We Believe

That a straight, honest business always turns out best in the end. A little money its semetimes made on catchy schemes and doubtful enterprises, but a permanent business can be built up and maintained only by square dealing. The process of getting rich is sometimes a little slow, but the result is usually gratifying. We have aimed for twelve years to give the best value, and we can point with pride to the class of customers we satisfy

Madeline Merli's "Frou Frou" isas clever a piece of acting as has ever been portrayed on the American stage, and although new to American audiences she has won her way into the hearts of theater-goes wherever she has appeared. At the close of the third act when she denounces her sister, accuses her of loving her husband, leaves her to take her place and flees from her home, she is generally encored to the echo and brought before the curtain. Miss Merli is a pupil of the late Dion Boucicault. Last season she was with the great tragedian Salvini for five months. She will stay in the United Slates until May when she leaves for England to play at the Surrey Theater, London.

Passed Away.

The death took place on Sunday of Mrs.

Mackay, wife of Mr. W. Mackay, Adelaide street. Deceased has been in poor health for some time, but of late had been greatly improved. She arose on Sunday, and was attending to her house hold duties when she took a sudden turn for the worse and expired before mediated and could be of any avail.

Mrs. Mackay had been taking a prescription prepared by a city physician, one of the ingredients of which was chloral, but had not taken an overdose of the drug, as was stated by an evening contemporary, heart failure being the cause of death.

Deceased was born in Embro, Oxford and the worse are sensed to London the worse are sensed to London about fire years ago. She leaves two sons about fire years ago. House.

—Bro. A. C. Attwood, of Vanneck, who has returned from the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., says he has received a commission as deputy grand regent, Royal Arcanum, with power to institute councils of that order. Ilderton is the first point that he proposes to canvass, with he thinks good prospects of success.

—Adelphian Encampment, I. O. O. F., paid a fraternal visit to Chorazin Lodge, East London, last evening when a pleasant time was spent. Speeches by Bros. Dr. Cl. T. Campbell (grand sire), Beltz, Symonds, Bissell and other visitors, and a grand welcome by the East End brethren helped to pass a happy evening.

—A deputation of prominent citizens of East London whited on Mr. Thos. R. Parker, of the C. P. R., this morning with a view of obtaining better railway accommodation in the East End. They desire that trains should stop at the Adelaide street crossing and that a suitable station or place of waiting should be erected there. Mr. Parker promised to do what he could for them.

—A horse with a pair of shafts came kincardine, whence since along the leaves two sons about five years ago. She leaves two sons and one daughter to mourn their sad loss—John, of Chicago, William A. and Mrs. C. Doyle, of Toronto. The funeral will take place on Wednesday to Kincardine, Still Another Sudden Death.
