New Year's Day.—New Year's Day passed off very quietly yesterday. There was nothing of much interest going on beyond the elections, and these were not very exciting. There was curling in the riok in the morning, skating in the eyening, and skating on the river. A few of the spertemen held a pigeon pop. These were the only amusements, the majority of the people seemed to enjoy themselves quietly at home, and visiting their friends.

Nimina A Fine.—There was nearly a fire at the St. George's Ward school yesterday. School Trustee Anderson, in his tour of voting, took occasion to inspect the Central and other schools, to see that they were properly cleaned for the opening. He in company with Mr. Robert Parker, went through the St. George Wardschool. Mr. Anderson thought he smelt a strange smell, and, on examination, found that one of the hot air registers from the furnace had charred the wood work and was about acting fire to it. Assistance was procured and the fire put out. Had it had five minutes more start the whole brilding would have been consumed. The register is being fixed today. Blame is to battanched to some party for the caroless way in which the register was erected, so near the frame work without any protection.
