LOCAL RESIDENT HEIR TO FORTUNE

Former Waterville Lady one of the Heirs to $66,000,000 Estate of Sir Francis Drake—Money Has Been in Bank for 200 Years—Many Relatives in this Section.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. (Drake) Hull, 46 Green street, Lynn, Mass., claims to be one of the 29 heirs to the fortune left by Sir Francis Drake, the noted English explorer and sea rover. This fortune is said to amount to about $66,000,000 and has been in English banks for over 200 years and the heirs are now attempting to recover it.

In conversation with a gentleman in town yesterday the story of the Drake fortune was verified. The gentleman interviewed had a knowledge of the fortune and said that it was common talk among the various members of the family now residing in this vicinity that there was a very close relationship between them and the venerable gentlemen that died so long since and left this immense fortune. Our informant seemed well informed about the family affairs of Mrs. Elizabeth Hull and said that her husband was Robert Hull, formerly of Woodstock.

There have been numerous attempts made to regain the treasure that is now sought after and perhaps the people that are now interested are in possession of more details and more proof as to their relationship to the late possessor of this now immense fortune. The dispatch from Lynn states that Mrs. Hull intends upon receiving her expected share of the fortune to devote her entire time to charity among the poor of Lynn in whom she is greatly interested. The many friends of the Drake family in this section of the country wish them every success in their endeavors to regain the fortune of their ancestor.

BATH

Bath, N. B., April 20—The Easter holy days and holidays have come and as one person said—have went. Most of our young folk who came home for Easter, have returned to various institutions of learning, and others to business life. Among the post-Lenten celebrations were the Easter Monday Ball at Tara Hall, Johnville, which was well attended, and the ball at the K. P. Hall at Bath on Wednesday. Also the card party at the home of Miss Gallagher.

The ladies of the Hospital Aid met at the home of Mrs. S. McDonald, on Friday afternoon and engaged in their usual altruistic work. Monthly meeting of members of Women's Institute at Mrs. Garfield Larlee's residence. Program, business and a social hour on Tuesday.

Paul Wright, the new manager of the local telephone system, has moved into the premises of Charles Gibson on Mechanic street.

Miss Nellie Giberson is making a most successful trip through Bath and vicinity in the interests of a firm putting out a line of high class toilet requisites and beautifiers.

While a case was being tried in the local court, word was brought that the home of Newcombe Parker was on fire, and owing to the fact that every one in court speedily vanished to assist in getting the fire under control, an adjournment was imperative. In less than twenty minutes, thanks to the energy displayed, all that remained of the effects of the conflagration was a hole in the roof, and some damage by water. It was not found necessary to remove Mrs. Parker, who is slowly recovering from the illness which necessitated the recent operation.

Two new pupils have joined the advanced class now being taught by Mrs. Stanley Barker, privately at her residence.

Pat McFarlane, principal of our school, who went to his home in Fredericton, returned to his duties with renewed health and ambition.

Don Nixon, wife and family, have been spending a short vacation as guests of George Nixon of Main street.

Miss Aird of Beaufort was visiting Miss Marion Craig recently.

Friends of the late James Peters of Florenceville were sorry to hear of his death and many attended the burial service.

Mrs. Barter and daughter have been staying for a few days with Mrs. Bert Dyer. Sam Barter has been writing insurance here.

Gage Montgomery and wife were away to Hartland for Easter and have returned to their home here, and Mr. Montgomery has had to hustle to catch up with the business which piled up during absence.

Several of our local tradesmen are planning to move out their old stock through special sales to make room for latest spring goods.

John Fulton has the credit of selling the first car here this season. A few residents have expressed a desire to own a speed wagon and he it known that they have the money which talks in a loud voice.

We have very few pessimists here, even though the winds are decidedly chilly, and the sun does not give out the warmth, that we may expect. Some gaspateurs have been caught and our fishermen are busily engaged in overhauling rods, lines and nets ready for use.

This community was shocked early on Sunday morning to hear of the sudden collapse of G. W. Parker, through a paralytic stroke which occurred some time during the night at his residence. Harry Giberson had occasion to call on him early Sunday morning and found him on the floor of his bedroom, barely conscious and

RESUME POTATO

PROBE AT BATH

Harry Hereford Again Returns to Carleton County and Resumes Investigation of C. E. Gallagher Co.—Several Days More Required to Finish Work—Report in Near Future.

Harry Hereford, investigator under the Combines Investigation Act of 1923, together with Mr. Jackson, Mr. Doig, and Mr. Hughes, are in Bath, again looking into the affairs of the C. E. Gallagher Co. It is understood according to the Fredericton Gleaner, that Mr. Fred L. Estabrooks, M. L. A. for Westmorland, was asked to give evidence in connection with statements that he made in the Legislature in Fredericton. The evidence of Mr. W. W. Boyce was also taken. The charges that Mr. Estabrooks made during the debates in the Local Legislature were that the New Brunswick Potato shippers operate a combine which was associated with the "Potato Trust" in Cuba and that these interests controlled shipping facilities as well. Just what the outcome of the investigation, after the evidence given by Mr. Estabrooks and Mr. Boyce will be hard to forecast but there is one thing certain that the investigators are sparing nobody and there is every reason to believe that their report will be very thorough and will clear up the question of combine, etc. In the course of the next month we should know just what has been ascertained by Mr. Hereford and that will be gratifying not only to the growers but to the shippers as well as for their time has been greatly taken up during the course of the investigation.

RECENT MARRIAGES

McNabb-Shaw

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Shaw, of Florenceville, was on Monday, April 6th, the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding, when their youngest daughter, Lillian Grace, became the bride of William Thomas McNabb, Rev. G. W. Wasson of United Baptist Church, solemnized the marriage in the presence of the family and immediate relatives. The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a blue suit with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of cream roses and maiden hair fern. Miss Evelyn McCain played the wedding march as the bride entered the room. The bridal couple were unattended. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served after which the bride and groom took their departure for Toronto and Hamilton, Ont., where they will visit the groom's relatives and leave there for their future home in Youngstown, Alberta.

MORGAN-BROWN

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Charles E. Sharp, Woodstock on April 15, when Perley A. Morgan and Ola M. Brown, both of Millville were united in marriage by Rev. P. J. Quigg.

took steps at once to let his brother know of his condition. Mr. Parker was then removed to the home of his brother, Newcombe Parker and the doctor was called, who did not hold out much hope of recovery. At the moment of writing he is some better. On Saturday he was working as usual in apparently good health. Herbert Crain is another to be added to the list of farmers who are taking year off to study the situation. His farm is rented by B. Crain.

PRINTER'S INK

The most important magazine in its field the world over devotes a page to Moire Bridge Box, praising its "attractive and colorful cover" and the idea of enclosing playing cards and score sheets with a pound of chocolates

Presidents of large American corporations, managers and other officials, have written to Moire ordering the Bridge Box as a gift for bridge friends and a prize at games.

So occasionally a Maritime industry can pioneer not merely for Canada, but the continent. Of course Moire Chocolates themselves proved that long ago.
