it. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 10c stamp to pay postage.

And Now The Apple Crop is in Danger.

A Montreal despatch says: It is stated that the plague of tent caterpillars which has recently attracted so much attention throughout this province is likely to have a serious effect upon the apple crop, not only of this, but of next year. Wherever modern spraying methods have not been practised, the orchards have suffered severely, while many of them have been as completely denuded of leaves as though a fire had gone through them. This, it is stated by experts, will not cause permanent damage to the trees, will almost certainly greatly reduce the crop, while the upsetting of ordinary leaving conditions, and the extra demands on the trees to turn out a fresh supply of leaves after the caterpillars have finished their work, will probably seriously affect next season's crop.

GLAD HE CAME

An English Immigrant Writes to an English Paper About Canada

"A Sparhawk Man" writing from Toronto to an English exchange, says: "I have been out here eight years and I can safely say that I have never regretted coming. I am a painter by trade, but I have not followed it up here. I have been farming for 8 years, and during the other two years have done all kinds of work. I have worked in the bush and on the rail roads and also on large buildings in Montreal and other big towns. I have been all over Canada, and I think it is a fine country for a working man. I can safely say I have not been out of work, except through my own fault. I have read a lot of the letters sent to you by some of the boys out here. Some of them are all right, but others are from fellows who say they are willing to work, I have come across a lot of them on the farms, and they are always running the farms down, though the farmer pays them good wages, while these men do not carry their board. The first year I got 70 dollars for eight months' work, but I was willing to do anything in this country you will get along. There are a lot of men from home about here who are always saying 'That's not the way to do it in the Old Land,' but they seem to forget that there is the water between them and the Old Land. I believe in the motto, 'When you are in Rome, do as Rome does.' We have had a very long and cold winter this year, and it has been hard on some of the boys in the towns, but things are beginning to open up now. There is going to be lots of work out here this summer. I have not done much work myself this winter, as I have been taking a rest; but now the spring has come I guess I shall have to get busy, as I am going to start for myself in the cement business."

NORTHERN CANADA

Where Coal Can be Dug From the Surface With a Shovel
 That the two largest coal fields in the world have been discovered on Canadian soil is the belief of Captain James, a member of the Canadian exploration party aboard Captain Bertram's "Arctic." The fields, Captain James says, are located in Baffin's Land and the two are just 300 miles apart. In spite of their high altitude, he declares they will be workable in the year round. The coal is so easily secured that it can be dug from the surface with a shovel.
 "This northern part of Canada will be the greatest country in the world," said Captain James. "I believe that the report of the Arctic's last voyage when it is made public will be of great value."
 Captain James spent eight months prospecting alone. He was hundreds of miles from the ship during that period. His discoveries show that thousands of years ago Baffin's Land was a very different piece of country from what it is at the present time. Twenty-five feet under the surface he discovered an immense forest in a state of perfect preservation. The trees, pointing due east and west, are laid as flat as a wheatfield blown down by a cyclone. The timber, he declares, is in perfect shape. Even the cones from the tree tops are as fresh as the day they fell.

LABOR ON THE FARM

Farmers Are Advised to Hire Their Help by the Year
 H. A. MacDonald who has charge of the Ontario Labor Bureau hand out the following advice to farmers:
 (1) First and foremost, arrange to employ a man by the year. We have found that the farmer who employs his help by the year, especially if he is able to supply a house and a small piece of land, is the farmer who has the least trouble over the help problem. It is the better way for the man, as well as for the farmer. If you feel your work does not warrant the employment of a man the year round you might be well advised to consider the question of taking up a few more branches of farm work or handling additional live stock, and in this way we feel satisfied you would more than make up the extra cost of the help.
 (2) Do not be too exacting about getting an experienced man. Experienced farm laborers are rare at the present time, as there is a large demand for them in the Old Country as well as on this side. If you take an inexperienced man, recognizing that he is unfamiliar with the conditions in this country, and devote a little attention to training him for a few seasons, you will find, in a season or two, that he will prove very useful to you. Being reasonable in the matter of treatment and wages is essential if hired help is to be retained.

Would Fall in a Faint

This letter from Mrs. Martin well describes the terrible condition in which many a sufferer finds herself. She also tells how she regained health and strength by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food after all other treatments had failed.

Mrs. Edwin Martin, Ayer's Cliff, Que., writes:—"Before I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I was in a terrible condition from nervous exhaustion and prostration. Dizzy spells would come over me and I would fall to the floor. The weakness was so great that I could not so much as sweep the floor without fainting, but the nerve food helped me after the doctors failed. It has done wonders in building up my nervous system. I can do my own housework now and washing, and feel that this great medicine has been a God-send to me. I think it is the best of medicines."
