Among recent property changes in Kings county were the following: The Otis Eagles farm at Grand Pre to Wm. Beggs, of North Grand Pre; the Rufus Barnaby property at Kentville to Brenton Davison, Gaspereau; the James Kennickell farm at Port Williams to Dexter Collins, of the same place; and one of Geo. Pineo's farms at Somerset to James Kennickell.

A year ago today, on the forty-third anniversary of the destruction of the old Acadia College building by fire, College Hall with all its contents suffered a similar fate. Thus far the construction of a new building has not been begun but it is hoped that before another year rolls by a handsome structure, a real credit to the friends of the institution, may occupy the old site.

The price of building is becoming stabilized, and another drop is not expected this year. The feeling is that labor costs must drop if building is to be stimulated, in proportion to the drop in the cost of living. It is complained however, that while a great number of foodstuff prices are lower, rents show little decline, and amount to one third or over of the average man's wages.

The Methodist Sunday School held its annual rally last Sunday morning and a most encouraging event it was in every respect. Every eligible child of the church was present. The pastor addressed the young people on loyalty to home and companions, church and Sunday School and to our Heavenly Father. The adults present, no less than the little ones, were profoundly touched by the sermon.

Dr. Walter Chipman, of Montreal, a graduate of Acadia, class of 1890, who has always been deeply interested in Bridgetown, his native place, has presented the Bridgetown Lawn Tennis Club with a life-long lease of a piece of property on the east side of the new Cemetery Street, at the rear of Mr. Elias Messenger's property. Dr. Chipman formerly made the town a present of the street referred to, and is ready to prepare it for grading when the town is ready to take it over officially and complete the work of making it a first-class street.

THE SILENCE OF THE PRESS

Newspaper publicity will keep alive any topic, no matter how dead it should be, and the same applies to the individual says the Walkerton Telescope. A man in public life can be broken as easily as he can be made by publicity. Take men whose names were on every lip during the war. Where are they now and what are they doing? Nobody knows and nobody cares. The newspapers have thrown them into the discard so far as publicity is concerned and the public in turn forgets their very existence. Such is fame.

Don't argue politics with a friend.

No man's opinion of himself is going to have much influence in getting him into heaven.
