It is to be hoped that the Let islature will not suffer our beautiful sivers and streams to be deprived of their mitural righer, which under proper legal restraint must materially increase the value of the land through which they flow. Very little effort now, without injury to any interest, would preserve them to us, while neglect will have them for ever. Lumbeing in time will cease, and now mile and raill slams will diseppent; but when the afreams are demoded of these, is will be a post compensation to the owners of property on their furthers, that the fish by which they were formerly inhabited, are gone also. This too, would happen, in many instances, when the hanks upon which are now boards the hareh but not manually sension of a case of saws, shall be chosen. unmusical grating of a gang of caws, shall be changed into thiry scenes of park and meadow, and goodly mansions, the seats of gootlemen of the country, or populous villages, the sites of rural communities. Then will it be lamented, that these fisheries, which proposity regulated would have furnished employment to thousands of the poorer population, are no more, a sacrifice to the Vandalism of a former generation, open to the reflection that it spared nothing that idterfered with its pursuit of wealth; and that it possessed neither patriotiem, knowledge nor miesco sufficient to give the people an enlightened view of what was done to posterity. We might enlarge upon the subject, but enough has been said to show the duty of the Legislature, and what may be expected from the people themselves, in their obedience to and mentance in carrying out the Laws relating to the River fisheries.

Holloway's Pills, invaluable to persons affilicied with diseases of the Liver and Stomach.—The virtue of these Pills, having been tested in all parts of the civilised world, particularly by the Canadians, renders it needless to expaliate upon their mostie; the thousands who have derived benefit from them in Canada being sufficient to convince the most incredulous. All those who are afficied with Liver and Bowel complaints; indigestion, sick headaches, and distincts, cannot make use of a remedy so certain in its results as Holloway's Pills: for determination of Blood to the head their effect is equally positive. They are also an unfalling remedy for asthma, if used in conjunction with Holloway's Olitment, which must be well subbed into the chest night and morning.
