HAMILTON, June 13 .- The two Webbers, father and son, promoters of the bankrupt Mutual marriage aid association, were brought before the magistrate this morning on a charge of fraudulently obtaining from John Hulett of Napanee $950.00 on June7. Mr. Gibson, for the prisoners, said that he believed the people. who laid the information were laboring under a misapprehension of the facts, and asked that an examination of the books be made at once. Mr. Gibson and Mr. Crerar finally arranged to examine the books of the institution, and asked for an adjournment. The case was taken up again at 12 o'clock, but as the lawyers had not concluded the but as the lawyers had not concluded the examination it was again adjourned until 4 o'clock. Mr. Gibson applied to have the prisoners released on bail, but the magistrate said he had to have some evidence before he could allow them out on bail. A. H. Duff testified that he was president of the association, John M. Webber was vice-president, Walter B. Webber: secretary treasurer. R. Lawson auditor, and Joseph B. Webber assistant secretary-treasurer, R. Lawson auditor, and Joseph B. Webber assistant secretary. These were all salaried officers, and all except Mr. Lawson held their offices for over a year. The board of trustees had power to make the convenient of the contraction.

THE SYNOD OF TORONTO.

terday morning the constitution was so amended that only males can vote for members of the synod. A deputation consisting of Hon. Chancellor Blake, Ven. Archdeacon Body, Dr. Hodgins, registrar, to a committee.

A pleasing feature of the afternoon was a fraternal visit from the general assembly to the synod in the shape of a committee, composed of Principal Grant of Queen's college, Prof. Gregg of Knox cellege, Rev. J. K. Smith, Galt; Rev. Kenneth McLennan, Rev. Mr. Parsons of Knox church, J. T. Blaikie, Mr. Charlton, M.P., James McLennan, Q.C., and Hon. Mr. Morris, M.P.P., East Toronto.

Chancellor Blake were conducted to the platform, the synod standing up and cheering them lustily. His lordship the bishop received them most cordially, and after the enthusiasm had somewhat subsided Principal Grant presented a resolulation of fraternal greeting and christian love from the assembly.

He supplemented it by a most feeling, impressive and powerful speech, in which he spoke of the reverence and love they bore to the historic church of England, whose history was that of not only England, but of the civilized world, and hoped that this would be a step to more hoped that this would be a step to more James McLennan, Q C., read a resolu tion of the assembly offering to co-operate with the church of England in regard to with the church of England in regard of religious instruction in our public schools. His lordship replied in a courteous and eloquent speech, in which he expressed his esteem and admiration for the presbyterian church, and welcomed its representatives most cordially to the synod. The deputation then withdrew.

After passing vctes of thanks to the ladies of Toronto, the press, etc., the synod

On a subsequent occasion the girl's hair fell in a fluffy mass down her back until it spread on the horse's back, save when speed or wind lifted it. It was obvious at a glance that the enormous abundance was false. The horse presented a more difficult problem. His tail nearly touched the ground. Was this another horse, or had his tail before been braided tight? Neither. The long tail was false.
